SEDALIA, MISSOURI, FRIDAY EVENING, JULY 19, 1907

VOL. 1. NO. 195. PRICE FIVE CENTS

MORE THAN 1100 PEOPLE

HEARD HON. W. J. BRYAN AT SEDALIA CHAUTAUQUA YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

THERE SHOULD HAVE BEEN 5000

Would Have Been, Too, Had His Talk Been on Politics, With No Admission Fee — Congressman Landis Speaks Tonight.

Something over 1,100 people heard the address of Hon. W. J. Bryan, "The Old World's Ways," at the formal opening of the two weeks' session of the Sedalia Chautauqua yesterday afternoon, and the universal verdict was that the distinguished visitor never appeared to better advantage before a Sedalia audience. Politics was eliminated by Mr. Bryan, his utterances being descriptive of his tour around the world, and from beginning to close he held the rapt attention of his auditors.

The attendance was not what it should have been by any means. Mr. Bryan has in the past addressed audiences ranging from 5,000 to 15,000 people in Sedalia, but he at those times spoke upon political topics and no admission fee was charged. Yesterday, however, the admission was 35 cents, with 15 cents extra for reserved seats, and our country cousins who heretofore have never failed to turn out to welcome Mr. Bryan were conspicuous by their absence.

Prof. Farr's Good Work.

Prof. F. K. Farr, D. D., of the Lebanon theological seminary, Tennessee, arrived this morning to deliver the Bible study lectures throughout the Sedalia Chautauqua. Prof. Farr has just completed a similar course of lectures at the Springfield Chautauqua, and speaks enthusiastically of the "talent" who are to appear here from time to time. Mr. Bartell, the general manager of the circuit, has made a few changes which will render the Sedalia program even stronger than that at Springfield.

A variation from the printed program for the Chautauqua should be kept in mind by those who expect to attend the morning Bible lectures by Prof. Farr. These lectures, with very brief opening exercises, will come at the hour of 10 every morning during the Chautauqua—not at 9:30 and 10:30, as indicated by the printed program.

On Saturday morning Prof. Farr will speak on "Jesus' Interpretation of the Ten Commandments," a subject of special interest to Sunday school teachers, in view of the Sunday school lesson for the following day.

Today Is "Landis Day."

Today is Landis day at the Chautauqua. At the morning session the attendance was not large, those present being almost wholly holders of season tickets. At 9:30 the usual devotional exercises were held, and at 10:30 Prof. F. K. Farr gave a Bible study lecture, "Ways to Study the Bible." At 2 o'clock this afternoon there was a concert by the Chautauqua orchestra, this being followed at 2:30 by a lecture-recital by Wallace Bruce Armsbary.

At 7:30 tonight there will be a sec-

SWEPT BY A TORNADO

ST. JOSEPH AGAIN SUFFERS FROM MAD FURY OF STORM.

MANY HOMES TOTALLY WRECKED

Street Car Tracks Torn Up and Cellars Flooded—Kansas City, Too, Has Another Taste of High Waters.

St. Joseph, Mo., July 19.—A tornado and tremendous rain did heavy damage in St. Joseph and vicinity last night. Houses were wrecked, street railway tracks torn out and many cellars flooded.

The family of Daniel Riordan, one mile east of the city, had a miraculous escape from death, all being buried in the debris of their house, which was entirely demolished.

Scores of houses in the city were washed from their foundations.

In the outlying portion sewers backed up and the streets were flooded.

At Brookdale, a suburb, scores of families were driven from their homes by the water, which reached to the first floor.

In Kansas City Cellars.

Kansas City, July 19.—Further heavy rains north of here last night caused the Missouri river at Kansas City to rise a little higher, and as a result the cellars of two dozen wholesale houses in the west bottoms were partially flooded this morning. The stocks, however, had been previously removed. If no further rains occur the river is still low enough to take care of the excess volume of water without any serious damage.

SUMMING UP BEGINS

The State This Afternoon Will Start Arguments Before Haywood Jury.

Boise, Idaho, July 19.—The defense at the opening of the Haywood trial this morning renewed its motion for an instructed verdict of not guilty. The motion was overruled by Judge Wood.

It was announced by the judge that he would give his decision this afternoon on the question argued yesterday.

Court then adjourned until this afternoon, when James H. Hawley will open the arguments for the state. Hawley is not expected to conclude until tomorrow afternoon.

The opening summing up for the defense will be made by Attorney Richardson Monday morning.

WOMAN SCALDED TO DEATH

Message Telephoned to Mr. W. S. Dent This Afternoon.

W. S. Dent, assistant ticket agent for the Missouri Pacific, was called up by 'phone this afternoon by some unknown woman, who asked him to apprise Mr. Dobbins, an M., K. & T. crossing watchman, that his wife had been scalded to death.

The 'phone then shut off, and Mr. Dent was not able to locate the party with whom he had talked to ascertain at what point the accident occurred.

FOR A CONVENTION HALL

ONLY NECESSARY TO RAISE $865 TO COMPLETE EQUIPMENT OF PAVILION.

BE SEDALIA'S CROWNING GLORY

Will Be Finest Public Assembly Hall in State With One Exception—Funds Should Be Subscribed Without Delay.

A convention hall for $865.

That is all that it is necessary to raise to put the Live Stock pavilion at the State fair grounds in perfect condition and make it the best Convention hall in the state, outside of Kansas City.

Will the citizens of Sedalia fail to take advantage of the only opportunity ever presented to realize one of its most cherished ambitions?

The Democrat-Sentinel doesn't think so and today is starting a public subscription to complete the fund.

It believes that it will be only a few days before every cent needed will be raised and the city placed in a position where it can offer to every state gathering the best and most convenient assembly place in Missouri, and as a consequence bring here a majority of the state's public meetings.

The state fair board has granted the use of the pavilion and all that is needed is the electrical wiring of the building and a portable floor. The total cost for this work will be $3,000. Of this $1,900 is already on hand, leaving a balance of $1,100 to be raised. Of this $1,100 the Democrat-Sentinel publishes this evening subscriptions to the amount of $865, leaving $865 yet to be given.

This money ought to be subscribed within a week and the work started at once.

Let every citizen of the city come forward and help along this proposition. Subscriptions need not necessarily be for large amounts, but everyone should give something and get on the roll of honor.

The subscription paper will be found at the Democrat-Sentinel office and just as fast as subscriptions are received they will be recorded and published each day until the full amount is raised.

Let's have the Convention hall.

Subscriptions to Date.

WILL WED WEDNESDAY

A Linen Shower Last Night for the Bride That-Is-to-Be.

L. Love, formerly employed as machinist at the Missouri Pacific shops here, now engaged in farming near Lamonte, and Miss Myrtle Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hall, of 315 North Quincy avenue, will be united in marriage next Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents.

After the ceremony, which will be attended by only relatives and a few friends of the bride, a wedding supper will be served. The bridal couple will make their home at Lamonte.

In honor of the bride-to-be, Mrs. M. R. Sheets and Mrs. A. A. Hall last night gave a delightful linen shower at Miss Hall's home. About forty guests attended, each presenting the guest of honor with an appropriate piece of linen.

Various amusements furnished entertainment for the guests, and at a late hour refreshments were served, after which all returned home, wishing the guest of honor a long and happy married life.

Sold 100 Pounds of Honey.

Mrs. Joe Sterling was in from her home east of Hughesvile today and disposed of one hundred pounds of honey taken from her own hives, which makes five hundred pounds she has brought to market this season—an extra heavy yield.

Mr. Boulit Heard From.

Police Officer James Card today received from Chief of Police Boullt, who, with his wife and son, is sojourning at Los Angeles, Cal., a beautiful postal card, showing where he had visited recently. The card is neat in design and must be seen to be appreciated, hence Officer Card's willingness to show it to friends.

A Six O'Clock Dining.

About forty-five members of the Ladies' Aid society of the Epworth M. E. church enjoyed a 6 o'clock dinner at the home of Mrs. E. E. Ross last evening.

Fined for Ddunkenness.

J. C. Wiliams, of Sweeney, was fined $5 for drunkenness by Judge Gresham in police court today.

IS FORCED TO ABDICATE

TRANSFERS THE CROWN TO SON

Signed the Decree Under Protest—Populace is Up in Arms Against Those Who Brought About the Result—Trouble Feared.

Soul, July 19.—The emperor, in an imperial rescript of abdication which he signed under protest after a most dramatic scene, today, expresses his regret that during the forty-four years of his reign national calamities have followed each other in such rapid succession, and the people's distress has become so aggravated that he has deemed it now time to transfer the crown to the heir apparent.

Enraged crowds are assembled at various points throughout the city and inflamatory documents against the Japanese are being freely distributed, giving rise to a forlorn hope that some active opposition to the Japanese control is about to begin. Serious collisions, it is believed, will take place tonight between the police and rioters and extraordinary precautions are being taken by the authorities.

TO DIE FOR POISONING SIX

Chicago Fortune Teller Wiped Out a Whole Family.

Chicago, July 19.—Hermann Billik, who has been on trial charged with killing by poison Adolph Vrzal and five of his children, was found guilty last night, and the jury fixed his sentence at death.

Vrzal and his children all died within a few months of each other under suspicious circumstances. Billik had been a friend of the family for years and in his capacity of fortune teller had administered medicine to the children.

An investigation showed that Vrzal and his children all suffered from the same complaint before death. The day after Billik's arrest Mrs. Vrzal committed suicide.

During the trial testimony was submitted by the state charging Billik with having disposed of Vrzal and his children in order to collect insurance they carried.

STANDS BY FATHER

Daughter of Fred Magill Says Prosecution is Spite Work.

San Francisco, July 19.—Margaret Magill, daughter of Fred Magill, in an explicit statement made today says that the prosecutions of her father and stepmother, on the charge of murdering her mother, is all spite work on the part of an aunt, who always hated the first Mrs. Magill. Miss Magill positively identified the letters purporting to have been written by her mother as being in the handwriting of the deceased.

The case of Frank Bledsoe, charged with having carnal knowledge of Mary Williams, a negress, had his case continued until a week from today at his own request by Judge Rickman this morning.

DEATH OF MRS. JOHNS

PASSED AWAY AT HER HOME ON WEST SEVENTH STREET LAST NIGHT.

SHE HAD LIVED HERE 27 YEARS

Funeral Services Will Be Conducted at the Broadway Presbyterian Church at 4 O'clock Saturday Afternoon.

Mrs. Margaret A. Johns, wife of Samuel P. Johns, Sr., one of Sedalia's best known, most popular and influential citizens and business men, died of cancer of the left breast at her home, 706 West Seventh street, at 11:30 o'clock last night, aged 71 years.

Mrs. Johns was the daughter of William and Hannah White, of Perry county, Pa. She was born at that place on September 30, 1836. Her father sold his property in 1854, and with his family removed to Waveland, Ind., in Polk county.

There, while in her seventeenth year, Mrs. Johns became affiliated with the Seceder or Associate Reform Presbyterian church. On Feburary 1, 1859, she was united in marriage to Mr. Johns at Waveland, then removed to Terre Haute, Ind., where she joined a denomination known as the Old School Presbyterian church.

She and her husband remained at Terre Haute one year, then removed to Litchfield, Ill., in 1860. Five years later she and her family removed to Pana, Ill., where they remained until 1880, when they came to Sedalia, where they have resided since.

Four years ago symptoms of cancer developed. All efforts to eradicate the disease proved fruitless, and for the past two years she has been an invalid. For seven months Mrs. Johns had been bedfast, and for some time the family has been daily and hourly expecting the end.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Johns leaves the following children: William M., Sedalia; Samuel P., Jr., Seattle, Wash.; Robert M., Sedalia; Mrs. Margaret A. Emmert, Kensett, Ark. The oldest daughter, Laura A., died in 1881.

Funeral services will be conducted at the Broadway Presbyterian church at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, Rev. Dudley M. Clagget, the pastor, who is attending the encampment at Pertle Springs, having wired this noon that he would be here to officiate.

T. T. Gray, John Montgomery, John A. Ready, John A. Collins, W. S. Sneed and B. M. Lodge will serve as pall bearers. Interment will be in the city cemetery, and the music will be under the direction of Mrs. W. D. Steele and Miss Jessie Smith.

All of the children, with the exception of S. P., Jr., at Seattle, were with their mother at the time of her death, and she passed peacefully away. C. E. Emmert, a son-in-law, will arrive from Kensett tomorrow.

Mrs. Johns was truly a christian lady, the kind that Sedalia deeply regrets to lose. A kind, loving wife and mother, she will ever be remembered by her family and friends as one to emulate, and in her death the bereaved husband and children have the sympathy of the entire community.

MRS. HECKENBERG DEAD

Former Resident of Sedalia Passed Away in St. Louis.

A telegram was received here today announcing the death in St. Louis last night of Mrs. R. Heckenberg, a former resident of Sedalia, and the Rev. A. A. Boyd, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, will leave tonight for St. Louis to conduct the funeral service.

Mrs. Heckenberg was about 65 years of age, and was a sister-in-law of Mrs. Fannie Meyer, with whom she resided on East Broadway in this city until they removed to St. Louis a few months ago.

Mrs. Heckenberg was a most estimable Christian lady, and a host of friends in Sedalia will read of her demise with sorrow.

A Social in East Sedalia.

The ladies of the East Sedalia Baptist church gave a lawn social to a fair-sized crowd at the home of the pastor, Rev. R. C. Miller, last night, and all present had a pleasant time.

A Number of Sheep Killed.

'Squire J. F. Howe had the misfortune to lose about forty head of sheep recently by raids from wolves, says the Ionia Independent. It is said that wolves are quite plentiful this year. It would seem that an organized campaign of extermination would be the proper thing.

Ladies Cleared About $25.

The ladies' auxiliary to the B. of R. T., gave an ice cream and cake social at the home of Ben Phelan, 617 East Tenth street, last night, at which they cleared about $25.

Mr. Murray Seriously Ill.

S. E. Murray is seriously ill with inflamatory rheumatism at his home on West Seventh street.

RUN THROUGH SEDALIA

STATE HIGHWAY MAY IN EVENT THE SOUTHERN ROUTE IS CHOSEN.

THE ENGINEER IS NOW AT WORK

At Present He Is Laboring North of the Missouri River, but Will Come South Some Time the Coming Week.

Columbia, Mo., July 19.—State Highway Engineer Curtis Hill, who has established headquarters in Columbia, left here yesterday to investigate the conditions along the remainder of a central route for the proposed highway from St. Louis to Kansas City.

The route as investigated thus far runs from St. Louis through St. Charles, Warrenton, Danville and Fulton to Columbia.

The remainder of the route, it is believed, will cross the Missouri river in Howard county and pass through Saline, Lafayette and Jackson counties to Kansas City.

Mr. Hill expects to reach Kansas City Sunday or Monday, when he will begin an investigation of the proposed southern route for the highway.

This route lies entirely south of the Missouri river and will probably run through Warrensburg, Sedalia, California, Jefferson City, Linn and Union to St. Louis.

From an investigation of the southern route Mr. Hill will turn his attention to the proposed northern route, through St. Charles, Bowling Green, Mexico, Fayette, Marshall, Higginsville and Independence.

RECEPTION FOR STUDENTS

Was Given at the Home of Professor and Mrs. O. D. Noble.

O. D. Noble, secretary of Hill's Business college, and wife, were "at home" at a delightful reception given at their home on West Sixth street last night, in honor of the students of the college. Over one hundred guests were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Noble were assisted in entertaining by members of the faculty, namely: Miss Ella McVey, Miss McCormick and Professors H. C. Holt and Perry L. Singer.

Cut flowers were used profusely in decorating the home, and two guessing contests furnished the amusement. Punch was served on the porch during the evening, and later refreshments of pineapple ice and Nabisco wafers were served.

The affair was a truly delightful one in every respect and all present thoroughly enjoyed it.

A NEGRO DROPPED DEAD

Clay Fields, Who Was Employed at Rector's Livery Stable.

Clay Fields, a negro, about 34 years old, dropped dead of heart failure on the driveway in front of Rector's livery stable, on West Fourth street, at 1:35 o'clock this afternoon. He had been employed by Mr. Rector.

The body was removed to McLaughlin's undertaking establishment. An inquest will be held by Coroner Titsworth tomorrow. Deceased leaves a wife.

FOUND THE SAFE EMPTY

NOT ONLY THIS, BUT THE TWO McDONALD BROTHERS WERE GONE.

THE CASE IS QUITE SENSATIONAL

R. H. McDonald, of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, Got $50,000 Worth of Diamonds On Credit and Vanished.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 19.—When the small inner safe in the office of the R. H. McDonald company, 603 Pabst building, was opened yesterday it was found to contain nothing.

This discovery confirmed the suspicions of I. H. Kuh and M. A. Cohen, representing two wholesale jewelry houses of Chicago, that they would find great difficulty in recovering something like $50,000 worth of goods which the McDonald company had bought on credit.

An empty safe and show cases, with nothing but beer bottles standing around the room, is all that is left in room 603, Pabst building, which was occupied by R. H. McDonald and his brother as a jewelry establishment up to Monday afternoon. The detectives say the McDonalds went to Pittsburg and are looking for them there.

The company started operations several weeks ago by depositing $6,000 in the Wisconsin National bank, upon the strength of which they secured large amounts of jewelry from various firms on 10 days' credit. They opened headquarters in the Pabst building and sent men soliciting orders.

"McDonald knew that we were up here," said Mr. Cohen, "and must have left town Sunday, we went to their office we found his brother there and he put us off, saying his brother would give us a check at 4 o'clock.

"When we returned at that time he stalled us off again. Then we found that R. H. McDonald and his wife shipped two trunks from their boarding house to Pittsburg and left presumably for the same place. The brother disappeared and was not to be found, while a third man left on Monday."

A New York firm was about to ship from $20,000 to $40,000 in jewelry when the McDonalds disappeared.

JANUARY FREE AT LAST

Missouri's Modern Jean Valjean Returned Home his Morning.

Leavenworth, Kas., July 19.—Wm. January, alias Chas. W. Anderson, who was pardoned by the president upon the petition of 50,000 persons, together with the Missouri legislature, was released from the federal prison here this morning and immediately started for Kansas City, his home.

Reaches His Home City.

Kansas City, July 19.—Anderson reached Kansas City this morning a few hours after his release and went directly home, where a family reunion was held.

Later in the day, with his 4-year-old child upon his knee and his faithful wife by his side, Anderson said:

"I have no plans for the future, save that I will remain in Kansas City."

Anderson said that the report that he would engage in the pool hall business was without foundation. "I would not," he said, "be so ungrateful to the many who signed the petition for my pardon."

Will Erect 7-Room House.

Mr. C. I. Wilson, who, with his wife, have been boarding at the New Antlers hotel, has contracted with Mr. Daniel A. Lopp to erect a modern seven-room cottage of cement blocks, on Park avenue and Seventh street, to be completed by September 15, 1907.

Used 20 Gallons of Ice Cream.

An unusually large crowd attended the ice cream and cake social at the parochial residence of Rev. Fr. McNamee, on East Fourth street, last night. Twenty gallons of ice cream were used, but the exact amount realized from the social cannot be told at present.

FOR THE CONVENTION HALL.

Those present at the Chautauqua esterday afternoon naturally felt he heat very much. The day was one f the hottest we have had this year, nd following as it did heavy and requent rains, the humidity, espesally under a tent, was something terfic.

Blac[illegible]idence was amply comensated for the discomfort by the loquence and wisdom of Mr. Bryan doesn't alter the fact that more than ever before is brought before the people of Sedalia the great and ever increasing necessity for an assembly hall for gatherings such as this, and others of a public or semi-public nature.

A convention hall is something that this city has long been anxious to secure, but although the project has been undertaken time and again, something has always arisen to prevent the consummation of the enterprise.

When the live stock pavilion was built at the State Fair grounds the greatest step toward the accomplishment of this purpose was taken, for the building is commodious, well lighted and cool. Its accoustic properties are excellent, and from every standpoint it meets the most rigid requirements demanded for an ideal convention hall.

The press of the city early called attention to these facts and urged that efforts be made to secure permission from the Fair board for its use, with the provision that the people here fit up the interior with portable floor and wiring for electric lights.

The necessary permission was secured from the Fair board, and just before the recent Knights Templar conclave a movement was inaugurated to bring the matter to a head.

It was ascertained that $3,000 would be required to put the pavilion in proper shape, and the trustees of the old convention hall fund, amounting to $1,900, were authorized to apply it to the purpose, and an attempt was made to raise the balance, $1,100, but efforts have lagged and we again find what we have missed by procrastination.

Let us wait no longer. Let us have a convention hall so that we can safely and honorably invite large gatherings to the city, with the absolute assurance that they will have perfect accommodations.

It takes just $1,100 to accomplish an object that for years has been one of Sedalia's chief ambitions, an object that will make it he best convention city of Missouri, and will be a lasting credit to the energy and patriotism of our citizenship.

The Democrat-Sentinel has determined to raise this money, and in another column will be found a list of donations already given. Let every one give something as evidence of their civic pride. No matter how small the contribution, it will be gladly accepted and proper credit given. Quick responses will close a matter that has been hanging fire for years, and close it in a way that will be a credit as well as a profit to Sedalia.

BURBANK, THE WIZARD.

Luther Burbank has attracted a vast amount of attention because he has attempted and to a considerable extent succeeded in doing something quite novel, at least in this country, says the Technical World Magazine.

He is breeding up plant, fruit and vegetable life. He is the god-father of the sugar prune, a giant in comparison to its ancestors, the French prune, of which California produced 150,000,000 pounds of the dried produce in a year. The sugar prune ripens earlier and is of immense commercial value. Burbank is also the maker of the seedless plum which he accomplished by crossing two varieties of the Prunes triflora. The white blackberry is another of the wizard of horticulture's triumphs. Sixty-five thousand bushes were used in tests before he developed this phenomena. He has given to the arid deserts a new species of grass which will grow on the plains without water. He converted the cactus into an edible plant. The wild potato of South America also received his attention. From a single eye of this potato he developed 120 hybridizations and grew a large tuber of good quality. Mr. Burbank has made endless experiments with the potato. He keeps. in his farm at Santa Rosa, no less than 10,000 varieties for experimental purposes. He has grown potatoes of every shape and color, round, long, short, square, pure white, pink, crimson. purple and yellow. Burbank potato seedlings have been shipped all over the world. The late Cecil Rhodes planted 10,000 of his seedless plum trees in Africa, until now they have multiplied into the millions.

MUNICIPAL LIGHTING.

The thriving New Jersey city of Rutherford has concluded not to embark in the municipal lighting business. This decision was reached at a public meeting called by the mayor to act upon the report of a committee of citizens which had been for a year making a thorough investigation of the subject. The report was unfavorable to the establishment of either a gas or an electric plant, and stated that a study of the subject showed that "there have been more failures than successes." There was no hostility to municipal ownership as a theory, but a grave doubt as to its practicability. It is also evident that the voters of Bryan, Ohio, do not regard municipal ownership as so much of a success that they want more of it, for they have defeated an ordinance providing for a bond issue of $40,000 for the improvement of the lighting and water plants. This illustrates one of the evil results of the system for the money was needed to equip the plants with new and more economical machinery.

TIME TO BE CAREFUL.

Prosperity based on tariff protection is precarious; it makes princes and paupers—commercial princes of the trust magnates and paupers of those with incomes that do not respond to trust high prices. Experience shows us that such republican prosperity has always broken down of its own weight and financial disaster has followed very high prices. There are indications that the present boom is on the verge of collapse and it beehoves wise men to be careful.

On the farmer depends our future prosperity, and if the republican policy of protecting the trusts could be abolished, so that the farmers and consumers would not be compelled to pay protection prices for what they buy, a year of light weight crops could be passed over without disaster. But as it is we must have big crops and high prices to be able to pay the trusts and corporations enough toll to keep them from bankruptcy that would affect everyone. Keep your eye on the crops.

Back to My First Love

I have come back to Sedalia, the best town on earth, to remain the balance o my life, and have engaged in the laundry business, having bought the Sedalia Steam Laundry. I will give the business my entire time and attention, and keep up the standard of the work, and if possible, improve upon it. I will be pleased to see all the presen patrons and all of my friends at my place of business, 216-18 Lamine St.

MONEY TO LOAN
JOE DONNOHUE
ATTORNEY AT LAW
[illegible] 309 OHIO ST.

THE BODY WAS EXHUMED

THAT OF MRS. MAGILL, WHO WAS THOUGHT TO HAVE MET WITH FOUL PLAY.

THREATENS A SUIT FOR DAMAGES

Druggist Tells of Dead Woman's Purchase of Drugs to Kill Rats—Interest in the Case Is Increasing.

Bloomington, Ill., July 19.—State's Attorney Arthur Miller arrived in Clinton last evening. He decided that there was no necessity for his continuing the journey to San Diego, when word was received that the Magills would not contest their return. He went only as far as Pueblo, Colo., and immediately retraced his journey. eH will now go actively to work preparing the case for the prosecution.

The people of Clinton did not betray much interest in the discovery made that Lillian Ryan, also known as Mrs. John Parrott, was found unconscious in the cemetery. She is not believed to have any kind of a connection with the Magill case.

The belief is growing in Clinton that the state's attorney will find it a difficult matter to convict Magill and his second wife. It is generally thought that some conclusive evidence should have been secured before ordering his arrest. It is asserted that no evidence has been secured, except in the letters, which are said to be forgeries.

The family and friends of the second wife denounce the arrest and they threaten suits for damages in the event no case is made. It is asserted that the friends of the second wife are in consultation with legal advice concerning redress. The friends of the Grahams claim that a more thorough investigation of the case should have been made before the arrest was ordered, and condemn a few hot heads, who were prejudiced against the Magills.

It is also generally believed at Clinton that when the proper time comes Mrs. Eleanor Magill, an aunt of the defendant, will offer financial aid for the defense.

C. G. Oakman, a member of the undertaking firm that prepared the body of Mrs. Pet Magill for burial, stated that there were no marks of violence on the body when it was first buried, nor Wednesday night when it was exhumed. The statement had been made that the body had bruises on it when found on the morning of May 31, when the discovery was made that the wife was dead.

Some additional particulars concerning the discovery of the body have come to light. When Dr. Meyers reached the room the fumes of chloroform were overpowering, and lingered for some time after the discovery was made, probably an hour longer.

Near the body was found an eight-ounce bottle labeled "Chloroform." It was learned that she had purchased the chloroform in smaller quantities, one or two ounces at a time, most of it, according to report, coming from the drug store of George Mitchell.

Mr. Mitchell stated that one month before her death Mrs. Magill entered the store and asked for some chloroform, stating that she wished to use it for cleaning a silk waist. Again, about two weeks before her death, she purchased both chloroform and strychnine, the first she said to be used in destroying some kittens and the second for the destruction of some rats. There was no perceptible agitation when the poison was bought. and the woman gave no indication that she was purchasing the poison for other purposes.

Chemical Analysis Starts.

Chicago, July 19.—Doctor William A. Evans, Adolph Gerhmann and John C. Wesener arrived in Chicago at 7:30 o'clock yesterday morning, after their expedition to Clinton to exhume the body of the late Mrs. Fred Magill.

The doctors stated that the analysis probably would be made in ten days and the information placed in the hands of the Clinton authorities.

Nearly all old-fashioned cough syrups are constipating, especially those that contain opiates. They don't act just right. Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup contains no opiates. It drives the cold out of the system by gently moving the bowels. Contains honey and tar, and tastes nearly as good as maple syrup. Children like it. Sold by Arlington pharmacy.

WOMAN TICKET AGENT

Was Plucky and Balked the Robber, Who Fled.

Shelbyville, Ind., July 19.—"Now, I have you this time, old woman," were the words which greeted Mrs. Isaac Bishop, the plucky ticket agent of the Indianapolis and Cincinnati Traction company office at Morristown at 5 o'clock last evening.

The stranger, who was routed one week ago by Mrs. Bishop, after an unsuccessful attempt to rob her, pointed a revolver at the woman's head. She grasped her own revolver and fired.

The shot struck the robber's right hand and his revolver was knocked to the floor. He grabbed it with his left hand and fired point blank at the woman's head. The top of her bonnet was torn off.

The burglar then fled, with Mrs. Bishop in pursuit. She fired three more shots at the fleeing man and then called for help. One week ago Mrs. Bishop whipped the same robber with her fists and he fled in disgrace.

Stimulating the scalp may allay the itching of the dandruff, but that does not cure the scalp. The disease won't yield to quinine or capsicum or alcohol, because it is caused by a germ or parasite. To cure dandruff the germ must be destroyed. Until recently there was no hair preparation, or dandruff cure, or hair restorer on the market that would kill that insiduous germ that dries up the scalp in little scales called dandruff, and absorbs the vitality of the hair, causing falling hair and finally baldness. When the Indian mutiny broke out in 1857, it is related that the order to revolt was carried in the form of an unleavened cake, or chupattie. Swift running camels have always been used in the east to carry dispatches, while beacon fires still remain a vehicle for conveying intelligence.

A WOMAN STOLE MONEY

WAS TAKEN IN CUSTODY THURSDAY

Was Assistant Postmaster at Scammon, Kas.—Confessed Guilt and Was Released on a $500 Bond.

There is something sad in the arrest of Miss Effie Gingrey, assistant postmaster at Scammon. Kansas, which arrest was made by Postoffice Inspector Chance last night at her home, says Thursday's Fort Scott Tribune.

The lady is charged with opening letters and taking money therefrom. She has been under suspicion by the postoffice authorities for some time and a trap was night before last set for her. Decoy letters were sent to the office and she opened two of them. In this manner she was surrounded with evidence and arrested.

Miss Gingrey has been assistant to Postmaster Peter Graham at Scammon for some nine years and not a breath of suspicion was ever raised against her previous to this present trouble.

When confronted by Inspector Chance and Inspector Lindland, of Topeka, the money was found on her and she immediately broke down and confessed the crime. She has a good reputation in Scammon and many were loath to believe that she could have committed the theft.

She was brought to this city this afternoon and arraigned before Commissioner White, of the United States court. She waived an examination and was bound over to await the action of the grand jury. Her bond was fixed at $500, which she gave and was released.

For some time money from letters was missed from the office and after an investigation the lady was suspected.

Inspector Lindland was detailed to assist Mr. Chance and it was but a few days until the crime was fastened upon her.

Four letters, two containing $2 bills and two containing $1 bills, were addressed to Mr. Lindland, Weir City.

These decoy letters were placed in the mail pouch on the train by Mr. Chance and yesterday Mr. Lindland called at the office. Three of the letters had been opened, but only two were rifled of the money. The bills were marked.

When confronted with this evidence the marked money was found in her pocketbook. The method employed by the young lady was to unseal the letters, extract the money and reseal them.

Miss Gingrey is 26 years of age. Postmaster Graham has been away from the office for a couple of weeks and Miss Gingrey had full charge.

DISCOVERY OF DRESDEN CHINA

Valuable Secret Entirely the Result of an Accident.

Dresden china was discovered through accident. John Frederick Bottcher was a chemist's assistant in Berlin about 1700. At that time all potters were endeavoring to discover a means of making translucent china but in vain.

Bottcher, having fallen under suspicion of being an alchemist, was obliged to leave Berlin and take refuge in Saxony. Augustus II. was elector of Saxony, and in a hope or finding the secret of the philosopher's stone he placed young Bottcher in a laboratory with orders to carry on his experiments. While working along the lines designated by the elector, Bottcher surprised himself by discovering something akin to Chinese porcelain. He was at once bidden by the king to pursue the quest of making china. He might have continued his endeavors for many years, had not an accident given him the key to the translucent china.

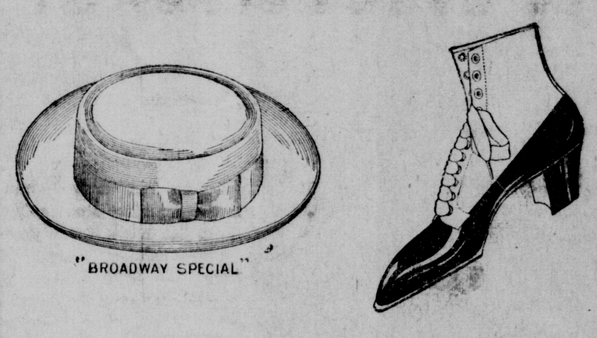

A wealthy iron founder was riding on horseback near Aue, in Saxony, when he noticed that his horse lifted its feet with difficulty. On examination he found that the animal's hoofs were filled with a peeculiar white adhesive clay. More out of curiosity than anything else, he took some of this clay home with him, and succeeded in making it into a fine white powder. Through chance Bottcher obtained some of this powder and found that it was the long-sought kaolin.

The secret of the translucent china was solved, and the king ordered a china factory to be built, of which Bottcher was the head.—Sunday Magazine.

Something Ominous.

"That," said Senator Hale, referring to a political report, "is ominous. It is like the ominous speech of the servant maid. She had been employed only two days. In fact, her master and mistress had been only two days married. And going to the locksmith, she said: 'Will you please come to our house at once, sir? When Mr. Newed started out this morning he slammed the door so hard he broke the lock.'"

A TERRIBLE EXPERIENCE

WAS MAROONED ON A PRECIPICE

Rescued by An Indian and a College Athlete When the Climber Was Almost Ready to Give Up in Despair.

When Robert H. Cawthorn, private in company C, Oklahoma National Guard, left his home in Shawnee to attend the rifle practice at Ft. Sill several days days ago his wife said: "Now don't do anything foolish and get hurt," says the Kansas City Star.

Close to Ft. Sill is Medicine Bluff, a perpendicular precipice more than 200 feet high, on the south side of Medicine Creek. The place for many years has been sacred to the Comanche Indians. The face of this granite bluff cannot be scaled, because of lack of footing. An Apache Indian who wanted to paint the name of his tribe high on the bluff years ago was compelled finally to have himself lowered by a rope from the top. The letters, "A P A C H E," remain at his day as evidence of his daring. A all to the granite bowlders of Medicine Creek would be death.

Late in the afternoon Cawthorne and a number of his companions went to Medicine Creek to bathe in the clear waters at the base of the bluff Cawthorn was seized with the idea of climbing to the top of the bluff and without saying anything to his companions began the ascent, none of them seeing him. He went without clothing or shoes. Slowly and carefully he climbed upward, fastening his toes and fingers in narrow crevices. It was almost as difficult as climbing up the side of a stone building.

As Cawthorn went higher, his danger became greater, and he moved with more caution. He had ascended beyond the word "Apache" and is supposed to have been within 50 feet of the top when he discovered that he could go no further, as the upper face of the bluff was perpendicular, it hung over the creek.

Cawthorn was almost exhausted with his exertion in climbing, and more fatigued with the strain of clinging to the bluff with toes and fingers. Abandoning further ascent he prepared to descend. Glancing over his shoulder he saw that he had forgotten to keep in mind the route followed in climbing. To follow a different route might lead him to places where descent would be impossible. In time he would lose his strength and fall. Dusk was at hand and Cawthorn began shouting to his companions for help.

The swimmers below had long since dressed and returned to camp in the belief that Cawthorn had preceded them. When he found they were gone, he lost his courage. He suddenly remembered that years before a fortune-teller had told him that he would meet death by falling.

Further down the creek were Captain Blake and Lieutenant Downey with members of company H, from Edmond, taking an evening swim. Hearing cries of distress, Blake and Downey ran up the creek and saw Cawthorn clinging to the face of the bluff more than 150 feet above them. Cawthorn said that he was too exhausted to risk descending, and asked that a rope be let down from above. But there was no rope at hand, and Ft. Sill was two or three miles away. Telling Cawthorn to hold fast, Blake and Downey ran to the home of an Apache Indian, Kanute Joe, about a mile and a half away, for help. Luckily, the Indian had a rope 55 yards in length. Mounting his pony, Kanute Joe galloped to Medicine Bluff, approaching from a high country southward.

Fixing a big noose in the rope, the Apache threw it far out, and at the first throw Cawthorn caught the noose with one hand. Slipping the noose over his head and under his free arm, Cawthorn then changed his hold and slipped the noose under his other arm. Kanute Joe, assisted by militiamen, payed out the rope gradually, and Cawthorn descended nearer and nearer to safety. After all the rope had been reeled out, Cawthorn's rescuers looked over the edge of the precipice, expecting to see him on the ground at the bottom. Instead, he was dangling 50 feet in the air.

Darkness was at hand, and Cawthorn was in great distress. His body had been bruised and cut on the sharp edges of the projecting granite and the tension of the rope around his body was almost unendurable. In the predicament "Jack" Alley, of Edmond, an athletic young man just returned from Harvard, offered to climb the bluff and rescue Cawthorn. He told those on top to cast off the rope and he would catch Cawthorn as he came by. The rope was released and Cawthorn's body came sliding over the jagged face of the granite wall. Alley grabbed the rope and drew it taut before Cawthorne tumbled to the bottom.

Cawthorn was so frightened and exhausted that he could scarcely walk. The shock was so great that he was three hours climbing up the steep, narrow pass that cleaves its way through the bluff from its summit to the stream below.

Kanute Joe, with the accustomed taciturnity of an Indian, said nothing until Cawthorn had thanked him and was starting for camp. Then Kanute Joe said dryly: "White man heap big fool; heap bigger than Indian."

LEAPED IN FRONT OF ENGINE

After Writing Farewell Message on a Nearby Rock.

Bedford, Ind., July 19.—Hester Herrell, aged 18 years, committed suicied by leaping in front of a passenger train on the Southern Indiana railroad. The tragedy took place at the Sixteenth street crossing. The body was so mangled and crushed that it was hardly recognizable as a human being.

Herrell had been seen lingering about the crossing, where some stone had been unloaded. On one stone he had written with a lead pencil, "Hester Herrell." Below the name was the significant sentence:

"I've gone home to rest."

Just beneath this was inscribed: "Joe Herrell, of Kurtz, my father."

A message was sent to the latter by the railway officials, informing him of the suicide.

Engineer James Bruff stated that as his train approached the crossing at a lively rate he saw the young man deliberately plunge before the engine.

ILL FROM OVERWORK

NERVOUS PROSTRATION CURED BY DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS.

By Toning up the Blood and Nerves Patient Recovered Weight, Strength and Good Spirits.

When the nervous system is broken down from overwork, or whatever cause, life loses its joys. Not only is the nervous victim a suffer himself but he is usually a trial to the whole family. Nervous breakdown is often gradual, appearing at first to be merely an unusual fretfulness. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills tone up the nerves in the most direct way and not only cure minor troubles but serious disorders as well.

Mr. W. W. Munroe, of 16 Hazel Park, Everett, Mass., says: "About four years ago this September I became all run down from overwork and from confinement to work during warm weather. For two months I grew steadily worse. I lost in weight and strength and had no appetite. My memory failed me quite rapidly and I became in a very low state, both physically and mentally. I took no interest in life, neither in business nor recreation. In my position, as foreman in a large manufacturing chemist's establishment in Boston, a good memory is absolutely essential to success because of the immense amount of detail that must be carried in the head.

"I grew very despairing, could not bear to have people meet me and my friends remarked on my condition. About the middle of December a friend told me one day that he had tried Dr. William Pink Pills and found them reliable. I commenced taking them and at the end of two weeks the change for the better was remarked by friends. I continued using the pills until I was thoroughly recovered. I regard them as a fine remedy and make this statement voluntarily in gratitude for the benefit I received from them."

These pills actually make new blood and have cured such diseases as rheumatism, nervous and general debility, indigestion, nervous headache, neuralgia and even partial paralysis and locomotor ataxia. As a tonic for the blood and nerves they are unequalled.

If you are a sufferer from any disorder of the blood and nerves write for proof of what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have accomplished in cases similar to yours. Every testimonial used by this company is carefully investigated before being published and is authentic.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or direct by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

A Surprise Marriage Last Night.

W. T. Lopp, in the employ of the Standard Oil Co., and Miss Eudora Clopton, daughter of C. E. Clopton, were married last night by the Rev. S. S. Martin, while seated in a buggy in front of the home of the divine. The couple had been "keeping company" for some time, but the news of their marriage came as a surprise nevertheless.

Do you really enjoy what you eat? Does your food taste good? Do you feel hungry and want more? Or do you have a heavy, dull feeling after meals, sour stomach, belching, gas on the stomach, bad breath, indigestion and dyspepsia? If so, you should take a little Kodol after each meal. Kodol will strengthen and nourish your digestive organs and furnish the natural digestive juices for the stomach. It will make you well. It will make your food do you good. Turn your food into good, rich blood. Kodol digests what you eat. Sold by the Arlington Pharmacy.

WOOD BURNER'S RECORD

J. P. FENLEN TELLS OF FAMOUS RUN THAT WAS MADE IN YEAR 1870.

AND HE IS THE ONLY SURVIVOR

Commodore Vanderbilt Was on the Special Train and Said It Was the Fastest He Had Ever Ridden in His Life.

J. R. Fenlen, an aged railroad man residing here, today took exception to a story published in the Syracuse Post-Standard recently that the run made by Engineer William Pittenger from Rochester to Syracuse, 81 miles, in 77 minutes, on the Empire State express May 31 last, would never be duplicated, and that old-timers marveled at the speed. writes the Auburn correspondent of the Rochester Herald. Mr. Fenlen had this to say regarding a famous run made in 1870, of which he is the only survivor:

"I can quote an instance that would surprise you people of today," he said, "and that is the run made by Engineer James Wood in the year 1870 with old engine No. 103. She had a 'five-foot-nine' drive wheel, and wore a smokestack that was nearly six feet across the top. Compared with a locomotive of today, she would look like a strawstack. And she was a wood burner at that. We did not have the roadbed you have nowadays, either, our rails being only 16 feet long, the ends resting in a chair with a short fish plate that rested on the ties.

"In making this run we had two coaches, Commodore Vanderbilt's private car and a baggage car to steady the private car. On board were Commodore Vanderbilt, General Superintendent J. C. Tillinghast, Assistant Superintendent William G. Lapham for the middle division of the Rochester and Syracuse line, and one lady. The crew was composed of Engineer James Wood, a fireman whose name was Pat, and whose surname I have forgotten, Conductor Ollie Kingdon and Brakemen Mike O'Donnell and myself. I am the only one alive of the entire party.

"We made the run from Rochester to Syracuse and Wood made her go so fast that the commodore and his friends had to hold onto their chairs to keep from being thrown out. It scared the commodore, and he pulled the bell cord for a slow down, but Jim did not seem to notice it, so he called me and asked me if I could get over into the engine and tell Jim to slack up around the curves and make time on the straight stretches. I went to the front end of the baggage car, reached over the tender and sprang aboard the engine, and when Jim saw me he said, 'You damn fool, what are you doing here when we are traveling like this?' I told him what the commodore had said, and he replied, 'I guess I will give them ride enough before we get to Syracuse,' and he pulled the throttle open wider.

"We just flew. When I got back the commodore asked me what Jim had said, but I did not have the nerve to tell him, so I told him that everything was O. K. When we got to Syracuse, at the old depot the commodore got out, walked up to the engine and called Jim down.

"'Do you know how fast you have been running?' he asked Jim. 'You have made it in 79 minutes.'

"'Why, that isn't fast,' answers Jim. But the commodore replied:

"Well, it's the fastest I ever rode. It's the fastest I ever will, and it's the fastest you will ever draw a train for me,' and he put his hands into his pockets and gave Jim $50 and shook hands with him. With all your modern improvements I don't think they can beat Jim's run in 1870."

How?

By making better cigars of every grade than any other manufacturer has produced, and telling the truth about them.

By making the strongest definite claims that any cigar manufacturer ever dared to make—and by living up to them.

By marking the boxes of our standard brands with the Triangle A so that every smoker of this country could shut down on the hit-or-miss way of buying cigars on anybody's say-so, and make his selections from brands that he knows are the best his money can pay for—better in every way—quality and grading of leaf, evenness of blend, and perfection of condition.

Pen Economy.

The merchant before filling his inkwell dropped in two or three old pens and poured the writing fluid upon them. "Thus," he said, "I practice pen economy, prolonging three or four times the life of all my pens. You see, the corrosive power of the ink, which is immensely strong, vents itself on the old pens kept in the well and has little or no strength left wherewith to attack the pen I have in use. Try this scheme, young man, and you will find that your pens will practically never wear out."

He Left the House.

While a lady was feeding a hungry tramp the other day she discovered he was pocketing her silver spoons. Opening the door, she exclaimed, "Drop those spoons, you scoundrel, and leave the house!" "But, madam—" "Leave the house, I say!" screamed the infuriated woman. "Leave the house!" "I go, madam," said the tramp, as he reached the front gate, "never to return; but before I go I would like to say that I did not intend to take your house."—Illustrated Bits.

Yes, But Will She?

Wedderly—"Can the girl you are engaged to swim?" Singleton—"I don't know. But why do you ask?" Wedderly—"Because, if she can, you ought to be happy. A girl who can swim can keep her mouth shut."—Stray Stories.

The Old Question.

"Say, if you put all your money into building a house?" "Yes?" "And an earthquake came along and shook the house down?" "Yes?" "Wouldn't that jar you?"

CELEBRATED HIS ELECTION

By Killing a Predecessor Whom He Sought to Arrest.

Cardiff, Ala., July 19.—C. O. Chamblee celebrated his [illegible]luction into the office of town mar[illegible] by killing Amos Burrell, who had [illegible]een marshal for the past two years. Chamblee was elected by the council and immediately sworn in.

About two hours after taking the oath Marshal Chamblee met Burrell on the street. The men begn to talk about the election and soon quarreled. Chamblee accused Burrell of being drunk, which the latter denied.

"You are drunk," insisted Chamblee, "and I am going to arrest you."

Chamblee tried to seize Burrell, but the latter dodged away. Chamblee then drew his pistol and fired, the bullet passing through Burrell's heart. Chamblee claims he was justified in the killing, as he says Burrell was resisting arrest.

THE STRIKE OF TAILORS

Sweatshop Workers Want Shorter Day and Wage Increase.

New York, July 19.—The strike of tailors on the East side has started a fever of organization among workers in the sweatshops, and all classes of these employes are joining the union.

About 10,000 union and non-union workers are on strike for a nine-hour day and a 10 per cent increase in wages.

Most of the employes are foreigners, who speak but little English, and employers also are mostly of foreign birth, but these latter are said to take advantage of the unfortunates to such an extent that men and women are forced to work in sweatshops 14 and 15 hours a day for ridiculously small wages.

His Shortcoming.

"No, sir," said a clerk to his employer, "I don't think there's anything unreasonable in my asking for an increase of salary. You may remember that you promised me a rise when I had been with you a year."

"I know I did," rejoined the employer; "but didn't I make it conditional upon your having given me every satisfaction?"

"And in what way, sir, haven't I given you satisfaction?" asked the clerk.

"In what way?" replied the employer, with a show of anger. "Do you think you are satisfying me in asking for an increase of salary?"

HADLEY IS NOT WANTED

PLAN A PRELIMINARY CONVENTION TO FORCE CANDIDACY FOR GOVERNOR.

KERENS OR BLODGETT TO SENATE

L. F. Parker and Thomas K. Niedringhaus Also Expected to Make Strong Fight for the Republican Nomination.

Jefferson City, Mo., July 19.—Although Attorney General Hadley is out of the state and not expected home for three or four weeks, plans for nominating him for governor and getting him out of the road as a possible candidate for the United States senate are moving along swiftly.

The scheme is to call what the republican leaders term a preliminary convention to gain an expression from the party as to who should be nominated for state offices. This, they think, would put the attorney general so squarely in the race for governor that he would not have the nerve to aspire for a seat in the United States senate coveted by Colonel R. C. Kerens and Colonel Wells H. Blodgett.

Seemingly the republican leaders can't get down to considering the plan of a state primary entirely safe. They have been so accustomed for years to selecting a ticket in advance of the convention that it is exceedingly difficult for them to do business on an entirely new basis, or at least this is what many republicans charge.

Those who are advocating a preliminary convention, as they are pleased to term such a gathering, admit that anything it might do could have no weight on the matter of binding the party at the primary—at least any lawful weight; for, under the state primary act passed last winter all nominations for state offices will be made the same day at a general state primary election.

The idea seems to prevail, however, that if a convention is held and certain persons are recommended for nomination at the state primary that every good republican will go up to the polls the first Tuesday in August, 1908, and vote for those men, regardless of the privilege conferred upon him by the primary act.

It appears clear enough that the object of this move is to bind the party to vote for the nomination of such men as a select few may pick out. Evidently, the dangers almost certain to beset such a plan have not been taken into account. Conditions have changed rapidly.

The time when a convention can be packed by a liberal use of railroad passes is a political reminiscence. The pass has passed and the probabilities are that it will not return. This makes it certain that no very large number of persons would attend a gathering such as the one contemplated.

It is suspected that there are several causes behind this move for a preliminery or advisory gathering of republicans who for obvious reasons could not or would not attend how to vote at the state primary.

The old leaders of the party make no concealment of their personal dislike for Attorney General Hadley. He is entirely too independent to suit them, but they realize, it seems well settled, that he is entirely too strong with the masses to be handed a serpent when they expect him to be proffered a fish. He has said repeatedly that he is not a candidate for governor, and yet he is entirely too strong a man to be sidetracked.

It is argued that should a convention be called as a preliminary to the opening of the campaign for the primary selections, and Hadley be suggested for governor, that he would be in no position to further protest, and thus he would be effectually out of the way in the senatorial contest.

Once in the running for governor, the attorney general would hardly feel disposed to take a hand in the fight oved the senatorial nomination, which takes place at the November election and not at the August primary.

Many republicans admit that it is going to take some very fine diplomatic work to convince the rank and file that such a gathering as the proposed one would be anything less than a meeting of party bosses to dictate the nominees of the primary.

Apparently, the friends of the candidates for United States senator are really the ones behind this move. They are all afraid of Hadley, and quite agree that he should first be disposed of, lest he should prove troublesome later on. Colonel Kerens has not abandoned the idea of going to the United States senate, in the event that the republicans control the next legislature, and Colonel Blodgett has been selected by another element, perhaps more powerful than the Kerens following.

L. F. Parker, of the Frisco railroad, would also esteem such an honor highly, but it is not deemed likely that he will stand in the way of Col. Kerens, although he may appear as a candidate in the race if he believes that by so doing he can help Colonel Kerens. Thomas K. Niedringhaus is known to entertain hopes along this same line, and will put up a strong fight.

When Attorney General Hadley returns from his outing in the Rocky Mountains it is expected that there will be "something doing" in republican cities, and he may quickly upset all the plans for a preliminary gathering to blaze a path for the rank and file to follow at the state primary.

WON'T BELIEVE CHINAMAN

Three Hundred Talesmen Refuse to Qualify On Jury.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 19.—A remarkable attempt at securing a jury is being made in the local police court, where C. C. Chan, a Chinese herb doctor, is being prosecuted by the state board of medical examiners for practicing medicine without a license.

Three hundred talesmen have been examined to date, but all of them were unwilling to swear that they would give the same weight to the evidence of a Chinamen under oath as they would to that of a white man.

Attorney Barnett, representing the state medical board, says that the case will be continued to the end, although it takes a year to secure a jury.

REFUSED TO WED GIRL

Barbato Fell Dead in the Street From Her Bullet.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 19.—Rassaele Barbato, an Italian, was shot down in the street yesterday afternoon by his sweetheart, Maria Bennorda, who declared he had refused to marry her. The man died almost instantly. The girl, also an Italian, was arrested. She is only 19 years old and he was of the same age.

"Yes, I did it," she calmly admitted. "It was right and I feel no sorrow."

According to her, Barbeto had promised to wed her July 3. He did not do so, and she remonstrated. Yesterday Barbato went to her home and tried to make peace, when she shot him.

HOLDUP VICTIM DIES

Declared Kansas Train Robbers Two Light Mulattoes.

Oswego, Kas., July 19.—Otis Taylor, of Posey, Ill., shot through the stomach by robbers early Tuesday morning while beating his way on a Frisco freight train in the western part of the county, died yesterday from the effects of his wounds.

Taylor and a companion, O. J. Brown, of Popular Bluffs, Mo., were shot while resisting an attempt at robbery. Brown was killed instantly.

Taylor described the murderers as two mulattoes, about 25 years of age, and could easily be mistaken as whites. No arrests have yet been made.

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing Hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds; it strengthens; it offers real, genuine heart help.

If you would have strong Hearts, strong digestion, strengthen these nerves—re-establish them as needed, with

WOMEN AFTER A DIVINE

HE HUNTS SHERIFF AS A HAVEN

Ahead of Cat o' Nine Tails, Former Parson Hikes it Down Road With Mrs. Ridenour Reaching for Tails of Frock Coat.

Over fences, through wheat fields, across ditches and down a trolley track Rev. Andrew Pritchett, former pastor of the Wellston M. E. church, was chased for nearly half a mile Thursday morning by a wildly excited crowd of 100 women, men and boys, who set after him as he left the Clayton courthouse, says the St. Louis Times of last evening.

A change of venue, obtained in the slander suit against him, brought by Mrs. Calie Donley, 18 years old, provoked the preacher hunt.

Mrs. Matilda Ridenour, of Wellston, Nemesis of Pritchett, led the chase, armed with a cat o' nine tails, homemade, 25 thongs being held together with a horsehair handle. She was unable to catch the fleeing minister, but got close enough to make the swish of the whip interesting to the extended coat-tails of the former parson.

INSANE GIRL ESCAPED

From a Madhouse and Lived Like a Wild Beast.

Tiffin, O., July 19.—Eva Hopkins, who escaped from the insane asylum at Toledo several weeks ago, was captured here yesterday when she appeared at the county infirmary. The girl was barefooted and nearly naked.

She had been living like a wild animal in the woods, subsisting on berries and herbs since her escape, and was in an exhausted condition. The girl formerly was an inmate of the Seneca county infirmary.

FAST TRAINS IN ENGLAND.

One Nonstop Run of Over 225 Miles in Four Hours Ten Minutes.

The most phenomenal and, in fact, the world's record nonstop runs for length and sustained high speed are made by the Cornish Riviera limited expresses, which daily run in each direction between London and Plymouth, 225½ miles, without an intermediate stop, in four hours and ten minutes, says the Iron Trail.

When it is remembered that the last 52 miles of the run are over a winding switchback road, where grades of any steepness up to one in 40 abound, some idea will be formed of the difficult task set to the locomotives.

The average speed of these trains between London and Essex, 173¾ miles, is 57.9 miles per hour, and the same timing is also made by two other down expresses which daily run to this town without an intermediate stop.

Water is picked up from track troughs no less than three times by all these four trains, and the down Riviera limited detaches three independent slip coaches, one after the other, during the journey.

Before the new direct line to the west of England via Westbury was opened, the runs made by these two world-famous trains were more astonishing still, as the distance covered by them daily without stopping was 245¾ miles, 20 miles more than at present, while the average booked speed for 152 miles was 60.6 miles per hour, including a severe slack at Bath, and a worse one through Bristol, four minutes being consumed by one and one-half miles of curved road through the latter town.

However, these limited expresses keep excellent time, and have proved so remunerative that they are also continued through the winter months, the time to Plymouth having been cut to four hours seven minutes with the down train, while the up limited now calls at Exeter.

An additional nonstop express has also been put on from Exeter, bringing the number of these 173¾-mile-nonstop expresses on this one English railway to four, in addition to the down Riviera limited with its 225¾ miles run.

World's Railroad Building.

The Railway Age reports 11,912 miles of railroad under construction in the United States. The Pacific states are building 2,866 miles of railway at present, the southwestern states 2,885 miles, the northwestern states 1,885 miles, the central northern states 1,000 miles, the gulf and Mississippi valley states 1,755 miles, the south Atlantic states 1,821 miles, the middle Atlantic states 296 miles, and New England three miles.

EXPIRED BY SISTER'S SIDE

When She Saw the Ravages Wrought By Dread Cancer.

Columbus, Ind., July 19.—Mrs. Addie Brucher, a widow of Zanesville, Ohio, aged 46, arrived here yesterday afternoon, and went ten miles west to visit her sister, Mrs. Ella Wheeler, who is dying from cancer.

When Mrs. Brucher approached the latter's bedside and saw the change which her illness had wrought, she sank to the floor and expired instantly.

Heart disease is supposed to have caused death, which was hastened by the sight of the emaciated sick woman.

The death of Mrs. Wheeler is hourly expected. The remains of Mrs. Brucher will be shipped to Zanesville for burial.

MET AT PERTLE SPRINGS

HOTELS AND COTTAGES ARE FILLED

The Session Will Last Nineteen Days —Music Is Under the Direction of Prof. E. G. Norris, of Paola, Kansas.

Pertle Springs, Mo., July 19.—Presbyterians are gathering here from all parts of the state to attend the nineteen days' Sabbath school assembly. Kansas, Arkansas and Oklahoma are represented.

The opening meeting was addressed by Walter Williams, of Columbia, representing the Southern Presbyterian synod; A. C. Stewart, of St. Louis, for many years president of the Cumberland assembly, and by Dr. J. L. McKee, of Kansas City, president of the new organization.

Among those present is Dr. James Orr, of Scotland, who gives daily lectures on Bible study.

Dr. James A. Worden, secretary of the Presbyterian board of Sunday school work, conducts a daily teachers' training class, and the evenings are given over to popular entertainments and lectures.

Dr. Matt S. Hughes, of Kansas City, addressed a large audience last night.

The children are in charge of Miss Grace M. Lamkin, of Chicago, who has organized a large class of Seton Indians, called the Turtle Dove tribe.

Music is under the direction of Prof. E. G. Norris, of Paola, Kas., and a large chorus has been organized.

Pertle Springs hotels and cottages are well filled, and many persons are living in tents. The crowd is increasing daily and thousands are expected before the assembly adjourns.

LEG PIERCED BY BULLET

But the Actor Gamely Went Through With the Scene.

Kokomo, Ind., July 19.—James T. Kelly, playing the leading part in the Gilliland Broscoe company at the Alhambra yesterday afternoon was accidentally shot through the leg, but went through his part without the audience knowing of his plight.

Three revolvers were needed in the production. Two of these were carried by the company and the third was borrowed from the Kokomo police department, and was a weapon which was found to be loaded when produced at the theater.

Frank Delson was engaged in an attempt to unload the weapon when the muzzle slipped from his grasp and the gun exploded. The bullet ploughed its way through the scenery, penetrated Kelly's leg and dropped into the orchestra box.

Kelly indifferently grasped his leg and went through his part with Miss Grace Bainbridge, who did not detect until later that he had been wounded. When the scene closed Kelly's shoe was overflowing with blood.

A Fire in a Barn.

The fire department was called to Solomon's grocery store, at the northeast corner of Fifth street and Engineer avenue, at 2:45 o'clock this afternoon, where hay in a barn in the rear of the place had been set on fire by some unknown cause. The blaze was easily extinguished, with slight damage.

ond Chautauqua concert, and at 8:30 Hon C. B. Landis, an Indiana congressman, will deliver his famous lecture, "The Message of the Optimist."

Landis at Parsons.

The Parsons Eclipse of Thursday afternoon had the following in regard to Mr Landis:

Congressman Landis, of Indiana, spoke at the Chautauqua last evening on "The Message of the Optimist," instead of "A Decade in Washington," the subject announced on the program. The new subject appeared to have been selected largely because it would furnish the speaker with a pretext for rapping La Follette.

The Indiana congressman did not speak La Follette's name, but the audience easily understood the significance of his remarks. "I am glad to speak to you the message of the optimist," the speaker said, "because you have had some messages from this platform within the past few days from the pessimistic standpoint. A great deal is being said by the complainer, the trouble hunter, the shadow chaser. I believe the world is growing better, and I am glad I am alive and in this world tonight. There are those who take issue with us on this proposition, so I think it is a good thing for us to look the question in the face and consider it occasionally."

The speaker believed that there are more good men in high positions today than ever before, and that there will be more in the years to come than there are now. He said:

"The rich man in the saddle in this country? No. The individual is in the saddle. It is not two weeks since we saw a beardless judge in Chicago, backed by the strong arm of the law, reach out and drag from his summer home the richest man in all the world."

Speaking of the possibilities for the humblest citizen in America, the speaker referred to the humble origin of Bryan and the honors he has received at home and abroad. "He shows the possibilities of American institutions," he said.

The speaker also referred to Root, Knox, Hitchcock and others as being conspicuous examples of the successful men who owe their advancement to personal effort solely.

Program Saturday—La Follette Day.

9:30 a. m. Devotional hour.

10:30 a. m. Bible study lecture, "How to read the Psalms," Prof. F. K. Farr.

2:00 p. m. Concert Chautauqua orchestra.

2:30 p. m. Full concert, Lyric Quartet.

7:30 p. m. Concert, Lyric Quartet.

8:00 p. m. Lecture, "The Fight for Reform," Senator R. M. La Follette, of Wisconsin, "America's greatest senator."

Senator Robert M. La Follette is Wisconsin's great senator, and a statesman whose fight against machine domination has been the wonder and admiration of all America.

Senator La Follette, or "Governor Bob," as he is lovingly called by his admirers in his native state, is one of the really great statesmen of America.

Senator La Follette will tell the story of his fight in Wisconsin. He will also tell the story of his fight in the United States senate. Incidentally, he will call the roll of the senate.

His "story" will be right up to date, and will deal with present day issues and present day "statesmen." He will tell how the "special interests" have filled the senate and the house, how the rate bill and other needed legislation was blocked.

Senator La Follette is the most conspicuous figure in the United States senate. This lecture alone will be worth the price of a whole season ticket.

La Follette at Fort Scott.

Senator Robert M. La Follette, who spoke here last evening at the Chautauqua assembly, went to Emporia this morning, says Thursday's Fort Scott Monitor. At the Missouri Pacific depot the senator talked at length with a Tribune man regarding the political outlook.

It is being more and more realized every day that La Follette may be the next candidate for president on the republican ticket.

This morning the senator was drawn into a discussion as to the probabilities of the next national campaign and its issues, but he stated that he did not care to talk for publication regarding the interests of any one man.

"Isn't it probable that you will go into the next republican national convention with a big delegation?" he was asked.

"Of course, that's something rather difficult to answer, as well as being a delicate subject to discuss for publication. I presume I could have the Wisconsin delegation back of me as a starter, with perhaps many more, but I must not talk along that line now."

Senator La Follette does not believe that Roosevelt will be a candidate for re-election. He says the president has stated time and again that he would no consent to run again and that this was probably final.

During the discussion Bryan's name was mentioned, and Mr. La Follette said of him:

"Mr. Bryan is one of the most deep minded, sincere men of this time. It is one of the greatest compliments that may be said of him that he is a genuine christian gentleman. No one can doubt that. And then, his political ideas seem to have broadened and enlarged since he first appeared in 1896. He is a good, clean man, with many good ideas, who can never be changed from the course he believes and knows is right."

HARRISBURG, ILL., SEPT. 22, 1904.

TO THE E. W. ROSE MEDICINE CO., St. Louis, Mo.

GENTLEMEN—I contracted in the army, about 42 years ago, a very bad case of eczema of the face. During all of which time I have tried every known remedy and a number of physicians. I had doctored until I had given up all hope of ever being cured. Your "Zemo" was recommended to me and I have been using the same a short time and am happy to say that its results have been marvelous from the beginning. From the start it gave me immediate relief, stopped the itching and burning and all symptoms of the disease disappeared. Judging from my case, I consider your remedy a specific for eczema worth its weight in gold.

I heartily recommend its use by any and all who may be so unfortunate as to have this dreaded disease. I am, Respectfully yours, JOHN I. CAPEL.

A REAL WILD WEST SHOW

CHEYENNE'S ANNUAL CELEBRATION THAT ATTRACTS THOUSANDS.

DATES THIS YEAR JULY 25, 26, 27

A Beauty Contest That Is Expected to Gather Together a Large Aggregation of Both Buds and Blossoms.

Although the old west, with its picturesque stage settings and accessories, and its still more picturesque actors in the roles of white bandits and red marauders, of the trail boss and his army of range riders, of the "bad man," the scout and the vigilante, is dead and buried, yet once each year the corpse is galvanized into life again that we of a happier generation may catch a fleeting glimpse of the "good old times" that are gone, says the Kansas City Star. The place of the resurrection is Cheyenne, and the occasion is the frontier day celebration that has become a famous event.

"The greatest Wild West show on earth" is the way the people of Cheyenne characterize their three day carnival. And even Buffalo Bill challenges not the truthfulness of the description. From the Salton Sea to the Red River of the North the western ranges are canvassed to bring together the most skilled "rope artists," the most daring riders, the most nervy "broncho busters," and the most lightning-like gun play adepts that the vanishing frontier is capable of producing. In order that their mettle may be truly tried and tested, the wildest cayuses, the most unconquerable "outlaw" bronchos and the most untamable steers in the seventeen great stock raising commonwealths are corralled, to pit brute force and instinct against the strength of human arm and the craft of human brain. For the time being all roads in the west lead to Cheyenne.

This season Cheyenne's "frontier days" are appointed for July 25, 26 and 27. More than 1,000 persons and a still larger number of horses and ponies will be put through their paces for the entertainment of the crowd. The average attendance at recent frontier day spectacles has been in excess of 25,000 and this year it is anticipated that all past records will be broken. From isolated points in Wyoming and Colorado cowpunchers, sheep herders, ranchers and miners think little of riding for 300 miles or more that the occasion may be graced by their presence, while seat reservations and hotel engagements have been made long in advance from cities as far away as the New England states.

However blase one may be, he will need to keep a tight grip on himself if he wishes to retain the strictly proper air of being just a trifle bored, when the Cheyenne show gets well under way. Cheyenne is a little green oasis set right in the middle of the brown Wyoming semi-desert. To the west may be seen the grim ramparts of the Medicine Bow mountains, and a little off to the north are the nearer outlines of the Laramie range. The little Wyoming capital is decked out in holiday attire for the occasion—for this is a true public enterprise, and every merchant, banker, tradesman, stockman and almost every householder in the town contributes something in goods, labor or money toward defraying the expense of the carnival. It costs at least $10,000 in cold cash to get it a-going, to say nothing of the free will offerings in the way of premiums made by enterprising merchants and others. It isn't a money making scheme, as it never more than pays expenses, and rarely even that.

This season a new feature will be a beauty contest, that is expected to result in gathering together a bouquet of the fairest buds and blossoms between the "river and the coast." The only qualifications that are insisted upon are that the contestants be fair to look upon, and that they hail from somewhere west of the Big Muddy. When that galaxy of real American beauties get lined up for inspection, it's a safe gamble that the wits of the masculine spectators will all go wool gathering. Prizes aggregating $2,600 in value have been donated for award to the twenty-four most beautiful damsels that will consent to go on exhibition; and others for the shortest woman, the tallest, the fattest and the skinniest; and one for the handsomest male escort of an "exhibit" in the beauty show.

FIGHTS CATS; FATAL FALL

Chicago Man Was Driven Frantic By "Katzenmusick."

Chicago, July 19.—Ed Dwyer, aged sixty-one, is dying at a hospital, the result of an attempt to break up a cat concert and kill the prima donna and the chorus with one blow of a club.

For many weeks cats infesting Dwyer's neighborhood have congregated nightly upon the roof of the three-story building in which he resides, and offered their symphony to the stars, incidentally disturbing Dwyer's rest and peace of mind.

He got a club early yesterday morning and climbed the stairs, muttering threats with each step. Once on the roof he stalked the songsters to the very edge, and then swung mightily.

But the cats were not there, and the force of his swing carried Dwyer headlong over the edge of the roof to the street. It was found that he had suffered a fracture of three ribs and internal injuries.

RATHER DIE THAN TELL

CIVIL WAR INCIDENT IN LIFE OF A CITIZEN OF LAFAYETTE COUNTY.

HE HAD AIDED SOUTHERN CAUSE

Strung Up By Militia and Cut-Throats From Kansas, But Declined to Give Them the Desired Information.

R. W. Wayman, one of Sni-a-Bar township's best known citizens and leading democrats, was in Lexington last week on business, says the Lexington News.

Mr Wayman has experienced a sensation peculiar to but few men that live to describe it. He has swung with the pendulum of life across the dark divide and experienced, so to speak, the peculiar sensation of dying and yet lived to tell about it.

The description of his start to the spirit world is not as vivid as most people would suppose, but on the other hand is rather commonplace. He says the sensation is similar to that of drowsily passing into a peaceful sleep.

This hair-raising experience of Mr. Wayman happened when he was a mere boy and the incidents leading up to it are doubtless as fresh in the mind of the principal actor as they were the day it happened.

When the civil war broke out the Wayman family supplied every male member of the family to the southern cause except our subject, R. W., who was only about twelve years of age, and he was so thoroughly imbued with the war spirit that it kept his mother and sisters on the qui vive to keep him from slipping away to join the army.

But he was determined to not be thwarted in his purpose to serve his beloved south by staying at home.

The heavily timbered regions in the vicinity of the Wayman homestead became a haven of rest for every foot-sore straggling Confederate that came that way, and young Wayman, at the peril of his own life, carried supplies to them and helped them on to the front.

The fact that young Wayman was succoring every friend of the South that needed help soon reached the ears of the militia and the Kansas cut-throats, who were then pillaging the homes of the southern people in this section.

They went to his home and taking him to a convenient tree put a rope around his neck and threw it over a limb, at the same time asking him to give them some information about the whereabouts of some of Quantrell's men. His answer was an absolute refusal to comply with their demands. The swung him up and then let him down with the warning that further refusal meant that they would hang him for "keeps."

But he was a true hero of those troublesome times and he said no! They then pulled him up and went away to leave him to die. No sooner had the murderous band passed out of sight than a sister, who had grown solicitous at his prolonged absence from the house, rushed to his aid and cutting the rope let him down and by vigorous work restored him to life.

Mr. Wayman still owns the old home place where all of his strenuous experiences in the service of his early ideas occurred, and while he is particularly modest about relating his part in the great drama of the sixties, he was truly an heroic figure in the border troubles of those times.

Today he is as faithful to his ideals of right as he was in the stirring times of his boyhood and Lafayette county has no better citizen than R. W. Wayman.

Wolf in Italian Town.

It is not often that European eyes witness the spectacle of a wolf trotting leisurely through the streets in broad daylight, and with little apparent concern. Such an incident happened recently in the Italian town of Annezzano. The wolf went sniffling first in the direction of one house and then of another as he went along. Passing by the hospital, an attendant of sporting instincts saw the game, and, rushing for a gun, gave chase. Before long he got a chance for a shot, which hit the wolf, and, following this up with another, the beast was slain. Its presence in the town is accounted for by the theory that the beast has been hunting over night away from his haunts, and after eating to satiety and sleeping through the night, was making his way back to his lair.

TWO NEW RURAL ROUTES

POSTOFFICE DEPARTMENT IS FIGURING ON ESTABLISHING THEM.

ONE OLD ROUTE IS TO BE CHANGED

The New Routes Will Be Known as Nos. 7 and 8—A Detailed Description of Each Is Herewith Presented.

The postoffice department at Washington is figuring on establishing two additional rural routes out of Sedalia. The proposed new routes will make a slight change in the present rural service. It is contemplated that one of the new routes (No. 8) will absorb a part of the present route No. 2. The latter route will be thrown over to the road east of it and as rearranged will serve a larger number of persons than at present. Following are the directions to be followed by the proposed routes:

Detailed description of rural route No. 7—Starting at the postoffice the carrier will go thence: South on Lamine street to Sixteenth street, ⅞ mile; east on Sixteenth street to Summit street, 9-16 mile; south on Summit street to Twentieth street, ¼ mile; east on Twentieth street to Engineer street, 1-16 mile; south on Engineer street to Twenty-fourth street, ¼ mile; east on Twenty-fourth street to New York avenue, ¼ mile; south on New York avenue to corporate limits, ⅛ mile; south to the Wright corner, ⅞ mile; east and southerly on irregular road to Alcorn corner, 2½ miles; east to the Franklin corner, ¾ mile; southerly to the Huffman corner, 1⅝ miles; west to the Yarber corner, 1 mile; south, east and south to the Smasel corner, 2¼ miles; east to the W. N. Rhodes corner, ½ mile; north to the Huffman corner, 1½ miles, east to the Davis corner, 1¼ miles; north, ¾; west, north on irregular road and west to the Abell corner, 2½, 2⅞ miles; north with jogs to the Olmstead corner, 2⅝ miles; west, north and west to the corporate limits; 1½ miles; west on Sixteenth street and north on Lamine to the postoffice, 2 miles. Length of route, 23⅝ miles. Number of houses, 100. Population, 400.

Detailed description of rural route No. 8—Starting at the postoffice the carrier will go thence: South on Lamine street to Sixteenth street, ⅞ mile; west on Sixteenth street to Kentucky avenue, ⅜ mile; south on Kentucky avenue to Twenty-fourth street, ½ mile; west on Twenty-fourth street to Grand avenue, ¼ mile; south on Grand avenue to the corporate limits, 3-16 mile; south to Thirty-second street, 5-16 miles west; west ¼, south with jogs to Valda corner, 4¼—4½ miles; west to the Anderson school house, 1¼ miles; south to the Elliot corner, 2¼ miles; west to the southeast corner of section 11, 2 miles; north, east and north with jogs to the center of the south line of section 36, 2¾ miles; east to the Anderson school house, 1⅜ miles; northerly, east and north to High Point, 4½ miles; east to Grand avenue, ¾ mile; north on Grand avenue to the corporate limits, 5-16 mile; north on Grand avenue to Sixteenth street, 11-16 mile; east to Lamine street and north to the postoffice, 1⅜ miles. Length of route, 24½ miles. Number of houses, 90. Population, 360.

Bears Try to Board Train.

Two black bears trying to board the east-bound Pennsylvania limited, due here at ten o'clock in the morning, caused excitement among the passengers and crew. The train was running between Portage and Bens Creek on the summit of the Alleghenies when the stenographer, John McEllinen, discovered the bears in pursuit. Passengers watched the race from the rear of the observation car.

One bear ran along the west-bound track, while the other took the east-bound track. At a curve in the road the latter attempted to leap on the train, but missed the observation platform. The bears kept up the chase nearly two miles and were then lost to sight in the woods.

Walter Wynecoop, a brakeman, noticed the same bears following the limited several weeks ago. At that time the pair broke up a tramps' camp, which had been thriving at Kittanning Point during the winter.—Altoona correspondence Pittsburg Dispatch.

LIFELESS BODY IN POND

MRS. DUPETREE'S DEATH NEAR SULLIVAN, MO., TO BE INVESTIGATED.

THERE IS MYSTERY IN THE CASE

The Body Was Exhumed, and the Head Was Found to Have Been Quite Badly Bruised, But Cause Not Known.

Sullivan, Mo., July 19.—A postmortem examination of the body of Mrs. Charles Dupetree, which was found in a shallow pond, near her home, three miles west of here, more than a week ago, resulted in the finding of a wound in the back of the head, and the lungs free from water.

The body was exhumed and the examination made upon request of Prosecuting Attorney W. L. Cole, acting upon the report of the coroner's jury, which conducted an inquest at the time the body was found, to the Franklin county grand jury.

Mrs. Dupetree was 57 years old, and a Italian. She had been in poor health. She left home early on the morning of the day her body was found. Her husband, also an Italian, and their two sons, who were at work in a field, found the body at noon.

The suicide theory was advanced. The grand jury has been been dismissed for the term, but the prosecuting attorney will make further investigation.

DYSPEPTIC CARLYLE.

Physical Condition Which Affected His Conduct Towards His Friends.

Carlyle, in addition to his other troubles, was a sufferer from dyspepsia. He was, therefore, anything bu sympathetic in intercourse with his friends, anything but fair in his estimates of other writers.

Though Carlyle personally liked Tennyson, he spoke with impatience of his "cobbling odes;" dismissed Jane Austen's novels as "dish washings;" Hallam, the historian, as "dry as dust;" and Goldsmith as an "Irish blackguard." Even the writers of editorials in the press were scored by the irritable Sage of Chelsea. "What are these follows doing?" he asked. "The only serve to cancel one another."

A characteristic incident illustrates Carlyle's disposition to inflict pain even on a friend. An artist, who frequented the house of Carlyle, painted a picture of him in his dressing gown smoking a pipe by the fireside, and Mrs. Carlyle in an armchair sitting opposite him. The portrait was hung at one of the Royal Academy's exhibitions, and, though not a striking work of art, was purchased by Lord Ashburton, Carlyle's friend, for £500.

The delighted artist hurried off to Carlyles, expecting congratulations on the sale and some manifestation of pleasure on their part at having such a value placed on a picture of themselves and their domestic interior. He delivered his glad tidings, but the only response he got from Carlyle was:

"Well, mon, 500 pounds was just 495 pounds too much."

Browning one day left a copy of his new poems at Carlyle's house. In speaking of this action to Tennyson the next day, Carlyle broke out with a savage snarl:

"What did that fellow mean by leaving that cartload of stones at my door?"

Sharp Says: All he asks of a customer buying a piano is that he show as good horse sense as when buying a hog or a critter for his herd; then pedigree counts, blood tells, and the registry talks. Sharp's pianos have reputation. The World's Exposition Records at Paris, 1900, and St. Louis, 1904, has his pianos on their register, way up with the best premiums and highest honors ever given to a musical instrument.

REGARDING RAILROADS

STEPS ARE TAKEN TO PREVENT COAL SHORTAGE IN WEST NEXT WINTER.

COACH, CAB AND CABOOSE ITEMS

Matters of Interest Picked Up From Various Sources for the Benefit of Democrat-Sentinel Readers.

To stimulate the purchase and shipment of coal during the summer months, when the greatest number of cars for this purpose are available, the interstate commerce commission, at the request of the Union Pacific railroad and the Oregon Short Line, has especially authorized a reduction of twenty-five cents per ton on coal shipped to Washington, Idaho and Nevada between July 19th and September 1st.

For the last two months officials of the Harriman lines have been endeavoring to induce western coal dealers to make their shipments this summer in order to avoid a recurrence of last winter's fuel scarcity. As an additional inducement to dealers to help in preventing another fuel scarcity, which was particularly distressing in the states affected by the commission's new order, dealers have now secured a reduction of rate from which they will derive a considerable additional profit.

The principal difficulty in supplying coal in the western states during the winter months, when fuel was most needed, grew partly out of shortage of equipment and partly from the fact that orders were delayed until the weather conditions made freight movement slow and difficult. In Nevada, at one time, not only was all the available wood supply consumed, but for miles around many town sage brush was cut and sold for fuel.

So keen is the desire of the railroad to tempt dealers and others to ship a large supply of fuel during the summer, that the Union Pacific has taken the unusual step of applying through the interstate commerce commission to be allowed to make this large reduction in its rate in order to get the co-operation of dealers in shipping fuel now when the railroad is in good shape to handle it promptly.

A Missouri Pacific Roast.

The board of railway commissioners have completed their report of their investigations of the Missouri Pacific tracks, and there is much criticism, as would be expected, says the Warrensburg Star.

Everybody knows who pays any attention to these things that the Missouri Pacific tracks are in bad condition. They could not be otherwise when it is considered that no means are provided to keep them in good shape.

Years ago a gang of section men was detailed to look after and keep in shape their particular section of the track. Nowadays two or three men only are employed to do this work, and they are poorly paid at that.

No wonder there are rotten ties found. No wonder rails are broken. No wonder there are wrecks. The railroads have for so long been putting the dollar above everything else in the desire to pay dividends that they've become blind to public safety and the betterment of conditions on its system, which would at once increase the value of the property and the chances for safety of those who hazard their lives by riding on Missouri Pacific trains.

Chain Gang for Railway Men.

James H. Wood, district passenger agent, and O. C. Wilson, ticket agent of the Southern railway, who were arrested at Asheville, N. C., Wednesday afternoon, were found guilty in police court Thursday of selling passenger tickets in disregard of the new rate law, and each was sentenced to thirty days in the chain gang.

Mr. Wood is an alderman of that city. Little doubt is felt that some way will be found to save Wood and Wilson from serving this sentence.

Train Kills Railroad Painter.

J. D. Lynch, foreman painter for the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad, was killed at Crescent, Mo., yesterday by a passenger train while he and his workmen were trying to get a handcar off the track.

Hospital Arrivals.

H. L. White, route agent for the Pacific Express company, went to St. Louis today on business.

J. C. Ragsdale, a Katy brakeman on the high line, reported for work today, after a few days' lay off.

F. D. Lister, a Missouri Pacific conductor on trains Nos. 95 and 96, is laying off for a few days' rest.

A. C. Frye, a Missouri Pacific brakeman, leaves tomorrow for a thirty days' vacation at Pueblo, Col.

T. J. Gallivan, Missouri Pacific engineer, returned to Kansas City this morning, after visiting his family here.

J. P. Rodeman, traveling freight agent for the Missouri Pacific, went to Tipton this morning on business.

R. M. Garrett, resident engineer for the Katy, went to Mokane last night to stake out the grounds for a new resorvoir.

O. F. Fowler, chief train dispatcher for the Katy, was called to Walnut, Kan., again last night by the illness of his mother.

W. H. Faust, a Sedalian, employed as train auditor for the Missouri Pacific, passed through here on train No. 1 this afternoon.

Frank Robinson, assistant hostler for the Missouri Pacific, got a cinder in his right eye while at work today, causing much pain.

Beginning today, through tickets to all points in Missouri, Arkansas and Illinois will be sold by the Missouri Pacific for 2 cents per mile.

J. A. Eastwood, a Katy brakeman from Franklin Junction, arrived here this morning to receive treatment at the Katy hospital for chills and fever.

Tandy Greenstreet, south end Katy brakeman, is laying off, and went to El Dorado Springs this morning to visit. Brakeman Johnson has the former's run.

W. J. McKee, general superintendent of the Missouri Pacific at Coffeyville, Kan., in his special car, No. 5, passed through here last night on his way to St. Louis.

Clarence Smith, the 15-year-old son of Sam Smith, a Katy car inspector, caught a six-pound German carp fish below the wagon bridge at the resorvoir Wednesday.

The earnings of the Missouri Pacific for the second week of July were $852,000, an increase of $2,000. The earnings of the Central branch of the Missouri Pacific were $23,000, a decrease of $8,000.

W. S. Dent, assistant ticket agent for the Missouri Pacific, has in his possession a small sized gold watch fob, bearing the initials "M. H. D.," which he found in front of the Broadway power plant yesterday.

The earnings of the M., K. & T. for the second week in July were $466,360; increase, $89,909. From July 1, $871,975; increase, $150,270.

Roy Bradfield, a Katy switchman, is taking a few days' lay off, placing a new roof of shingles on the barn in the rear of his home.

Trainmaster W. E. Merrifield, of the Missouri Pacific, went east this morning, and will join J. W. Higgins, assistant general manager of the Missouri Pacific, who passed through here in a special car this morning, on his way to St. Louis.

PLUNGED INTO FLAMES

Little Girl at Minneapolis While Playing Joan of Arc.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 19.—Little Mia Vjorling and her playmates had been reading the wonderful story of Joan of Arc. They built a huge bonfire in the back yard and everything was prepared to make the play effective. The little ones grouped themselves about the flames and prepared for the exciting final.

Little Mia was to be Joan, and with her hair hanging down about her head in lustrous curls, she approached flames. With a cry of horror her companions saw her fall headforemost into the flames about which she hovered. The little girl had lost her balance. She tried to regain her feet, but the flames caught in her hair and flimsy garments.

The cries of the children soon brought help and heavy garments were wrapped about Mia, but she was so badly burned that she will die.

DYNAMITE IN HIS THRESHER

Injured Man Refused to Join Farmers' Association.

Hopkinsville, Ky., July 19.—The threshing machine of John Fields, a non-association farmer, was destroyed yesterday morning at Oak Grove by dynamite concealed in the wheat.

Two laborers sustained broken bones, internal injuries and cuts. Fields had been warned to join the Farmers' association before attempting to thresh his wheat.

Twenty-five masked men took Nathan Hester, a farmer, from his home at midnight and flogged him with a rawhide, brutally kicking and mistreating him. His wife fainted when her husband was dragged away. Hester quit the Farmers' association several months ago.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

How To Find Out.

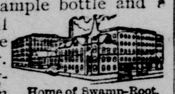

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

THE HEAT PROSTRATIONS

IN PHILADELPHIA YESTERDAY DURING ELKS' PARADE WERE 4,380.

BUT STILL THE BOYS MARCHED ON

Blaring Bands and Clanging Ambulance Gongs Mingled With the Shouts for Aid and Cheers for the Sturdy Marchers.

Philadelphia, July 19.—Four thousand three hundred and eighty persons in the immense throngs which had gathered to see the parade of the Elks dropped victims of a deadly combination of heat and humidity yesterday. Men, women and children fell as though under fire from some unseen ambuscade. Five are dead and in the crowded hospitals from forty to fifty are dying.

Emergency hospitals were hastily constructed under the grandstands and in side streets, while at the hospitals stricken persons were laid in rows upon grass outside. Stores and wagons were converted into wards. Motor cars, carriages and every form of vehicle was pressed into service to help patrols and ambulances.

Lemonade, in which adulterations had been put, was sold freely to the crowd. The chief police surgeon, Dr. Patterson, said last night that many prostrations were due to that, and also to the fact that those who suffered had started out early in the morning with little or no breakfast and had sat or stood for hours.

"No definite record could be kept of cases," said Dr. Patterson. "Probably as many more again as our official figures show were treated and sent directly to their homes. I have never heard of anything like this before."

Men with megaphones in the telephone booths, attached high above the street to telegraph poles, shouted out such messages as: "Send two wagons to Broad and Green streets;" "Four down at Broad and Spruce;" "Thirty-five have just fallen in the crowd at Berks street;" "Don't send any more to the Pennsylvania hospital, it's being swamped."

And through all this bedlam, with bands playing lively music and flags gaily flying, the paraders marched on. Now and then an Elk would topple over or stagger toward the ropes. The gap would close up and his comrades would go marching on.

At 3 o'clock the Elks were dropping out of the lines rapidly and seeking refuge. At this time a heavy thunder storm came up and put an abrupt end to the parade and the prostrations.

The prize winners in the various events were not awarded owing to the confusion incident to the heat prostrations.

No More Elks' Teeth.

Philadelphia, July 19.—By an almost unanimous vote the Elks' convention has abolished the custom of wearing elks' teeth as a symbol of the order.

This action was taken in response to recent widespread agitation against the ruthless slaughter of elks to provide teeth for members of the order.

Point was given to this agitation not long ago by the arrest of two elk slayers, who had several thousand teeth in their possession.

It is charged by those who have been denouncing the practice of wearing elks' teeth that the custom threatens the extinction of the elk.

Deaths From Heat in New York.

New York, July 19.—New York is suffering from a heat wave which has caused three deaths and many prostrations. The temperature reached 90 degrees and was accompanied by great humidity.

In Boston Three Died of Heat.

Boston, July 19.—Three deaths and a dozen prostrations from heat was the record in this city and suburbs today.

MYSTERY IN A DEATH

A Well-Dressed Stranger Was Found Hanging.

Wheeling, W. Va., July 19.—Deep mystery shrouds the case of a well-dressed man, apparently a foreigner, whose lifeless body was found suspended by a leather belt from a wheelbarrow handle projecting over a fence in Alley B, in the heart of the business section Wednesday night.

Yesterday morning William Seskos, an employe of the Pittsburg Coal company, at Forest Hill, identified the body as that of his brother, but two hours later the brother was found alive and well.

In the dead man's pocket was a pay envelope of the Pittsburg Coal company.

The police believe he was tracked here by the "Black Hand" and that he killed himself to escape them. Coroner Rogers will probe the mystery to the bottom.

BACK TO THE FARM

Mayor's Advice to a Youth Who Loved the Arrested Woman.

Lima, Ohio, July 19.—"Go back to the farm, my boy, and forget it," was the advice given 20-year-old Clifford Smith yesterday by Mayor Robb in the police court.

Smith procured a license a few days ago to wed Beatrice Atwood, aged 30 years, who was in jail. He awaited the mayor's action in her case, but was called aside and told to leave.

"But I love her, Your Honor," pleaded the youth, "and want to marry her."

The mayor's answer was a heavy fine for the woman and banishment from the city.

Smith, from a well-to-do family, had become infatuated with his fair captor during a short residence in this city.

The funeral of Bert Bailey, who died of cancer of the bowels yesterday, was held from the parlors of the Sedalia Undertaking company at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Rev. R. C. Miller officiated, and palibearers were selected from the Sedalia aerie of Eagles. Interment was in the city cemetery.

TEACHER LOSES REASON

He Memorized All the Speeches of Hon. W. J. Bryan.

Lawrenceburg, Ind., July 19.—Harry G. Laws, 37 years old, and for many years a popular teacher of Southern Indiana, has been declared of unsound mind, and will be transferred to the Central Indiana hospital for the insane.

When Bryan came into prominence as a presidential candidate in 1896 Laws was one of his ardent admirers. After the campaign he secured all of Bryan's speeches and began the task of memorizing them. This he accomplished so well that he could repeat them without leaving out a word. But the strain told, and his mind finally gave way.

For more than a month past Laws has been repeating Bryan's speeches day and night, and there is not one which he does not know from beginning to end.

THE WAR VETERANS

Are Dying Off Rapidly. 16,629 Departing in the Last Year.

Columbus, Ohio, July 19.—According to the annual report of the local pension agency, which is a distributing point for several states in this section of the country, the old soldiers are dying off at a rapid rate.

The total loss in the year was 16,629 out of a total of 98,068 survivors at the beginning. However, in the same period 14,390 were added to the rolls. The total disbursements were $14,634,797.72. There are 2,270 survivors of the war with Spain who are being paid from this office.

FEDERATION OF LABOR

MEETING OF UNUSUAL IMPORTANCE WAS HELD LAST EVENING.

EXPELLED FROM THE SOCIALISTS

Charles Schmidt, Who Took the Place of a Striker in the Missouri Pacific Coppersmith Department.

(Thursday's Daily.)

The Sedalia Federation of Labor held an unusual interesting meeting last night, acted upon a great deal of routine business, received reports of the several special committees, heard reports from the affiliated unions through their delegates, elected delegates to the Missouri State Federation of Labor convention, which will be held in Sedalia beginning Monday, September 16, and decided to have printed in bulletin form 2,000 copies of the union label matter, which is to appear in the 1907 Labor day souvenir.

A general discussion, participated in by all the delegates present, was had upon the question of patronizing union concerns and purchasing goods which bear the union label. The demand for union made goods in Sedalia, it was asserted, is not what it should be, considering there are nearly two thousand union men in the city.

The small demand for union label goods in Sedalia was attributed by those present to a lack of proper agitation, and it was decided to henceforth carry on a systematic campaign of agitation and education on the question of the union label.

The general Labor day committee reported having organized with F. H. Kruse, of the tailors' union, as president and E. T. Behrens, of the cigarmakers' union, as secretary. Subcommittees, to which will be assigned the detail work of the celebration, were reported by the general committee, as follows:

Committee on ball—W. J. Musick, F. H. Kruse, Catherine Brunk, Mrs. H. D. Muis, Ida Jolly, Geo. Knaus and Si McVey.

Committee on printing—S. S. McEwen, M. J. Donohue and A. C. Lueking.

Committee on refreshments—Theo. Sshwartz, P. S. Jamerson and Henry Murphy.

Delegates—P. S. Jamerson, Henry Murphy and W. R. Marshall.

Alternates—J. D. Meyer, F. J. Hecht and H. S. Frazier.

E. T. Behrens, compiler of the annual Labor day souvenir, was authorized by the federation to have two thousand label bulletins printed, of vest pocket size, utilizing the matter which will appear in the souvenir. The bulletin will contain a list of concerns and merchants handling union-labeled goods, together with a classified list of union made products handled by each firm. Fac-simile cuts of union labels, store and shop cards will also be displayed throughout the bulletin.

The reports from the several affiliated unions indicated that trade was generally fair. Machinists reported the Missouri Pacific shops as being in need of union machinists.

Bartenders reported that the union bar card at the Antlers hotel bar had been taken down.

Strike on the Bell telephone company was reported still on by the Electrical Workers. They also reported that a conference had been held between the national president of the Electrical Workers, president Gompers, of the A. F. of L., and the president of the American Telegraph and Telephone company, the parent head of the Bell telephone companies, with a view of reaching an amicable adjustment of all differences now existing between the Electrical Workers and a number of Bell companies where strikes are pending. The result of the conference had not yet been learned.

Cigarmaker delegates complained that nearly four-fifths of the cigars consumed in Sedalia were non-union and made outside of Sedalia; also reported settlement of cigarmakers, strike in Cuba, which ended favorably to the strikers. Settlement of the strike, it was reported, had been brought about largly through the influence of the officers of the Cigarmakers' International Union and President Gompers, of the A. F. of L.

A communication from the Sedalia Local, of the socialist party, advising the federation of its recent action in expelling one of its members for taking the place of a striking sheet metal worker, and resolutions declaring its attitude on the subject of loyalty to the working class on the economic field was read and ordered placed on file. The resolutions follow:

The socialist party being the party of the working class, reflecting the economic, as well as the political, interest of that class, and recognizing the the trades union movement as

The church was organized with seven members in July, 1864, by Rev. C. E. Carpenter.

The corner stone of the Ohio street church was laid in August, 1865.

A Pay Patient at the City Hospital This Forenoon.

(Thursday's Daily.)

Bert Bailey, a Sedalian by birth, died of cancer of the bowels at the city hospital at 9:45 o'clock this morning, aged 27 years. Funeral services will be held tomorrow and interment will be made in the city cemetery.

On November 22. last, Mr. Bailey was operated upon for the ailment at Tacoma, Wash. No improvement resulted, however, and later he went to Tyro, Old Mexico, where he remained for several months with his brother, Fred Bailey, general yardmaster for a railway at that place.

A week ago today Mr. Bailey, accompanied by Fred, arrived here. He went to the city hospital immediately, where he has been confined since as a pay patient. He grew worse day by day and the final summons was not unexpected.

Mr. Bailey held membership in the B. of R. T. and Fraternal Order of Eagles, under whose auspices the funeral services will be held.

HON. W. J. BRYAN IS HERE

CAME IN FROM EMPORIA, KAS., AT 1:10 O'CLOCK THIS AFTERNOON.

CHAUTAUQUA FORMALLY OPENED

The Attendance Is Not What Was Hoped for, the Weather Considered—Mr. Bryan Goes to Clinton This Evening.

(Thursday's Daily.)

Hon. W. J. Bryan, the opening attraction at the two weeks' Sedalia Chauauqua, arrived in the city at 1:10 o'clock this afternoon from Emporia, Kan., via Kansas City, he having traveled on Missouri Pacific train No. 2 with Governor J. W. Folk, who was en route home from the Kaw's mouth.

Mr. Bryan was met at the station by his cousin, Charles H. Van Antwerp, Hon. John T. Heard and H. W. Harris, president of the Third National bank.

It had been announced that Mr. Bryan would arrive on a special Katy train from Boonville at 1:30 p. m., and a number of persons were at the Katy station to welcome him, they not having been advised of the change in the original program.

As he alighted from the train it was easy to see that Mr. Bryan is in the best of health, and it is not surprising that he has been one of the biggest cards where he has spoken at Chautauquas in the southwest.

He was escorted by Messrs. Heard, Harris and Van Antwerp to the vehicle in waiting and was driven to the home of the latter gentleman on West Broadway, where he met his cousin, Mrs. Mary Van Antwerp, her daughter, Miss Harriet, both of St. Louis, the members of Mr. Van Antwerp's family and a few other friends. The gathering was wholly informal, Mr. Bryan remaining at the Van Antwerp home until it was time for him to depart for Liberty park, where the program incident to the formal opening of the Chautauqua, heretofore printed in the Democrat-Sentinel, was being carried out.

The big tent where the meetings are held is just north of the Third street entrance and faces Park avenu. There were between 1,800 and 2,000 people present when Mr. Bryan was introduced to the audience by the Hon. John T. Heard. The speaker was given a magnificent ovation and is speaking as the Democrat-Sentinel goes to press.

Program Friday, July 19. Landis Day.

9:30 a. m. Devotional hour.
10:30 a. m. Bible study lecture, "Ways to Study the Bible"—Prof. F. K. Farr.
2:00 p. m. Concert Chautauqua orchestra.
2:30 p. m. Lecture-recital—Wallace Bruce Amsbary, the well-known literary humorist.
7:30 p. m. Concert Chautauqua orchestra.
8:00 p. m. Lecture, "A Decade in Washington"—Hon. C. B. Landis, Indiana's brilliant congressman.

Wallace Bruce Amsbary is an author, humorist, lecturer and reader. Rather an unusual combination, says the Chautauquan, but the writer has never heard anything better in an interpretive recital than Mr. Amsbary's "Captain of the Margurite vot sails der Kankakee," as given by Mr. Amsbary. It is just one of his own "Ballads of Bourbonnais, those delightful poems written in the quaint French-Canadian dialect, that are so much out of the ordinary and delightfully humorous.

Amsbary's other lecture—recitals from the works of Field, Riley, Cable, Harris and Kipling—gives the hearers a new insight into the beauties of the writings of these authors. Most of Mr. Amsbary's selections are humorous ones, but there is a serious purpose behind the bubbling humor of all of his captivating stories. Don't fail to hear him.

Hon. Charles B. Landis is Indiana's brilliant congressman. Mr. Landis is one of the ablest debaters in the house, and as an orator he has few equals on the platform.

Having served his state for the past dozen years in the house of representatives, he will tell of the most interesting things that have happened during a "Decade in Washington."

Mr. Landis has a great theme. Think of all the wonderful events that have occurred in the nation's great workshop during the past ten years, the interesting side glimpses that Mr. Landis will be able to give of our most noted public men, humorous incidents of great statesmen and inside views of Washington life.

All of these things will make a great lecture, a most valuable lecture and a highly entertaining lecture, for it will be delivered in the unapproachable "Landis" way. Don't fail to hear the eloquent congressman.

Mrs. Paradis' Father No Better.

Mrs. Joseph Paradis and children, who went to Kansas City some time ago on account of the illness of Mrs. Paradis' father, have returned home. The patient is no better; instead, he is gradually growing weaker, and the end at any time would not surprise the relatives.

A FREAK CHILD IS BORN

IS SHAPED LIKE THE PROVERBIAL MERMAID OF FABLE AND FICTION.

'TIS A PUZZLE FOR PHYSICIANS

A Case Reported From Elkins, West Virginia, That Has Brought Great Distress to the Parents.

Elkins, W. Va., July 18.—Shaped like the proverbial mermaid of fable and fiction, a daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Campbell, of this city, is puzzling the local physicians.

Although the infant has two distinct leg bones there is but one leg, 10 toes and one heel.

Abnormal as the infant is from the waist down it seems to enjoy the vitality of the ordinary infant.

Its shape, too, is out of the ordinary. Its body literally describes a triangle, the one leg curving up toward the head.

The child has no power as yet to straighten the one member out into the usual recumbent position.

Although distressed by this birth freak, the parents find some hope in the skill of the surgeons to give the child the use of both legs by a severance operation.

MURDERS WOMAN'S BROTHER

Kansas City Man Opposed Attentions to His Sister.

Kansas City, Mo., July 18.—Andrew Schawbaker was killed by Frank Hansel, a butcher, at the home of Mrs. Lizzie Sterrett, a sister of Schawbaker, in Kansas City, Kas., last night, as a result of a quarrel due to Hansel's attentions to Mrs. Sterrett in spite of Schawbaker's opposition. Hansel beat out Schawbaker's brains with a club.

Mrs. Sterrett, who witnessed the tragedy, said her brother attacked Hansel with a knife. Other witnesses deny this.

AUTOS MET HEAD-ON

One Man Was Killed and Two Injured at Coney Island.

New York, July 18.—While rushing along at express train speed, two automobiles filled with merrymakers returning from Coney Island crashed head-on early today on the dimly lighted ocean parkway, and as a consequence Thomas F. Donovan, of New York, is dead, impaled on the spokes of his own machine.

The machines were reduced to scrap iron.

Trotted Three Fast Leads.

Early Alice, who won fame and the coin last season with Mayor Daly's string of goers, won the 2:08 trot yesterday at Libertyville, Ill., in three straight heats, says the Nevada Post. Time, 2:10½, 2:10½ ad 2:10. Mr. Taylor, who handled Early Alice last year, is also driving her again this season.

SHE ANSWERED THE 'AD'

FOR A HOUSEMAID AND HER GENERAL APPEARANCE GOT HER THE PLACE.

SOMETHING DOING AT EARLY DATE

A Pretty Columbus, Ohio, Girl and Her Brother Robbed Her Employers of Diamonds and Other Jewels.

Columbus, Ohio, July 18.—Detectives Harry James and Hugh McNeal have solved the mysterious diamond robbery at the home of Dr. F. W. Townsend, 104 West Second avenue, by the arrest of pretty Marie Foley and her brother, Joseph, son and daughter of a well-known undertaker. Both have confessed, and, according to their stories, have been working together on similar games before.

On the evening of the robbery Marie answered an advertisement at the Townsend residence for a domestic. Because of her excellent manners and pretty face she was hired immediately.

The family left the house later in the evening, leaving the newly employed maid in charge. When they returned she was gone, as were also diamonds and other jewelry valued at $1,000. There was not the slightest clew to who she was further than that she had a yellow dog. That also disappeared.

Two detectives have been working on the case since and were rewarded yesterday. When Joe was brought in he was informed that his sister had confessed, and he told where the hiding place was beneath the Third avenue bridge across the Olentangy river.

A trip there proved he was telling the truth, as a jewel box containing about $800 worth of swag was found.

The girl said that they had worked three other places along the same line that netted them about $100 in jewelry and money. Joe took the part of watching the want columns of the papers and, it is said, planned the jobs.

The girl is exceptionally good-looking, likes stylish clothes, and from her appearance when brought in knows how to wear them. Their relatives are highly respected and belong to pioneer families

CLOSE OF HAYWOOD TRIAL

Opening Argument of Counsel Tomorrow Morning.

Boise. Idaho, July 18.—The defense in the Haywood case rested immediately after court opened this morning, and without calling a single witness in sub-rebuttal.

Judge Wood announced that the opening argument for the state would be made by Mr. Hawley tomorrow morning.

The jury was not brought into court today, the day being given over to a consideration of the instructions to be given by the court.

On this subject the judge heard the views of opposing counsel, who were requested to give their opinions as to materiality of the evidence showing deportation and the employment of detectives by the mine owners and citizens of Colorado.

The court session this morning was given up to Attorney Darrow, who in behalf of Haywood, argued that a showing of the deportations from Cripple Creek during the strike and the connection of Pinkertons and hired "gun men" should be allowed to go to the jury. Darrow charged the mine owners and detectives with planning the fake wreck on the Florence and Cripple Creek railway, with the blowing up of the Independence depot and with fostering riot and disorder through hired thugs. He charged the Independence explosion directly to J. C. Sterling, a detective of the mine owners.

Darrow was impassioned and hurled invective without stint at the dedetectives and Orchard, and closed with a whirlwind appeal for the right to show a conspiracy against the Western Federation of Miners.

Borah will reply to Darrow's arguments this afternoon.

Mr. Capen Got Contract.

J. A. Capen has been awarded the contract for doing the electrical wiring for the Chautauqua at Liberty park.

Walter Black and family have moved to Sedalia. says the Houstonian. Walter has secured a lucrative position with the Sedalia Hardware and Grocery company. where he will have charge of the hardware department.

Cloudburst in Vienna.

Vienna, July 18.—A terrible cloudburst occurred here yesterday and all the streets are flooded. It is said the outlying suburbs of Neuweldogg and Hernals are destroyed and that there were many victims.

TRAGEDY NUMBER TWO

OLD SWEETHEART OF ALLEGED WIFE MURDERER ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

FOUND ON FIRST WIFE'S GRAVE

Had Taken Strychnine, but May Recover—Attempt Followed Arrest of Fred N. Magill, Charged With Heinous Crime.

Clinton, Ill., July 18.—Mrs. Mabel Parrett, who is said to be an old sweetheart of Fred N. Magill, who with his bride is a prisoner at San Diego on the charge of murdering his first wife, was found unconscious last night on the grave of Mrs. Pet Magill, the alleged victim.

Mrs. Parrett had taken strychnine, but it is said she may recover. The woman has been separated from her husband, and the alleged cause was Magill's attentions to her.

The body of the first Mrs. Magill was exhumed last night and an analysis of the stomach will be made for traces of poison.

CABINET MINISTERS RESIGN

Emperor Very Angry at Being Advised to Abdicate.

Seoul. July 18.—The cabinet ministers have resigned. It is reported that the emperor was very angry at the ministers on account of their having advised him to abdicate.

He said he occupied the throne by right inherited from his ancestors, and his subjects had no authority to advise his dethronement.

Marquis Ito. in compliance with the emperor's urgent desire to see him, proceeded to the palace this afternoon.

Tokio, July 18.—It is said here that it is very probable that the emperor of Korea will abdicate in favor of the crown prince as a first step toward reform in Korea.

Seoul. July 18.—Placards were posted today in the public thoroughfare calling for the death of all Japanese officials in Seoul. The ministers were strongly guarded and every precaution has been taken to prevent riots and attacks upon officials.

A FORMER MISSOURIAN

Under Arrest in Oklahoma for Murder of 27 Years Ago.

Special to Democrat-Sentinel.

Hobart, Okla., July 18.—The sheriff of Macon county, Mo., arrived here today to take back W. S. Davidson, of this city, who is wanted for a murder committed in Missouri twenty-seven years ago.

It is said Davidson was convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment. but made his escape.

Davidson has lived here a long time and stands high His friends are confident it is a case of mistaken identity.

Local Musician to Assist.

D. A. Barnett, the electrician-musician, leaves Sunday for Concordia to assist the Concordia band in rendering music for a picnic to be given there on the Sabbath.

CONFESSED TO MURDER

THE CHILDREN WERE THREATENED

With Death if They Told What They Knew—Woman in the Case Had Been Married Eight Times.

Kalamazoo, Mich., July 18.—Assisting in laying a plot for the murder of her husband and playing an important part in the ghastly crime; washing the blood from the floor and aiding in the removal of his body; even watching the burial of the remains in a secluded spot in the woods, then marrying the man who struck the murderous blow. is all a part of a confession made by Mrs. William Washburn, aged 38, when arrested by officers at Vicksburg this county.

The crime, she declares, was committed eight years ago near Sparta. Mich. She sent her husband to town on an errand and then had William Schimmel hide behind a door in the home. When the husband returned she started a quarrel and Schimmel rushed from back of the door and struck him over the head. The blow did not kill him, and he was dragged into another room by the couple and killed.

His name was Charles Reynolds. The women told the people of the village that her husband had suddenly left home and he was soon forgotten. The two left Sparta and soon after married.

Her two children were awakened by the death struggle and threatened if they ever said a word about the crime they would be killed also. The couple came to this county to reside. and about two years ago she secured a divorce from Schimmel.

Recently Schimmel was arrested in Grand Haven charged with the murder of a merchant there. The crime was committed a little over a year ago The crime was a cold-blooded one; the merchant being shot down at night without warning and robbed.

Schimmel's desire to talk about the affair led to his arrest, and through him the officers learned of the former crime. The confession of the woman was secured after hours of continual sweating. She says she has been married eight times. About a month ago she married William Washburn, aged 26, of this city. She was taken to Grand Haven and lodged in jail.

GOOD LOCAL COAL MINE

Is Being Operated Between Dresden and Lamonte.

The Schenck coal mine, situated midway between Dresden and Lamonte and directly on the main road. is putting out a fine quality of coal.

It is operated by Fred Schenck, the owner, and Martin Bros., and they are now raising about 200 bushels each day, a sufficient quantity for the threshing demands.

This fall the number of miners will be increased, as well as the quantity of coal raised.

The vein being worked is found at a depth of about thirty feet, and is twenty-eight inches in thickness. The quality of coal is said to be the best for all purposes of any mine in the county.

PARDON OF MRS. BIRDSONG

Special to Democrat-Sentinel.

Jackson, Miss., July 18.—Governor Vardaman today pardoned Mrs. A A. Birdsong, who was recently convicted of the killing of Dr. Butler, and was sentenced to five years' imprisonment in the penitentiary .

Another Cashier Goes Up.

Manila, July 18.—P. O. Mulford, former cashier of the defunct American bank at Manila, was today sentenced to imprisonment for eight years and ten months on conviction of having falsified notes.

GAME LAW A FARCE.

The plain and truthful statement of the new game law, given to the public by Hon. H. R. Walmsley, which was printed in the Democrat-Sentinel yesterday evening, certainly demonstrates very plainly that Missouri has taken a step backward along the lines on which nearly every other state in the union is progressing.

No doubt there were some improvements that could have been made in the old law, but it would have been much better to have left it as it was, even with the imperfections that existed, rather than to have really turned the game and fish, even now sadly depleted, over to the market hunter and fisherman to exterminate as quickly as opportunity offers.

The so-called safeguards provided for under the new law amount to but little, in fact, possess no restraining power on any but the real sportsman, who will respect them from an exalted sense of honor and pride in the fact that he does.

They will have no effect on the man who hunts or fishes for gain, for he cannot fail to recognize the undisputed fact that detection of law violation is almost impossible, and conviction, even if detected, absolutely so.

The legislature, however, reached the heighth of incongruity when it provided for a game warden at an expense of $4.000 a year, when there are no duties for that officer to perform.

It would seem, from a careful examination of this piece of legislation, that the general assembly was influenced by personal enmity against the former warden, who had by strict enforcement of the former law antagonized many, or else was consciously or unconsciously following the bidding of the game dealers' organization, which it is well known fought vigorously against game protection of any kind.

That they succeeded is much to be regretted, as it gives the vagabond slaughterer another two years at least in which to carry on his work of brigandish extermination.

Two years hence, if public sentiment is aroused as it should be, we may hope that the acts of the last session will be rescinded and a statute that will provide real protection passed.

BURNING THE BRIDGE.

Collier's Weekly plunges into the question of domestic happiness with a fearlessness which the president at least must commend. The magazine argues that the evils of race suicide and the scarcity of domestic servants are closely co-related, and maintains that if some student of sociology would solve the problem of supplying society with an abundance of servant irls, the problem which bothers the esident the most would solve self.

Collier's further maintains that the American school system also is at fault in causing so much unhappiness in the home. The following philippic is hurled at the frivolities of the home and the shortcomings of the school:

"A young woman who has more experience and more skill in bridge than in cooking or in housekeeping is a pathetic figure, for which the responsibility is divisible between a mother who has pitiably filed to understand her duty, and a school system which has not had intelligent public opinion directed on its curriculum for more than a century. Simple living, of course, will help. Elaborate entertaining, which is, as a rule, without reason, except to administer to the vanity of the hostess, entails that extra work and the upsetting of domestic order and routine which most often causes servants to prefer the fixed hours and regular routine of factories and stores.

"For bridge the is no palliation. Mothers, the fault of whose own early training have left them with vacuous minds, by their playing cause no more loss to the world than their own time, which is more or less valuable at best. But to teach her young daughter to play in order to make up a four and minister to her own dissipation, is a selfish crime. To take for this purpose evening hours that might be given to music, which makes for a softer and finer humanity; or, worse still, daylight hours, which might be spent in that outdoor activity which is essential to fit her for the most important business in life, is a wrong for which no amount of training in empty conventions can atone."

BUTTERMILK AND COCKTAILS.

The politicial puzzle of the hour seems to be whether Fairbanks will run on a buttermilk or a cocktail platform. The cracked ice statesman appears to have joined the ranks of those who dally with drinks that are mixed, thereby causing the greatest alarm in the ranks of the fresh water and buttermilk committee.

For several weeks the country was treated to a series of homely stories of the vice president of the United States going about in his travels in his simple way, stopping here and there at a farm yard to refresh himself with the beverage which the maid of the churn had to offer. The simple tales had what the novelists call heart interest, and the Fairbanks boom waxed strong on its buttermilk diet.

But it so happened that a vice president with higher aspirations mingles with other personages than the simple folk of the farm and dairy. On Memorial day, for instance, at the occasion of the unveiling of the Lawton monument, Mr. Fairbanks, the lover of buttermilk, invited as his guests a number of the nation's luminaries extraordinary, among them President Roosevelt himself. And it further happened that the drinks which were served were not cold and nourishing buttermilk; instead, they were the light cocktail!

The Fairbanks boom which soared so gloriously has been punctured. The followers of the lean and thirsty Indianian are divided into the buttermilk and cocktail factions, and somehow the two don't mix. The prohibition and the Methodist wings say: "Avaunt, thou bibulous cocktail sipper!" while the gay and fraternal good fellows say: "Alas, thou white and childish buttermilk inebriate!"

After all, just because a man is a candidate for the presidency, is there any reason why he should not drink buttermilk or cocktails as he chooses?

But it's a bitter war, a merry tournament, a fight to the finish, a joyous joust between the cocktail and buttermilk.

ILL FROM OVERWORK

When the nervous system is broken down from overwork, or whatever cause, life loses its joys. Not only is the nervous victim a sufferer himself but he is usually a trial to the whole family. Nervous breakdown is often gradual, appearing at first to be merely an unusual fretfulness. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills tone up the nerves in the most direct way and not only cure minor troubles but serious disorders as well.

Mr. W. W. Munroe, of 16 Hazel Park, Everett, Mass., says: "About four years ago this September I became all run down from overwork and from confinement to work during warm weather. For two months I grew steadily worse. I lost in weight and strength and had no appetite. My memory failed me quite rapidly and I became in a very low state, both physically and mentally. I took no interest in life, neither in business nor recreation. In my position, as foreman in a large manufacturing chemist's establishment in Boston, a good memory is absolutely essential to success because of the immense amount of detail that must be carried in the head.

"I grew very despairing, could not bear to have people meet me and my friends remarked on my condition. About the middle of December a friend told me one day that he had tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and found them reliable. I commenced taking them and at the end of two weeks the change for the better was remarked by friends. I continued using the pills until I was thoroughly recovered. I regard them as a fine remedy and make this statement voluntarily in gratitude for the benefit I received from them."

These pills actually make new blood and have cured such diseases as rheumatism, nervous and general debility, indigestion, nervous headache, neuralgia and even partial paralysis and locomotor ataxia. As a tonic for the blood and nerves they are unequalled.

If you are a sufferer from any disorder of the blood and nerves write for proof of what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have accomplished in cases similar to yours. Every testimonial used by this company is carefully investigated before being published and is authentic.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or direct by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

"GO AHEAD," SAID MOTHER

When Girl Threatened Suicide and Leaped Into the Water.

Lockport, N. Y., July 17.—Because her mother scolded her Harriet Prosser, 17 years old, of Sulphur Springs, committed suicide by jumping into the Erie canal.

The girl was sitting in front of a saloon adjacent to her home. "This is no place for you to be," reprimanded the mother, taking her by the hand and starting home.

The girl broke away and started toward the canal, saying: "I am going to jump into the canal and drown myself."

Not having the least suspicion that her daughter would carry out the threat Mrs. Prosser said: "Go ahead."

A moment later the mother was horror stricken to see her daughter hurl herself into the stream. She never rose to the surface.

vs.

Harry J. Stoops and Sadie Stoops ....Defendants.

Now, at this day come the plaintiffs herein, by their attorneys, Shain and Barnett, and file their petition and affidavit, alleging among other things that defendants are non-residents of the state of Missouri, and that the ordinary process of law cannot be served upon them in this state;

Whereupon it is ordered by the clerk in vacation that said defendants be notified by publication that plaintiffs have commeced a suit against them in this court by attachment, the object and general nature of which is to recover judgment against the defendants for the sum of twelve hundred and fifty dollars ($1250.00) for real estate commission and for costs of this suit, and unless the said defendants, Harry J. Stoops and Sadie Stoops, be and appear at this court, at the next term thereof for the trial of civil cases, to be begun and holden at the court house, in the city of Sedalia, in said county, on the first Monday of October, next, and on or before the first day of said term, answer or plead to the petition in said cause, the same will be taken as confessed and judgment will be rendered accordingly.

And it is further ordered that a copy hereof be published, according to law, in the Weekly Democrat-Sentinel, a newspaper printed and published in Pettis county, Missouri, and designated by the plaintiffs four weeks successively, the last insertion whereof shall be at least fifteen days before the commencement of the said October term of this court.

STONE FELLED PREACHER

Then Hood Paynter Beat Him Most Brutally in Kentucky.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., July 17.—In Menifee county, on Hawkins' Branch, Hood Paynter, while drunk, assaulted Rev. George Daugherty, a speaker at a Sunday school convention, and probably fatally injured him.

Paynter struck the minister in the head with a huge stone, and when he fell unconscious beat him brutally, it is said. Paynter was lodged in jail at Frenchburg, and the feeling is high against him. He is a member of a prominent family.

Daugherty, who is 65 years old, is one of the best known men in the mountains. He is suffering from internal injuries and may die. The assault is said to have been unprovoked.

HE SAW DEATH IN VISION

STRANGE PHYSICAL COMMUNION BETWEEN MAN AND FATHER.

HIS DREAM TRUE IN ALL DETAILS

The Rev. Henry Rollings Will Postpone a Trip and Tell of His Experiences While Sleeping Recently.

New York, July 17.—Rev Henry Rollings, now taking a special course as a medical missionary in the New York Homeopathic Medical college, has had an experience which may result in the postponement of his actual labors after his graduation until he can be induced by the several psychicol societies in the large cities to describe the remarkable mental condition into which he fell when he saw, as in a vision, his father at the point of death when the father was 3,000 miles away. The deathbed scene was corroborated two weeks after in every detail in a letter from England.

Dr. Rollings received a theological education in England and was ordained in the Established church. He was appointed curate of St. Andrews parish in Rochester, N. Y., of which the Rev. Algernon S. Crapsey was the rector. Dr. Rollings said:

"My father was Goeffrey Rollings, of Bedfordshire, England, and between us the tie of consanguinity was strong. After a particularly arduous day, I threw myself on a bed exhausted. I fell into a slumber from which I was awakened by a vivid picture. I sat up in bed and saw my father as distinctly as I ever saw him in my life and heard him call out, 'My boy, my boy, I am dying.'

"Two weeks from that da a letter came from England telling of the death of my father at the exact hour and day when I had seen him and with the additional information that just before he breathed his last he had seen me standing at his bedside."

Farther describing his experience, Dr. Rolling said:

"The picture that was presented to me was that of my father lying in bed in a room I did not recognize. I saw all my relatives there except my sister and woudered why she was absent at such a moment. The scene was as sharp and plain as if I had been in the auditorium of a playhouse watching the actors on the stage.

"I saw my father sink back on the pillows and I knew that he was dead. Then my second self, or whatever you see fit to call it, seemed to resolve itself back into my material body and I awakened, arose from the bed and cried out that my father was dead. I was told that I was suffering from nervous prostration and should return to bed. I obeyed and fell asleep for about eight hours. When I got up the vision of my father came to me in my waking hours with greater vividness than when I saw it in my sub-conscious state.

"The letter announcing my father's death told us that the family had removed from the old homestead to another house in Bedfordshire which I never had seen. Subsequent inquiry showed that the room as I saw it in my strange mental condition was precisely as it was in fact. My sister's absence, as I learned at the same time and which made a marked impression upon me, was due to illness."

Dr. Rollings came to the United States with Bishop Sullivan, whose ecclesiastical title was the Colonial Bishop of the Church of England. His first experience was among the Hudson Bay Indians. He had no superstitions and did not believe in hallucinations except those that came from an impaired digestion, so that his subsequent experiences, attested as they were by documentary evidenc, are all more startling.

Dr. Rollings' whole life has been devoted to study and he was so ignorant of business forms that he fell and easy victim to Dave Rothschild, to whom he intrusted a sum of money intended originally for the education of his son in college. In addition to what he deposited in the federal bank he turned over $700 in cash to the president of the bank without taking any receipt.

After his investments with the Rothschild gang had about impoverished him he went to Rochester.

Order of Publication.

STATE OF MISSOURI, } ss
County of Pettis.

Mary Ann Jones.....Plaintiff
vs.
Robert William Jones, a minor;.. Delia Bodem and William E. Bodem, her husband; Dollie Davenport and Joseph C. Davenport, her husband; Leeta A. Harness and John A. Harness, her husband; Charles McCloskey and J. C. McLaughlin.....Defendants

Now, on this day, this cause coming on, and it appearing to the court that J. C. McLaughlin and Delia Bodem, William E. Bodem and Charles McCloskey were duly and personally served with process in Pettis county, Missouri, more than thirty days before the first day of this term of court, and although being served with process they have failed to file any answer or otherwise appear in this cause, and being solemnly, called, come not, but make default.

It is, therefore, ordered and adjudged by the court that the said petition as to them be taken as confessed and that interlocutory judgment by default is hereby rendered against each of said defendants. And it appearing to the court by the affidavit of George Barnett, junior one of the attorneys for the plaintiff in this case, that the defendants Robert William Jones, Dollie Davenport and Joseph C. Davenport, Leeta Harness and John A. Harness are non-residents of this state and cannot be served in this state, and that the ordinary process of law cannot be served upon them.

Wherefore, it is ordered by the court that the said non-residents be notified by publication that a suit has been commenced against them in this court, the object and general nature of which is to cause to be partitioned among the parties to this suit in proportion to their respective interests, to be declared by the court, the following described real estate, situated in Pettis county, Missouri, to-wit:

Commencing at the northeast corner of Lot A of Ritter's addition to the City of Sedalia, Missouri, running thence west along the south line of 18th street in said city, one hundred twenty-eight (128) feet, thence south to the north line of the right of way of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad, thence along the north line of said right of way in a northeasterly direction to the west line of Moniteau avenue, thence north along the west line of said avenue to the place of beginning, all in the city of Sedalia, Missouri. And the petition alleges that said property is not susceptible of partition in kind on account of its situation and the number of parties therein, and prays to have said property sold and the proceeds thereof divided, and that unless said non-resident defendants be and appear at this court at the next term thereof, for the trial of civil cases to be begun and holden at the court house in the city of Sedalia, in said county, on the first Monday of October next and on or before the first day of said term answer or plead to the petition in said cause, the same will be taken as confessed and judgment rendered accordingly.

It is further ordered that a copy hereof be published, according to law in the Weekly Democrat-Sentinel, a newspaper printed and published in Pettis county, Missouri, and designated by the plaintiff, four weeks successively, the last insertion whereof shall be at least fifteen days before the commencement of said October term of this court.

Attest: C. W. DAUGHERTY.
(Seal) Circuit Clerk.

A true copy from the record.

Bellbar to Race Again.

The great Bellbar, 37180, registered in A. T. R. volume 17, will be at the state fair grounds this fall, but this is to be his last season here, as he will race next year in the grand circuit and will not be in the stud.

Parties desiring to breed to a race horse will do well to investigate the breeding of Bellbar. He is a son of Escobar, by Expedition, by Electioneer 125, by Hambletonian, 10. His dam is Rhodena, by Edward F. Bell, by Ashland Wilkes 2291. So there cannot be a more fashionable bred stallion in Missouri or any other state.

Bellbar as an individual is a splendid representative of his superb breeding. He stands 16 hands high, weighs 1250 pounds, and is remarkably stout at every point. He is smooth in conformation for an animal his size. His color is a dark mahogany bay, with black points.

Bellbar worked a little while in the stud last year, but was compelled to retire because of overtraining. He trotted a full mile in 2:27½, and is expected to be a sensational performer in the Grand circuit next season.

Cole Camp Items

Cole Camp, Mo., July 17.

Business has been very dull for the last two weeks. Our farmers were too busy to come to town.

Threshing has commenced in the neighborhood west of town and so far wheat has yielded very good, but oats are light, on account of rust.

John Bruns and wife arrived last week from Bensonville, Ill., and will visit their parents for about six weeks. Then they will go to New Orleans, La., where he has been assigned by the Lutheran conference to teach school.

Herman Eckhoff, of Lincoln, was here last week attending the Valley Telephone Co. meeting, in which company he is a director.

Dr. N. A. Schwald's wife has presented him with a baby girl. Mother and child are doing well.

Mrs. A. J. Kreisel has commenced building a fine residence. J. H. Eckhoff is the contractor.

Mrs. H. L. Mahnken will have a public sale Saturday next, and then she will move to Colorado, where her husband has employment.

Gerd Muller shipped last Monday five loads of cattle and hogs to the St. Louis market and four loads of hogs to the Kansas City market. George Keiffer, the lumberman, accompanied them to St. Louis, and Ed Mullen to Kansas City.

Hy Buchholz has sold his farm to John Shell and purchased a lot of D. Mullen and will make our town his future home.

Our city fathers have given orders to build all along on the main streets granitoid sidewalks where the old board walks are rotten and defective.

Plenty of rain since last Sunday, and our farmers are wearing new faces since last week.

Not very good weather for making hay, but what is lost in hay will be made up in corn.

Some of our citizens are already talking of having a street fair in 1908. That's right. Push it along. It will surely help the town.

The New Routes Will Be Known as Nos. 7 and 8—A Detailed Description of Each Is Herewith Presented.

The postoffice department at Washington is figuring on establishing two additional rural routes out of Sedalia. The proposed new routes will make a slight change in the present rural service. It is contemplated that one of the new routes (No. 8) will absorb a part of the present route No. 2. The latter route will be thrown over to the road east of it and as rearranged will serve a larger number of persons than at present. Following are the directions to be followed by the proposed routes:

Detailed description of rural route No. 7—Starting at the postoffice the carrier will go thence: South on Lamine street to Sixteenth street ⅞ mile; east on Sixteenth street to Summit street, 9-16 mile; south on Summit street to Twentieth street, ¼ mile; east on Twentieth street to Engineer street. 1-16 mile; south on Engineer street to Twenty-fourth street, ¼ mile; east on Twenty-fourth street to New York avenue, ¼ mile; south on New York avenue to corporate limits, ⅛ mile; south to the Wright corner, ⅞ mile; east and southerly on irregular road to Alcorn corner, 2½ miles; east to the Franklin corner, ¾ mile; southerly to the Huffman corner, 1⅝ miles; west to the Yarber corner, 1 mile; south, east and south to the Smasel corner, 2¼ miles; east to the W. N. While here Mr. Burchfield had a conference with Col. J. R. Rippey, secretary of the Missouri State Fair, with a view to his company making an exhibit at the fair.

KILLED BY AN OFFICER

HE TRIED TO CLEAN UP THE TOWN

Depopulated Railway Station and Started in on Business Houses. When Night Watchman Shot Him Through Heart.

Special to Democrat-Sentinel

Holden. Mo.. July 17.—Last night, when Missouri Pacific train No. 5 arrived here a man, evidently a foreigner, alighted, and as soon as the train pulled out proceeded to create a disturbance in the station. The man was evidently drunk or demented, as he ran everyone out of the building under threats of death, emphasizing his threats by flourishing a revolver.

After having succeeded in driving everyond from the station he proceeded up the business street and started to clean out all the business houses and was in a fair way to success, when "Dad" Riley, the night watchman, was called, who endeavored to place him under arrest. The stranger resisted and started to shoot the officer, when the latter pulled his gun and shot him through the heart, death resulting instantly.

No one here knows who the dead man was. He was dark complexioned. with black hair. of medium height, and was neatly dressed.

From his broken talk used when he was threatening the people it is gathered that he was a foreigner.

Prosecuting Attorney Cockrell. of Warrensburg, arrived this morning, but Mr. Riley has not been arrested, and it is thought he will not be, as the killing was purely one of self defense and in the line of official duty.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablet—coaxes blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, pleasingly delightful. Gently, though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure.

If it's painful periods with women, same cause.

If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

Bruise your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's simply Common Sense.

DOPED BY BARKEEPER

Who Deserted Him in Chicago, Accused of Embezzling $800.

Mansfield. Ohio. July 17.—William Mull, the saloon keeper. who left here June 25 with $800 secured from Renner & Weber, a brewing company, returned to the city yesterday and was captured by the police at the home of his father, east of the city.

The affidavit against him charges grand larceny, he having made away with money loaned him by the brewery for use in cashing pay checks of workmen. Mull when he went away was accompanied by his bartender, Joshua Kneeland, who is still missing.

Mull claims that he was "doped" by Kneeland and did not realize what he was doing when he went away with the money. Also that when the two reached Chicago Kneeland took the balance of the $800 and cut loose from him, leaving him with a railroad ticket to Los Angeles. He thinks he was again "doped," as he did not come to his right mind until the train was nearing Denver.

He told a pitiful story about being sick three weeks at Huntington, Ind.. and being driven almost insane by worry. The accused man was released on bond and there is a possibility that he will not be prosecuted.

TOUCHED A LIVE WIRE

William Myers, a Lineman, Died From His Injuries.

William P. Myers, a "trouble" man for the Home Telephone company, went over to the West Side this morning to look for "breaks" in the telephone wires, caused by the electrical storm this week, says Tuesday's Kansas City Times.

At 11:30 o'clock Myers, seated on a board, was pushing his way by means of a lineman's trolley that was suspended from a telephone cable at Central and Simpson avenues.

His progress was suddenly stopped at that point by cables of feed wires for the Kansas City-Leavenworth line, crossing under the telephone cable. Myers undertook to avoid the feed wires by sliding along the telephone cables above. In some way his feet struck the feed wires. He threw up his hands, his body writhed and twisted a moment. Then he fell to the street, tweny-five feet below.

Fully fifty people passing along Central avenue saw the accident. They ran to him and carried him into Will's drug store at Central and Simpson avenues. Dr. Alexander Hamilton and Dr. H. E. Smith, who were among the witnesses to the accident, began working on him, but their efforts were in vain. There was a red belt burned about his wrist and another on his legs. He died at 1:40 o'clock.

MRS. GOULD GETS DIVORCE

But She Must Settle With Count Boni's Creditors.

Paris, July 16.—The appeal of Count Boni de Castellane from the decision of the court, November 14, granting a divorce to the Countess Boni de Castellane, formerly Miss Anna Gould, was dismissed yesterday afternoon and a final decree of divorce duly entered.

Although the count has still sixty days in which to appeal, the judgment of yesterday is regarded as final, as negotiations have been practically concluded by which Mme. Gould is to settle the cases of the creditors against herself and the count.

LETTER CAME TOO LATE

DESPONDENT. A PROFESSIONAL MAN LEFT THREE HOURS TOO EARLY.

COULD STAND STRAIN NO LONGER

This Was What Was in the Note That He Left—Wife Refuses to Believe That He Has Committed Self-Destruction.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 18.—Depressed by financial troubles. Semer G. Wells, a prominent attorney of Minneapolis, has disappeared.

Had he waited three hours longer he would have found all his troubles dissipated by the arrival of a draft for what amounts to a comfortable fortune and a settlement of all his financial difficulties.

Wells has been engaged in the manufacture of sanitary couches. For some time business has been poor. He left a note at his office, saying he could stand the strain no longer.

Just three hours afterward his partner received the letter containing the draft for the money, for which Wells had been longing.

His wife refuses to believe her husband commited suicide and is doing everything in her power to find him. saying she will expend all of the newly acquired wealth to bring him back. The police are searching for the body.

one of the chief emancipating factors, and through which alone present material advantages are gained for the wage-working class, and recognizing, too, that the free use of the ballot by the workers is made possible only through their economic organization, and that, therefore, disloyalty to the wage-worker on the economic field is likewise disloyalty to their interests on the political field. Now,

Whereas, Charles Schmidt, a member of the Sedalia Local of the socialist party, having betrayed his class on the economic field by accepting employment in the sheet metal department of the Missouri Pacific shops at a time when the employes in said department were out on a strike for an increase in wages, and,

Whereas, the said Charles Schmidt has, by his action, violated the most sacred principle of socialism, viz., loyalty to the working class; therefore be it

Resolved, by Sedalia Local, that the said Charles Schmidt be and is hereby expelled from the socialist party.

Resolved, that notice of our action be sent to the state and national secretaries of the socialist party, St. Louis Labor, the secretary of local No. 333, Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers' International Alliance, and the Sedalia Federation of Labor.

HIS CROPS ARE FINE

Those of J. O. De Haven, Five Miles West of Sedalia.

J. O. De Haven, who farms five miles west of Sedalia, has a most promising prospect for a bountiful crop of all kinds.

Last week he threshed his wheat crop of forty acres and had 762 bushels of No. 2 wheat, which tested 61½ pounds and for which he received 78 cents per bushel. He had it threshed and delivered to market before the rain set in.

Mr. De Haven has 160 acres of most promising corn. Forty acres is already tasseled out and is silking, while the balance of 120 acres is too large to plow and has been laid by. He has also fifteen acres of pop corn, waist high, which promises a large and profitable yield.

APACHE TRIBE MEETING

Four New Members and Committee Named for Street Carnival.

Apache tribe of Red Men Tuesday night passed upon a number of applications and admitted by card four members, viz: H. H. Kroencke, Max Lauterbach, Will Carl and J. M. Morgan.

The following chiefs were appointed a special committee to arrange for the proposed carnival, to be held here during State fair week in October: Sheriff I. N. Sprecher, Carl A. Guenther, Julie G. Schmid, Will DeBold, H. H. Edwards and W. D. O'Bannon.

The committee met at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon in Attorney O'Bannon's office in the Katie building for a general discussion of affairs pertaining to the council.

A WITNESS OUT ON BOND

A. D. MERWIN SAYS HE KNOWS NOTHING OF DEATH OF BANKER'S FIRST WIFE.

WAS FAY GRAHAM AT THE HOUSE

Investigation Shows Dead Woman Purchased Chloroform and Strychnine—Case Growing More Mysterious.

Clinton, Ill., July 17.—Assistant State Attorney Mitchell says that he has developed that Mrs. Fay Graham Magill, second wife of Frederick H. Magill, both of whom are under arrest in San Diego, Cal., charged with poisoning Magill's first wife, spent the evening at the Magill home and was seen to leave the house at 2 o'clock on the morning when Mrs. Pet Magill was found dead in bed. Mrs. Fay Magill denies that she was at the house that night.

Another feature of the investigation was the development that Mrs. Pet Magill had purchased chloroform and strychnine from local druggists.

Arthur D. Merwin, who was arrested, charged with operating a gaming house, but who, according to Attorney Mitchell, is wanted as a witness in the Magill case, is out on bail.

"There is nothing in this charge of my keeping a gambling house," said Merwin. "It will fall by the wayside, just as this gossip that connects me with the death of Mrs. Magill is bound to do.

"I was not at the Magill home until four hours after the death of Mrs. Pet Magill, and just as soon as the authorities are good enough to bring me to trial I shall show them that there is absolutely no reason to have me connected with this matter.

"I have been a good friend of Fred Magill for many years and when I found him in trouble, I was only too glad to do what I could to help him out. I lived at his house for three weeks after the death of his wife, but we never discussed the case and at no time did he make any statement that would indicate that he had any guilty knowledge of her death."

Attorney E. B. Mitchell has engaged a score of private detectives to meet the train and protect Magill from possible violence when he arrives next week. It is planned to have the accused man and his wife arrive in Clinton at 2:30 o'clock in the morning and removed from the train to the jail without the knowledge of the townspeople.

Three local druggists say that Mrs. Pet Magill bought chloroform within a few weeks preceding her death. From one she bought strychnine, saying she wanted it to rid the cellar of rats.

These bottles which had held chloreform were found empty in the room when the litter surrounding the dead body was cleared away.

The body of Mrs. Magill is still in the Magill lot in the Woodlawn cemetery, where it was interred. The body has not yet been disturbed, because of the tangles of the law that surround such a proceeding. The statute says that any person wilfully disturbing a body in any cemetery shall be liable to a sentence in the penitentiary not to exceed a year.

This law has caused the delay in the autopsy. It was deemed necessary to secure a court order granting leave to remove the body, and communication was entered into with the attorney general and he was asked his view of the case. The attorney general asked for time to consider and the matter now awaits his answer.

Judge Hill, of Clinton, has gone to Springfield to confer with W. H. Stead on the subject.

When the requirements of the law are met the body will be exhumed. The examination will be private, and there will be no witnesses except those who take part. These will be Dr. C. W. Barnes, of Decatur, and Drs. G. S. Edmonson, C. S. Bogardus, J. C. Meyers and J. M. Wilcox, of Clinton.

Coroner Jones has issued a statement explaining why a more thorough investigation of the case was not made.

Hannah Payne, A. W. Payne, J. T. Payne, Annie C. Gwin and Russell Gwin, her husband, Alice C. Payne, Phoebe C. Payne and George T. Payne, Plaintiffs.

Higgins Kelly, Frank Kelly and the unknown heirs of Higgins Kelly, and Martha Kemp and William Kemp, her husband, Susan Jenkins, Lucy Crigler and Louis Crigler, her husband, Ellen Hieronymus and John Hieronymus, her husband, Charles Kelly, Vassaline Kelly, Chestina Maddox and J. C. Maddox, her husband, Vassa Workman and E. L. Workman, her husband, Dwight Kelly, Nan Kelly and Lenell Kelly, a minor), Harmon D. Johnson and the unknown heirs of Harmon D. Johnson, William F. M. C. Giah and the unknown heirs of William F. M. C. Giah, John M. Walker and the unknown heirs of John M. Walker, William F. McGuire and Louisa C. McGuire, his wife, Defendants.

Now at this 31st day of May, 1907, and during term time, come the plaintiffs herein by their attorneys Barnett and Barnett, and file their amended petition and affidavit, alleging among other things that the defendants. Higgins Kelly, Frank Kelly and the unknown heirs of Higgins Kelly, Martha Kemp and William Kemp and Ellen Hieronymus and John Hieronymus, her husband, and Chestina Maddox and J. C. Maddox her husband, Vassa Workman and E. L. Workman, her husband, Dwight Kelly, Harmon D. Johnson and the unknown heirs of Harmon D. Johnson, William F. M. C. Giah and the unknown heirs of William F. M. C. Giah, John M. Walker and the unknown heirs of John M. Walker, and William F. McGuire and Louisa McGuire, are non residents of this state and cannot be served with the ordinary process of law in this state. And alleging that plaintiffs verily believe that there are persons interested in the subject matter of the petition whose names plaintiffs cannot insert therein because they are unknown, to-wit: The unknown heirs of Higgins Kelly and the unknown heirs of Harmon D. Johnson, the unknown heirs of William F. M. C. Giah and the unknown heirs of John M. Walker, because they are unknown to plaintiffs and plaintiffs cannot describe their interests and how derived except that the unknown heirs of Higgins Kelly derive title to the real estate herein described from Higgins Kelly, the said Higgins Kelly being one of the three brothers and heirs at law of Wesley Kelly, deceased, who died without issue and who entered the land herein described without having conveyed the same so far as the record appears, and that the unknown heirs of Harmon D. Johnson derive title to the land in question as heirs of Harmon D. Johnson, who owned the land in 1848, but who in the chain of title conveyed as Herman D. Johnson by reason of which the title did not properly pass from said Harmon D. Johnson by said conveyance.

And that the unknown heirs of William F. M. C. Giah derive title as heirs from said Giah, the said land having been conveyed by Harmon D. Johnson to F. M. C. Giah without said Giah having properly made any conveyance thereof, but having conveyed the same under the name of William McGuire. And the unknown heirs of John M. Walker derive their title from said John M. Walker by reason of said Walker holding a mortgage of $150 on said land, made in 1860, given by William F. McGuire which appears unsatisfied of record.

Wherefore, it is ordered by the court that said defendants be notified by publication that plaintiffs have commenced a suit against them in this court, the general nature and object of which is to have the record title in and to the west half of the southwest quarter of section twenty-eight (28), township forty-eight (48), range twenty-three (23), in Pettis county, Missouri, perfected in plaintiffs and that all the defendants be adjudged and decreed to have no title whatever in and to said real estate, and that all the title of defendants be divested out of them and vested in plaintiffs by virtue of the statute of limitations of the state, having run in favor of plaintiffs. And unless the said non-resident defendants be and appear at this court at the next term thereof, to be begun and holden at the court house in the city of Sedalia, in said county and state, on the first Monday of October next, and on or before the first day of said term, answer or plead to the petition in said cause, the same will be taken as confessed and judgment will be rendered accordingly.

And it is further ordered that a copy hereof be published according to law, in the Weekly Democrat-Sentinel, a newspaper printed and published in Pettis county, Missouri, and designated by the plaintiffs, four weeks successively, the last insertion whereof shall be at least thirty days before the commencement of the said October term of this court.

Attest: C. W. DAUGHERTY, Circuit Clerk.

WILL GET VERY LITTLE

THOSE WHO HAD DEPOSITS IN THE SALMON BANK AT CLINTON, MO.

THE REFEREE, CRITTENDEN, WRITES

Of the Present Condition of Affairs, And it is Certainly the Very Reverse of Encouraging Fof Depositors.

Several days since the editor of the Clinton Democrat wrote to Governor Thos. T. Crittenden, trustee of the Salmon & Salmon bank at Clinton, stating that Democrat readers would much appreciate a statement as to the present status of the Salmon & Salmon estate. In reply Governor Crittenden writes us as follows:

Kansas City, Mo., July 13, 1907.

Chas. H. Whitaker, Clinton, Mo.,

Dear Sir:—Your letter of the 8th inst., in reference to the Salmon & Salmon bank case, is at hand. I take pleasure in briefly explaining the situation in the case.

The estate has been largely reduced to money, except for two cases in litigation in which large amounts of money are involved. Possibly some little time may elapse before this litigation can be ended, but it is possible that both cases may be settled by compromise, I would go farther toward making a settlement of the cases than I otherwise would because of the fact that I would like to dispose of the case, pay out whatever amounts can be paid in dividends, and thus make full acounting to the depositors of the bank. Practically everything has been done which can be done by the officers of the court toward ending the case. The delays now are caused by other courts.

If the money now on hand were paid out in dividends, or so much of it paid out as would be practicable in the present unsettled condition of the case, the dividend would be so small a per cent that I estimate that more than one hundred of the depositors would receive less than one dollar each. I do not want to put the estate to the expense of paying more than one dividend when one would have to be such a small amount as a dividend declared at present would have to be.

You can rest assured that all funds belonging to this estate are in safe hands, and that all of the officers of the court, including myself, will welcome an opportunity to pay the funds over to the depositors at the earliest minute when such a course is reasonable and practicable. We will be glad to get the money out of our hands and the responsibility off of our shoulders.

Should you desire at any future time to learn of the condition of this or any other case in which you may be interested, do not hesitate to write me. The records of my office are open to any person interested, and I will be only too glad at any time to give the fullest information in my possession to you, and throw the sourses of information open to you. Yours very truly—Thos. T. Crittenden, Referee in Bankruptcy.

CRAZED BY BUG IN EAR

Mail Carrier, With Insect, Drives Madly Through Town.

Alto Pass, Ill., July 17.—When Ed L. Hagler, rural mail carrier, was a mile from town a Junebug blew into his ear yesterday. His efforts to dislodge the bug proved futile, and he turned and drove back toward town, the bug meanwhile boring deeper into his head. The pain caused Hagler to become irrational.

His ponies came into town in a wild gallop, with Hagler whipping them at every jump, the lines hanging free, while he held his hands to his head.

As he passed the livery stable Jesse Dufrain captured the team and took Mr. Hagler to a physician, who used a probe to kill the bug.

DEATH OF THOMAS BROOKS

Funeral From Sacred Heart Church Thursday Morning.

(Wednesday's Daily.)

Thomas B. Brooks died at 2:45 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at his home, No. 412 West Fifth street, aged 70 years.

Mr. Brooks was born at Columbia August 6, 1837, and the greater portion of his life was passed in Howard county. He came to Sedalia Dec. 5, 1906, and had lived here since.

He is survived by his widow and the following children: Ira Brooks, of New Franklin, Mo.; Mrs. Susie Quinn, of New Franklin; Mrs. Mary Riley, of Mokane; Sara Brooks, of New Franklin; Charles Brooks and Irene Brooks, of Sedalia.

Mr. Brooks was a member of the A. O. U. W. at Fayette.

The funeral will be held from the Sacred Heart Catholic church at 9 o'clock Thursday morning and the services of the requiem high mass will be conducted by the Rev. S. Neiberg, C. PP. S.

QUICK ACTION, THIS WAS

A Negro Who Was Witness to a Shooting Affray.

The quickest action ever noted by Cincinnati newspaper writer was illustrated when he reported a murder case in one of the local cases in which a negro porter on duty in the hotel was a witness of the killing.

The negro was asked how many shots he heard.

"Two shots, suh," he replied.

"How far apart were they?"

"'Bout like dissaway," he explained, clapping his hands twice, with an interval of about a second between.

"Where were you when the first shot was fired?"

"Shinin' a gentleman's shoes in de basement o' de hotel."

"Where were you when the second shot was fired?"

"I was passin' de Big Fo' depot."

TONGUE WAS SLIT

And Other Terrible Tortures Inflicted on the Faithful Coachman.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 17—Because he would not deliver to two burglars the keys of his employer's house, Frank Smith, 45 years old, a coachman in the employ of John Lehman, a wholesale meat dealer, was tortured and left for dead by his assailants.

Smith's tongue was slit with a knife and the soles of his feet were slashed in a score of places until he became unconscious. The men then threw Smith downstairs, where he was found. One arrest was made. Smith is in a critical condition.

$1,000 FOR SAVING BABY

A Territory Oil Man Grateful to a Trained Nurse.

Chicago, July 16.—Sadie L. Solander, a trained nurse of Chicago, has received $1,000 for saving the life of a millionaire's baby. The check was sent to Miss Solander by James W. Glenn, of Bartlesville, I. T., the child's father, who is one of the wealthiest men in the southwest.

When the boy became sick he was taken to Hot Springs, but as he grew weaker the services of Miss Solander were engaged and she accompanied the child to Battle Creek, Mich. She cared for him night and day until he was able to be taken home. She was paid for her services and was greatly surprised on receipt of the check for $1,000.

Miss Solander will use the money in touring Europe and making a study of methods in foreign hospitals.

BAD WEATHER FEARED

For the Two Weeks' Session of the Local Chautauqua.

Rev. Irl. Hicks, the St. Louis weather prophet, has hit it tolerably well so far in his July predictions. If the portion of the month yet to come is anything like Hicks says we had better look a little out. Rev Hicks says:

The fourth storm period will cover the 18th to the 23d, but generally the rainfall will be scattered and light, and phenomenal "water spouts" may be looked for. The culminating stormy days will be on the 20th to the 23d, followed by a change to cooler.

The fifth storm period will be central from the 24th to the 26th, the full moon falling on the 24th.

"Within forty-eight hours of the sunset on the 24th," he says, "many storms and marked seismic disturbances will be heard from in parts of the earth, so that a maximum of such phenomena may be noted. The temperature will fall after these storms."

We Started Monday Morning a Mid-Summer Sale

That Sinks in Utter Insignificance Any Offer We Ever Made

Our Annual Clothing Mid-Summer Reduction Sale is an event that hundreds of men regularly wait for, and they are never disappointed. Indeed, the inducements we offer exceed the highest expectations of the most sanguine. We never do things by halves when we cut---WE CUT DEEP. The clothing we handle is always in great demand. Our sale is a stern reality and necessary measures brought about by the immense quantities we handle each year, and our policy of selling at a loss in order that we may start each new season with a brand new stock We want to say there is nothing mysterious or even ambiguous about this clothing reduction sale. Truth needs no disguise-- facts need no establishment.

ELKS ELECTED OFFICERS

NEXT YEAR MEET IN DALLAS, TEX.

John K. Tener, of Pennsylvania. Was Chosen Grand Exalted Ruler—Facts About the Big Clambake.

Philadelphia, July 17.—Aside from the meeting of the Elks' grand lodge, the most interesting feature of Tuesday's events was the big clam bake at Washington park, on the Delaware river.

Every visiting Elk with an official badge was not only invited, but coerced into accepting the food, and their money was no good from the time they boarded boats for the park until they returned.

The following facts about the big clam bake will convey some idea of the character of this big feature of the day's entertainment:

Cost, $15,000; forty cooks, thirty laborers, 400 waiters, 20,000 persons fed, twelve miles of lumber in tables, twenty-nine car loads of food, twenty-two car loads of seaweed to cover clams, 150,000 clams, five tons of blue fish, 40,000 ears of corn, 1,000 tons of cobblestones to bake clams, 7,000 loaves of bread, 1,500 pounds of butter, 150,000 glasses of beer.

The election of these officers was officially announced last night:

Grand secretary, Frederick Robinson, Dubuque, Ia.

Grand lecturing knight, Bayard Gray, Frankfort, Ind.

Charles E. O. Pickett, Waterloo, Ia., for a term of ten years; Marc Rehner, Detroit, two years; William H. Moore, Seattle, three years; Thomas J. Cogan, Cincinnati, four years; Robert W. Brown, Louisville, five years.

The unofficial result for grand treasurer gives the election to John W. Wagner, of Kansas City, over Edward W. Leach of New York City. The official statement says the contest is close, with Wagner probably the winner. More than 1,700 votes were polled, the largest ever recorded in an Elks' grand lodge session.

Dallas, Texas, gets the 1908 convention.

NOT MUCH INTEREST

Haywood Trial Today Brought Out Very Little of Importance.

Boise, July 17.—At the opening of court this morning Attorney Richardson notified the state that they desired three of the state's witnesses to remain in town.

Judge Wood announced that prior to the opening of the argument he would notify counsel as to the main points in the evidence on which he would instruct the jury. Attorney Attorney Darrow, for the defense, announced that the sub-rebuttal for the defense would be short.

O. N. Sackett, one of the officials of the Smuggler-Union mine at Telluride, Col., gave an interesting account of the conditions in Telluride from 1901 to 1904, and leading up to the declaration of martial law.

An interesting piece of documentary evidence was introduced by the state in the shape of a written agreement entered into in 1901 between Edward Collins of the Smuggler-Union mine, and Vincent St. John, president of the local union of the Western Federation of Miners. Under this agreement St. John agreed to stop the attacks on the Smuggler-Union mine.

Hen's Peck Kills Woman.

Wellsville, Mo., July 17.—Mrs. L. J. Porter, wife of Judge L. J. Porter, of this city, died at her home here yesterday from blood poisoning, which resulted from the peck of a hen on the back of her hand nine weeks ago. She was 70 years old.

CONVICT FOR 20 YEARS

DEATH DISCLOSES THAT SENTENCE WAS FOR TWENTY MONTHS ONLY.

COUNTY CLERK MADE THE MISTAKE

The Mother of a Maid in Alabama May Be Reimbursed by the State for the Excess Work of the Daughter.

Montgomery, Ala., July 17.—Rena Rivers, who died a few days ago at one of the state prison mines, had served the state as a convict for nearly twenty years on a sentence that was for only twenty months.

The clerk, when the papers were made out, made a mistake in calling the number years instead of months. She was only about 12 years of age, and was sent up from a poorly settled part of the state, where the courts at that time was crudely administered.

She was arraigned for larceny, and went through the trial and was given a sentence of less than two years. In a few days she was sent away to the mines, and there she remained until her death recalled who she was.

The white man for whom her mother worked became interested in the case, and it occurred to him that the sentence was a long one for so small a crime, so he looked it up. He discovered the mistake, but too late to help the girl.

However, her mother, who is now old and ill and needs help, has had a bill presented to the legislature to have the state pay for the difference in the time the daughter served and the time she should have served.

ASKED TO ABDICATE

Korean Premier Has Made This Demand of Emperor.

Seoul, July 17.—The Korean minister has asked the emperor to abdicate because of his action in sending a deputation to the Hague.

He boldly pointed out the necessity for the emperor's abdication in favor of the crown prince, and of his proceeding to Tokio and apologizing to the emperor of Japan.

The Korean emperor made no definite reply. It is believed the ministers will insist on abdication.

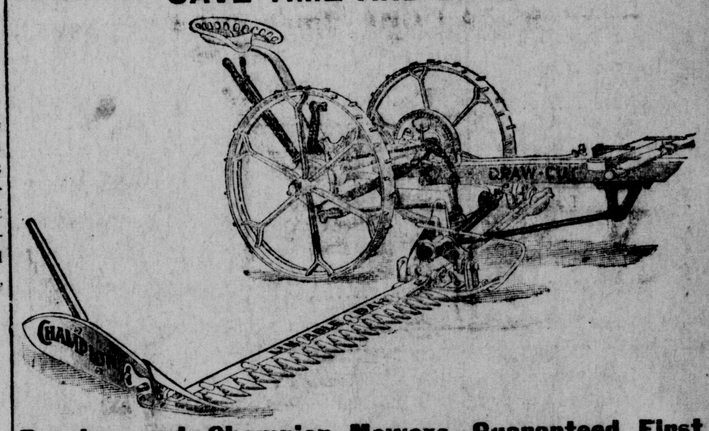

It is not likely the emperor will yield without a struggle.

Despite the excitement at the court and the capital, the populace is generally quiet.

MAN IS WITHOUT LIMBS

Shaves Himself, Rolls Cigarettes, Fills His Pipe, Etc.

Imagine a man without any limbs shaving himself, filling and smoking a pipe, rolling cigarettes and even threading a needle, writes the New York World. It does not sound very probable, yet it is true, and there is an armless and legless young man at Steeplechase park, Coney island, doing that and a great many other seemingly impossible feats besides.

Randlon is his name. He is a native of Demerara, and he is said to have been born without either arms or legs. At any rate he certainly hasn't any now, and, surprising as it may seem, he gets along without them far better than does many an able bodied man.

His natural working utensils are his shoulders, chin, lips, tongue and teeth, and he employs them to take the place of his missing arms and legs with natural skill. By operating with them he has supplied himself with a practical means of support instead of becoming a charge on the community.

In addition to shaving and filling his pipe he plays marbles, cuts paper patterns, plays the flute, cuts hair, sharpens knives and razors and makes kites. Randlon is married and his accomplishments have been found sufficiently remunerative to enable him to support his wife and two children with ease.

STOOD ON HIS HEAD

When a Kid and Now He's Smallest Soldier in the World.

Lexington, Ky., July 18.—John Wash, jr., aged 22 a member of Co. D, of the State Guard, of Lawrenceburg, is the smallest soldier in the world.

He is but 4 feet 8 inches high, and weighs 136 pounds. He arrived here last night on his way to the encampment at Jamestown.

In spite of his small stature he carries his Springfield rifle and drills with other members of the company. He claims that his growth was stopped by his standing on his head too much while a youth.

ARMS TIED TO HIS BODY

Throat Cut. Man Clad in Night Shirt, Was Found Floating.

Matewan, W. Va., July 18.—The body of a man was found floating in Tug river here last evening. A rope had been tied about the body which held the arms securely to the side and the victim's throat had been cut from ear to ear.

The body was gowned in nothing but a night shirt, and the indications are that the murder had been committed while the victim was in his room at night and the body was thrown into the river.

The remains are those of a man probably 40 years of age, but nothing could be found by which it could be identified.

Road Contract Awarded.

J. C. Cole was awarded the contract Wednesday for constructing a rock road with gravel top on Ingram avenue from the southern limits of the thoroughfare to Broadway. He agreed to do the work for $4,580 a mile. Mr. Cole also has the contract for building the road on Sixteenth street.

THE OLDEST MAN-HATER

In America, Sarah Ann Daniel, Is Dead at Lawrenceburg.

Lawrenceburg, Ind., July 18.—The oldest old maid in America, who had the reputation of being an implacable man hater, died here yesterday.

She was Miss Sarah Ann Daniel, and she was in her ninety-sixth year.

It is said she was jilted as a girl of 16, and from that time she led the life of a recluse, seldom speaking to a man.

Have Accepted Positions Here.

Prof. Daniel Shutte and Miss Jane Harrison, of Columbia, who were recently elected instructors in physical geography and German, respectively, in the Sedalia High school, have accepted their respective positions and will be here to enter upon their duties when school opens. Prof. Shutte is a graduate of Knox college, and Miss Harrison is a graduate of the Missouri state university.

GOV. J. W. FOLK'S LETTER

HE WRITES ABOUT STATE HIGHWAY

If Pettis County Expects to Secure the Road. It Is Certainly Time She Was Putting Forth an Effort.

Mr. Leo S. Harris, general delivery clerk at the postoffice, is very much interested in the construction of a state highway from St. Louis to Kansas City, and hopes that it will pass through Pettis county. With a view to obtaining information in the premises he addressed a letter to Gov. Folk on the subject, to which he received the following reply Wednesday:

Office of the Governor, State of Missouri, City of Jefferson, July 16, 1907. Mr. Leo S. Harris, Sedalia Mo. My Dear Sir: Your letter in reference to the proposed highway from St. Louis to Kansas City received. The state highway engineer, Mr. Curtis Hill, has been instructed to prepare plans showing the route for this proposed highway, and is to report to a sub-committee of the state board of agriculture, which meets in Jefferson City August 5th.

Until that time it will not be known whether the proposed line will run through Pettis county or not. The chances are, however, it will, if the people there become interested enough in the matter to organize a road district.

I regard this proposed highway as of vast importance to the material welfare of the commonwealth, and it should be of immense benefit to all the sections through which it goes. Very truly—Jos. W. Folk.

The Kansas City Star of Wednesday afternoon had the following telegram from Jefferson City:

Governor Folk is receiving numerous inquiries from persons and organizations along the proposed route of the state highway between Kansas City and St. Louis, concerning the steps necessary to secure the route through similar localities. Among the many letters on the subject received by the governor today was this one from the Business Men's association of Sedalia:

"We are very much interested in the building of the proposed public highway from St. Louis to Kansas City, which you have recommended and will appreciate it very much if you will put us in communication with the proper authorities, that we may be able to take the matter up with the people of our vicinity."

Other letters from persons in the towns and counties along the proposed route say that the citizens are becoming greatly interested in good roads and are particularly desirous of seeing the state pike built between Kansas City and St. Louis, and inquiring of the governor if there is any chance of getting it through their town or county, and if so what steps should be taken to secure it.

The Kansas City Times had the following on the subject Wednesday:

Mr. Hill in discussing the proposition at St. Louis, called attention to the fact that a considerable part of the road is already built, which indicates that he means to make use of roads constructed in the different counties where rock roads are already in use. Jefferson City, California and Sedalia, all have sections of road that can be connected up, and so have other towns along the route. Marshall is likely to make a fight for the road, as Representative Miller who wrote much of the new law on the subject of roads, is a road enthusiast and runs the principal paper of the country. That, of course, would cut out Sedalia, leaving it twenty-five miles to the south of the road.

Under the system by which it is proposed to build the road the country people must themselves organize road districts. They will be urged to do it. Governor Folk himself will help in a campaign that will include school house meetings in the farming districts to urge the completion of the road. The law is not very well understood and the details must be explained to the farm owners who will help pay for the proposed road.

It is estimated that this road will cost $4.000 a mile and at least $1,000 a mile will be furnished by the state under appropriations already made. This leaves $3,000 a mile to be raised by the land owners. Land fronting on the road will be charged much more in proportion than land in the district a half mile or more away. Where farms are square, 160-acre farms, quarter sections according to government survey, there are 640 acres fronting each mile of road.

That will make the cost of the road less than fifty cents for each acre even if land farther away must pay nothing. But if the jury which must decide the proportion payable for each tract in the district shall charge 20 per cent to land in the district but half a mile or more away from the road forty cents an acre will pay for the road. Divide this into twenty-year payments and the cost a year is two cents an acre with an average additional charge of about one cent an acre a year for interest. The total tax a year on 160 acres will be about $5 the first few years and grade down to $3.40 in the last year or two of the payment. The very small expense attendant upon the building of such a road is something many farmers have not studied and that is one of the reasons Missouri roads are bad.

FOUND FATHER IN JAIL

REASON OF ILLINOIS MAN WAS DETHRONED WHILE IN PITTSBURG. PA.

WENT THERE ON A BUSINESS TRIP

Wired His Son That He Was Lost, And On the Latter Going to Pittsburg Parent Was Located in Jail.

Pittsburg, July 18.—About a week ago John Nailon, of Belmar, Ill., received a telegram from his aged father, James Nailon, a wealthy oil operator in Alabama, stating that he was lost in Pittsburg, and to come to him at once.

The son started for this city, but when he searched all the hotels he could find no trace of the man.

The police were called into the case, and yesterday stories of the strange disappearance of the aged oil man appeared in the newspapers.

Warden Lewis, of the Allegheny county jail, read these and recognized form the description given an aged prisoner in his care, sent down a few days before on a charge of vagrancy.

He sent for the son, and with officers took him to the cell of the man, who turned out to be the wealthy operator, and he was at once released.

Nailon says he lost all recollection of himself or his business. He remembered telegraphing for his son, and then all became a blank. He will be taken to his home at once.

Jas. Hogan was in Sedalia Tuesday.

W. A. Collins, city assessor of Sedalia, was in this city Sunday evening.

Joe Bowers, of the Democrat-Sentinel, was in this city Monday.

W. T. Zuber, wife and son were visiting relatives in Kansas City the first of the week.

W. Covey, city marshal, has been quite sick for several days.

Jesse Miller, of Texas, is visiting his sister, Mrs. John Stevens, and brother, Andy Miller. He left here about ten years ago.

Suit Filed for $500.

E. D. Bosserman, represented by Judge Geo. F. Longan and Barnett & Barnett, has brought suit in the circuit court to recover $500 from Gus Hodges, the promoter, who was to have built an electric road from Sedalia to Warrensburg, in which alleged enterprise Mr. Bosserman sank five hundred of his hard-earned plunks.

A PRETTY MILKMAID

Thinks Pe-ru-na Is a Wonderful Medicine.

MISS ANNIE HENDREN.

MISS ANNIE HENDREN, Rocklyn, Wash., writes:

"I feel better than I have for over four years. I have taken several bottles of Peruna and one bottle of Manalin.

"I can now do all my work in the house, milk the cows, take care of the milk, and so forth. I think Peruna is a most wonderful medicine.

"I believe I would be in bed to-day if I had not written to you for advice. I had taken all kinds of medicine, but none did me any good.

"Peruna has made me a well and happy girl. I can never say too much for Peruna."

Not only women of rank and leisure praise Peruna, but the industrious, useful women engaged in honest toil would not be without Dr. Hartman's world renowned remedy.

The Doctor has prescribed it for many thousand women every year and he never fails to receive a multitude of letters like the above, thanking him for his advice, and especially for the wonderful benefits received from Peruna.

ACID TAKEN BY A YOUTH

RESULTED IN HIS DEATH NEAR THE TOWN OF BLUFFTON, IND.

ACCUSED OF WRONGING A GIRL

Engaged to Another Woman, Who Broke the Engagement, and Then the Man in the Case Committed Suicide.

Bluffton, Ind., July 18.—Following the arrest of Charles Bender, 25 years old, son of John H. Bender, of Rock Creek township, on a charge filed by Clara Harnish, came the suicide of the young man at his home yesterday.

After his arrest Bender protested his innocence and demanded an early trial, and was to have had a preliminary hearing at 9 o'clock this morning.

His father gave bond for his appearance in court and he spent the night at his home, arising at 4 o'clock yesterday morning. He ate breakfast with the family and then went to the barn. A short time later one of his sisters, upon going to his room, found a note which read as follows:

"Rather than have my folks disgraced, I will take this method to end it all. Before you discover my act I will have made my peace with God."

The young man was found lying at the back of the barn in the last agonies of death. He had poured a quantity of carbolic acid into a tin cup and had drank a large quantity. Physicians were summoned, but the young man was dead before they arrived.

Bender was to have been married some time this summer to another young woman of the neighborhood. Recently, when the impending trouble with Miss Harnish was noised about his engagement with his intended bride was broken. Miss Harnish is prostrated over the affair.

STORM IN ST LOUIS

The Steamer Tennessee Sank This Afternoon.

Special to Democrat-Sentinel.

St. Louis, July 18.—A heavy windstorm, preceded by a thunder storm, struck here this afternoon.

The steamer Tennessee, of the St. Louis and Kansas City line, was driven against a pier of the Eads bridge, and a hole smashed in her side, causing her to sink. The steamer was valued at $20,000.

WIFE MURDER CHARGED

SPOUSE WAS FOUND DEAD IN BED

Six Weeks Later F. H. Magill Married Again, and Now He and His Bride Are Both Behind the Bars.

Springfield, Ill., July 15.—Requisition papers for the return to Clinton, Ill., of Frederick H. Magill and wife, wanted there on a charge of murder, were issued Sunday by Governor Deneen. The couple are under arrest at San Diego, Cal., accused of the murder of Magill's first wife.

State's Attorney Arthur F. Miller and Sheriff H. A. Campbell, of De Witt county, arrived here Sunday, and, following an interview with the governor, the requisition papers on the governor of California were issued. Both Miller and Campbell will make the trip to San Diego to bring the accused couple back to Clinton.

Miller said that the evidence on which the couple were arrested was obtained largely through conflicting statements made by them.

Magill's present wife was Miss Fay Graham. He married her less than a month after the death of the wife whom he is accused of poisoning.

According to State Attorney Miller, after his wife's death Magill said that the woman had taken a small dose of strychnine, shortly before her death, to help a headache. He also told that she had awakened in the night and asked for a bottle of beer, which he procured for her.

It is the theory of the state that if the woman was poisoned, as is charged, the drug was given to her in the beer. It is expected that the autopsy will reveal this fact when the remains are exhumed and examined, which will be done at once.

Magill and his present wife were accompanied to California by the former's 18-year-old daughter, who, however, is not implicated.

The girl is being cared for at a hotel at San Diego, and probably will accompany her father to Illinois.

Following the issuance of the requisition papers, Sheriff Campbell and State Attorney Miller departed for St. Louis, on their way to California.

First Mrs. Magill Found Dead.

Clinton, Ill., July 15.—Mrs. Pet Gaudy Magill, in connection with whose death her husband, Frederick H Magill, was arrested in San Diego, Cal., Saturday night, was found dead in a spare room at the Magill homestead in Clinton on the morning of May 31.

Beside the bed was a bowl containing chloroform. Coroner Jones held an inquest, the verdict being suicide.

Previous to her death Mrs. Magill had been riding with her husband and daughter and appeared to be in good spirits. Her buoyant disposition and cheerfulness was commented upon. There was nothing noticed in her conduct that betokened despondency or worriment.

Before her marriage, Mrs Magill was Miss Pet Gaudy. She was 38 years old at the time of her death. She was married to Fred Magill in 1889. One child was born, Marguerite, now 17 years old.

Mrs. Magill was prominent in social and religious circles and was a member of the Presbyterian church of Clinton.

When word was received in Clinton of the marriage in Denver, on Friday, July 5, of Magill to Miss Fay Graham, 22 years old, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs W. W. Graham, residents of Clinton, an investigation into the cause of Mrs. Pet Magill's death was started.

Before the death of the first Mrs. Magill, Miss Graham was a frequent visitor at the Magill homestead. She was especially intimate with Miss Magill, and the two were inseparable. Miss Graham was always looked upon as one of the family.

Miss Graham's parents were astonished by the marriage. Her father said: "I did not know a thing about this affair. It was as much of a shock to me as to anyone else. Fay left home Saturday, June 29, ostensibly to visit her uncle, Dr. Graham, in Kankakee. She intimated that she would also visit the family of Ira Taylor in Chicago."

May Fight Extradition.

San Diego, Cal., July 15.—Although in a statement F. H. Magill emphatically declared that he was certain of acquittal in his home town and that he was anxious to be taken back immediately to face his accusers, it develops that his lawyers here have determined to make a bitter fight against extradition.

Attorneys Eugene Daney and Judge J. Wade McDonald, for the defense, say they will carry the case to the superior court on an application for a writ of habeas corpus.

Albert Nasher, Fay Graham's uncle, who is in Los Angeles, offered bail in any amount for both.

The defense has the state at a disadvantage here, as both District Attorney Lewis R. Kirby and his chief assistant, H. S. Utley, are out of the city and cannot be reached. Kirby is more than 200 miles from here in the Imperial valley.

Swears He and Wife Are Innocent.

San Diego, Cal., July 15.—"I swear by Almighty God that I and my wife are innocent. Time will prove it and exonerate both of us. We are the victims of a fiendish plot laid by the relatives of my first wife. They have been circulating false reports against us ever since Pet's awful death. They are trying to hound us to death."

So said Frederick H. Magill, the wealthy Clinton, Ill., banker, on being lodged in the county jil here after his arrest last night at the Hotel Robinson by Chief of Police Moulton.

HE CHOSE HIS OWN BRIDE

DECLINED TO MARRY YOUNG WOMAN SELECTED BY HIS RELATIVES.

DISOWNED BY THE ELDER DATILO

But the Wealthy Italian's Son, Who Married a School Teacher Over in the Buckeye State, Doesn't Mind it Much.

Hamilton, Ohio, July 13.—Gus Datilo, the wealthy young Italian of this city, who was to have married Miss Concietta Pereno at St. Joseph's church, Dayton, Ohio, her home, but failed of appearance, although guests were waiting at the altar, is now the husband of Miss Lelia Anderson, a pretty young school teacher of this city.

Instead of going to Dayton to wed Miss Pereno, Datilo, with Miss Anderson, accompanied by her mother, hurried to Batavia, Ohio, where a marriage license was procured.

Immediately after the license had been issued they drove to Stonelick to be married by a Catholic priest, but the latter refused to officiate because the groom lived in another parish. The lovers then journeyed to Williamsburg, where they were married by a Methodist minister.

As the result of his jilting Miss Pereno and marrying Miss Anderson, Datilo has been disowned by his father, a wealthy fruit dealer of this city, relatives say. None of the Datilo family would discuss the wedding.

But Datilo and his pretty bride say they don't care whether or not he has been disowned. They say they love each other, and that's enough.

According to Datilo and his bride, he never was engaged to marry Miss Pereno. They assert that the match was one arranged by the heads of the Datilo and Pereno families without regard as to whether or not the young folks approved of each other.

Datilo admits that on the day preceding the planned wedding with Miss Pereno he procured a marriage license at Dayton, but declares he did so at the request of the parents. Immediately thereafter he handed the document over to Miss Pereno's father, he says, and departed, that on the morrow he might wed the woman he loved.

He declares that his course was fully justified.

The Paving Completed.

ONE KILLED IN A WRECK

TWO PASSENGERS COME TOGETHER ON GREAT WESTERN TRACK IN KANSAS.

TRAVELING MAN WAS SCALDED

Collision Was Caused By Confusion of Orders Regarding Burlington Train Being Detoured On Account of Heavy Flood.

Kansas City, Mo., July 16.—A Great Western passenger train and a Burlington train, both northbound, went together at Bethel, Kansas, ten miles north of Kansas City, early today.

Fritz Ulrici, a traveling salesman, of Rochester, N. Y., who was locked in a toilet room, sustained a scalp wound, was badly scalded and inhaled steam. He died at Kansas City, where he was taken several hours later. He was unconscious when he recovered after the wreck. Two other passengers on the Burlington train were slightly hurt, but were able to continue their journey. All the other passengers escaped with a shaking up.

IMPEACHING WITNESSES

STATE IS NOW BUSY SHOWING THAT PERJURY WAS COMMITTED FOR DEFENSE.

ONE OF THEM HAS BEEN ARRESTED

Attorneys Have Sharp Clash and Indulge in Personalities for the First Time During the Entire Trial.

Boise, Idaho, July 16.—In the Haywood trial today A. C. Cogswell, of Wallace, Idaho, was called to further impeach Dr. I. L. McGee, a defense witness, who is now under arrest, charged with perjury. McGee testified as to certain dates by fixing the date of the county republican convention in Wallace.

Cogswell, who was the permanent chairman of that convention, gave different dates and the state also offered in evidence a copy of the Idaho Tribune, published at Wallace, and identified as the official organ of the local union of the Western Federation of Miners at the time.

This paper contained an account of the blowing up of the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mines, which the state desired to place before the jury in answer to Attorney Darrow's opening statement that the defense would show that the crowd which attacked them was an organized mob.

In the argument which arose over the admissibility of the newspaper, Attorney Hawley for the state, and Richardson for the defense, had a sharp clash, and personalities were indulged in for the first time since the trial started.

DEATH OF MRS. MOUNT

(Tuesday's Daily.)

Mrs. Frank Mount, a former Sedalia lady, wife of a Missouri Pacific conductor, now residing at St. Louis, died suddenly at Colorado Springs, Colo., at 5 o'clock yesterday morning, aged about 45 years.

Two weeks ago yesterday Mrs. Mount, who had been in poor health for several months, passed through this city from St. Louis to Colorado, where she expected to benefit her health. She was met at the train there by friends, but since her arrival in the Centennial state nothing was heard from her until the sad message telling of her death.

Mr. Mount, accompanied by his eldest son, Earl, passed through here this afternoon enroute to Colorado to accompany the remains back to St. Louis, where the interment will be.

Mrs. Mount was a member of the Congregational church and besides her husband she leaves four children, as follows: Mrs. Walter Castle, formerly Miss Ina Mount; Earl, Harry and Beaulah Mount. All reside at St. Louis.

Mrs. Mount removed to St. Louis from Sedalia about eight years ago. Prior to that time she resided here and by her kind manner and lovable disposition won many friends, all of whom will read of her demise with sorrow.

SHOOTING IN HOWARD

Prewitt Burton, Farmer's Son, Shoots Negro Over Trifle.

Prewitt Burton, son of P. H. Burton, a well-known farmer living just across the river in Howard county, twice shot and seriously wounded Chas. Broadus, a negro whose home was at Fayette Saturday evening, because the later refused to get some ice from the ice house, says the Boonville Democrat.

Reports vary as to the causes leading up to the shooting. Young Burton claims the negro called him vile names and threatened him, while another report says the shooting was uncalled for. Burton was in Boonville this morning.

WILL FIGHT THE CASES

TWO MISSOURI ROADS SUED ON THE EIGHT HOURS FOR A DAY LAW.

MISSOURI PACIFIC AND M., K. & T.

Cases Were Called at Warrensburg, Pleas of Not Guilty Entered, and Continuance Granted Until October 16.

Warrensburg, Mo., July 16.—The initial move was made here yesterday by the railroads to fight the enforcement of the law passed by the last legislature, making it a severe penalty for any railroad to require operators who handle train orders to work more than eight hours each day.

The Missouri Pacific was sued in the Johnson county circuit court on five separate counts for violating the eight-hour law at Warrensburg, Holden, Kingsville and Knob Noster, this county. The Missouri, Kansas & Texas was sued on two counts.

The cases were set for hearing yesterday. Colonel R. T. Railey appeared for the Missouri Pacific and Attorney Aber for the Missouri, Kansas & Texas, and each entered a plea of not guilty. The court gave them time until October 16 to plead to the information.

In speaking of the suits, Colonel Railey said:

"We are satisfied that this law, as applied, as unconstitutional, and the railroads are perfectly willing that its constitutionality be thoroughly tested in the courts. I am willing that these cases be taken up at the September term of the Cass county circuit, before Judge Bradley, which will give an earlier decision in the matter.

Prosecuting Attorney Cockrell proposes to vigorously prosecute each case.

HELD UP FREIGHT TRAIN

Robbers in Kansas Rob and Kill One and Wound Another.

Cherryvale, Kas., July 16.—Two robbers early today held up a St. Louis and San Francisco east bound freight train, five miles east of this city, and robbed, shot and killed O. J. Brown and seriously wounded Otis Taylor, a Western Kansas harvest hand, who was beating his way home. The robbers escaped. Taylor was brought here and may recover from his injuries.

WILL THE PLANT BLOOM

REFERENCE IS HAD TO THE ONE ON WEST SIDE OF COURT HOUSE SQUARE.

IT IS THIRTY-EIGHT YEARS OLD

Originally Belonged to the Late Col. A. D. Jaynes, and Some Eighteen Years Ago Presented to County Court.

An object that is still attracting attention from persons traveling on Ohio street is a century plant on the west lawn of the court house.

The plant originally belonged to the late Col. A. D. Jaynes, and from his daughter, Mrs. E. A. Wood, it is learned that it is at least thirty-eight years old.

Eighteen years ago it was given to the county, and at the dictate of the county judges was placed on the court house lawn.

Several years ago the plant began to develop, appearing as though it was about to bloom. A small sized stalk leading from the center began to grow, and shot up day by day, until at present its height is fully thirty-five feet high.

On top of the stalk are buds, giving every indication of blooming soon, and it is with pride that Janitor Mike Rymer and the court house officials watch its daily growth.

Just how often the plant blooms is not known. Some who have read of such plants say they bloom every hundred years, while others say they bloom every twenty-five years. After one bloom, it is said, the plant dies.

Whether or not the Pettis county plant will bloom soon will be awaited with interest, not alone by court house attaches, but by many Sedalians who have paid daily attention to the attraction, anxiously awaiting further developments.

SECOND ATTEMPT SUCCEEDED

Governor General Kutais Falls Victim to Revolutionists.

St. Petersburg, July 16.—General Alikhanoff, governor-general of Kutais, whose rigorous methods of suppressing disorders in Trans-Caucasia have brought down upon him the enmity of the revolutionists, was killed by a bomb at 3 o'clock at Alexandropal this morning as he was returning from his club. The dead man was seriously injured by a bomb last year.

Madam Glieboff, wife of Gen. Glieboff, and her coachman, who were driving in their carriage at the place when the explosion occurred, were blown to pieces. A son of Gen. Alikhanoff and a daughter of Gen. Glieboff sustained serious injuries. The bombs were hurled into the Baboutoff street. Gen. Alikhanoff had been nicknamed "the wild beast" by the Caucasian members of the lower house of parliament.

JOSEPH GIBSON DEAD

He Was a Brother of Mr. E. B. Gibson, of This City.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

E. B Gibson, of 400 West Fourth street, received a telegram yesterday, apprising him of the death of his brother, Joseph Gibson, at his home at Upperville, Va., yesterday morning.

Deceased was a farmer and was 70 years old. He leaves a wife and five children. Owing to the distance, relatives in this city will not be able to attend the funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. Gibson and son, Clay, of this city, visited in Virginia last fall, being called there by the patient's critical condition at that time, since which he has been growing worse.

WILLIS CARLISLE, Secretary

REBUTTAL HAS BEGUN

WITNESSES ARE INTRODUCED TO CONTRADICT TESTIMONY FOR DEFENSE.

DEFENSE SURPRISED THE STATE

Closed Its Case Saturday Very Suddenly, Much to the Astonishment of the Attorneys for the Prosecution.

Boise, Idaho, July 13.—With the opening of court in the Haywood case today Attorney Richardson sprung a decided sensation by announcing the defense rested. At adjournment yesterday afternoon Mr. Darrow had announced that a powder expert would be put on the stand today to testify in regard to the Bradley explosion in San Francisco. The change of plan took the state's attorneys entirely by surprise and there was some delay in beginning the case in rebuttal.

"We did not expect this," declared Mr. Hawley, leading counsel for the state, "and our witnesses were not notified to be here at this early hour."

Witnesses began to straggle in, however, and soon John C. Rise was recalled to the stand. He testified that in November, 1905, Orchard did not wear a moustache. This was in contradiction of one of the witnesses for the defense, who swore he heard Orchard make threats against Steunenberg, describing Orchard as a man with a large mustache.

The next witness was Dan Gainey, of Walla Walla, Wash. Gainey lost both feet in the Independence depot explosion. He lived in the Coeur d'Alenes in 1898 and 1900 and roomed a part of the time with Orchard. Gainey said that Dominick Flynn, who testified he was playing poker with Orchard April 19. 1899. the day of the Bunker Hill and Sullivan explosion—had told him in a conversation that he had not seen Orchard since February. 1899.

Cross examined by Richardson, Gainey said he had no present business.

"When did you go out of business?"

"After I was injured at Victor."

"It was because you were injured that you wanted to come here and testify?"

"You know it was Orchard who says he blew you up?"

"Yes."

"But you have corresponded with Orchard since his arrest?"

"I have written to him several times."

"That's all."

R. E. Grimshaw, of Deadwood, S. D., was introduced by the state to identify a prison record showing that in 1880 John M. O'Neil, at present and for many years past, editor of the Miners' Magazine, was in the Dakota penitentiary. The defense objected on the ground that this was not proper rebuttal or impeachment, the witness O'Neil's attention not being called to the matter when he was on the stand. To allow the citation of authorities the witness was temporarily withdrawn.

In contradiction of the old soldier, John D. Elliott. who said he heard Orchard make threats against Governor Steunenberg while on a train, the state introduced several railway officials who produced records showing that the trains on which Elliott said he and Orchard traveled did not make the connections which Elliott had described as part of the journey. Elliott testified for the defense that he had traveled from Weiser, Idaho, to Boise, about November 28 or 29, 1905. The state called J. P. Stephenson, a hotel clerk of Salt Lake City, today. to testify that Orchard arrived at the Hotel Cullen November 25, 1905. and remained there three weeks. When asked to produce the records, the witness said he could only find Orchard's name entered in the books on November 25. It was the man's custom to pay for his room nightly in advance.

J. H. Moser. proprietor of the Kettle block rooming house in Denver, testified that Harry Orchard, under the name of Dempsey, stopped with him for two weeks late in July or August of 1904. Dr. McGee, a witness for the defense, testified several weeks ago that he saw Orchard in the Coeur d'Alenes at this time.

On cross examination he said he kept no record of guests and did not remember the names of any other transient guests in the summer of 1904. He was requested to come to Boise by a Pinkerton detective.

Interest in the rebuttal case was materially quickened by the calling of August Paulson. of Wallace, Idaho, one of the owners of the Hercules mine, in which Orchard once held a one-sixteenth interest. There was a long argument between counsel as to the witness's ability to tell when Orchard ceased to exercise any control of the mine. Paulson said he could not remember the exact date, but that after early in the spring of 1898 Orchard had nothing further to do with the property, his interest being succeeded by Dan Gardner, now a wealthy man from the production of the mine.

The defense caims that Orchard had a personal motive against Steunenberg because of the loss of this property when he was driven out of the country as a part of the 1899 troubles. The state claims Orchard sold his interest a year or so before the troubie started.

Court took recess at 11:30 o'clock in the Haywood trial until 1:30 o'clock.

It Pays to Read the Advertisements In Your Newspaper.

"I was down with chronic rheumatism since last fall," writes M. F. Toorney, No. 52 Carbon street, Scranton, Pa., "I tried all kinds of medicine, but did not receive any benefit. I saw Chamberlain's Pain Balm advertised in the Scranton Times, got a half dollar bottle of it, but as everything else had failed, I had aavery little faith in it. I rubbed myself thoroughly with it and went to bed, and to my surprise felt better the next morning. The pains seemed to go away. I kept on using it, and now have had no pains for the past six weeks. I only used half of it." For sale by W. E. Bard Drug Co.

Injunction Still in Force.

Jefferson City, July 13.—The supreme court today denied the application filed yesterday by Attorney General Hadley for a writ to dissolve the injunction recently granted by the St. Louis circuit court to prevent the enforcement of the state grain weighing law. This action of the supreme court leaves the injunction in force.

ALDERMAN NOT AFRAID

MR. CRAWFORD, OF THE FOURTH WARD, DISPLEASED WITH NEWSPAPERS.

HAS A ROAST FOR THE RAILWAYS

Says They Will Not Put In Crossings, but Does Not Mention the Deceased Six-Miles-an-Hour Ordinance.

To the Democrat-Sentinel.

I am thoroughly disgusted with the attitude of the Democrat-Sentinel, the Capital and a few citizens of this city who go fawning and cringing before the might and power of the railroads which run through our city. It would seem from what these papers say that our very lives are dependent upon the railroads; that there are no laws to restrain or govern them in any respect; that we are absolutely powerless and defenseless, and that we must shape our every act to suit the pleasure or caprice of their local employes.

Have we forgotten what cormorants these railroads are? They are never satisfied, but are always asking for more and more. They have no respect for our wishes and they never consult us when they want to take any step affecting our welfare, unless they see a chance to make us give them something, or to force us to do something they want.

Look at the history of the railroads in Pettis county: When the Missouri Pacific railroad was built through this county we gave them the right of way, paid the cost of grading, laying the ties and track and built all the depots and sidetracks. We gave the railroad one-fourth of all the lots in the city and all the ground it needed for yards and shops. We gave it thirty acres of land and $40,000 in money to locate its machine shops here.

We did the same with the M., K. & T., giving it the ground (which it still owns) upon which to locate its machine shops. Pettis county, Sedalia township and the city of Sedalia built and paid for everything the railroads ever put into this town as originally constructed.

When the M, K. & T. wanted additional shops we gave them sixty acres of land and $100,000 in money. When the Missouri Pacific outgrew the little shops it had built on the land and with the money we gave them, they demanded and we paid $188,000 in cash and 120 acres of valuable land.

Have they ever asked anything that we didn't give them? And what did they ever do for us except to operate trains and carry out our freight and passengers for a full consideration?

They didn't consult us when they took the division to Jefferson City and destroyed the value of property in East Sedalia. Jefferson City paid the Missouri Pacific $25,000 to move the division. Nobody in Sedalia claims that the railroad ever asked our consent or consulted our interest before making the move.

When the M., K. & T. talked about establishing headquarters in Sedalia they demanded and we paid them $25,000, and when they got ready they moved the headquarters from Sedalia to Parsons, without consulting us or restoring the consideration.

When the railroads get ready to act they pay no attention to our wishes or interests, but act utterly regardless of both; but when we want anything of the railroad companies, some people think we must go fawning and cringing around them like whipped curs.

The occasion of this present trouble is that we cannot get the railroads to fix up the street crossings, as the statutes and the city ordinances require them to do. The council has passed the necessary ordinances, and we have been nagging at the railroads for a year, but they will do nothing. Ohio street was paved to the railroad crossing on the south, and Quincy street has had sidewalks constructed to the railroad crossing on both sides for months, and yet the railroad will not fix up the crossings so as to make them decent.

What can we do under these circumstances? If we pass an ordinance putting some restrictions upon the railroad, then the newspapers and a few timid citizens set up a howl that we are ruining the town and that the railroad companies will abandon the operation of trains through the city.

Why, the Democrat-Sentinel cited an instance the other day where a railroad company had shut up a station in some little town because the local authorities had passed an ordinance limiting the rate of speed.

Of course, the inference is that the railroads will make a flagging station out of Sedalia. That is exactly the way railroad companies used to do, and would now do but for legal restrictions and for the fact that they are managed by men of some business sense.

In these latter days the people have rebelled against all arbitrary and unjust methods, and we now have laws governing railroads, which deprive them of their power to be the arbitrary dictators of what they or we shall do.

We are of just as much use to the railroads as they are to us. Our interest is their interest, and their interest ought to be ours also. We should be just to them, but we should also compel them to be just to us.

I am inclined to think that their managers are disposed to be just, but the sure way to get our rights is to stand up for them in an open and manly way, and not go toadying and fawning around them as though we were afraid of them.

They can't afford to fight us. We can compel them to spend thousands of dollars annually in complying with lawful regulations which we might impose upon them. We could compel them to put in gates and watchmen at every crossing in town, and we could harrass and embarrass them tremendously with local regulations if we should be driven to fight.

This tempest in a tea pot which the Democrat-Sentinel has stirred up is pure sensationalism, without excuse in fact or reason, and as unsubstantial as moonshine.

No person in authority in either railroad ever intimated that we were in danger of losing the division. This line of talk proceeds from certain employes, who can't order a lead pencil for the railroad without getting the writtene approval of a half dozen superiors.

There are a great number of "Smart Alecs" holding jobs on railroads ,who delight to blow about what the railroad companies will do to people. Now and then they find an easy victim in some credulous and timid person.

The editor of the Democrat-Sentinel, being by nature excitable and erratic, "blew up" when he heard this talk, and forgot to apply his common sense and gumption to the situation. He wrote his editorial during one of his brain storms, and while his superheated imagination had carried him beyond the realm of reality and into the dreamland of nightmares and hobgoblins. If he will wake up and open his eyes to the facts, his fears will vanish and his nerves will become calm again.—Grant Crawford.

Party at Home of Mr. Denny.

A party was given Friday night at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Denny in honor of their daughter, Miss Ina. and her friend. Miss Myrtle Smith, of St. Louis. Among those present were Misses Ina, Lela and Altha Denny, Myrtle and Stella Smith, Mary and Agnes Clifford, Mary Barge, Gussie Green and Mesdames Wainscott, Bohon and Clifford, Messrs. Adolph Heltzen, Louis Winzenberg and brother. Harry Wainscott, Charley and Marcius Clifford. Daniel Green, Willie Thomas, Charles Orcutt, Grover Denny, Lee Parish and brother and Donald Clifford.

Miss Ina, who is a charming young lady, served refreshments and was assisted by her mother and Mrs. Wainscott.

The guests departed at a late hour, assuring the hostess that they had a most delightful time.

SUCCESSFUL HORTICULTURE.

Fruit Growing Requires Intelligence and Care.

The following article from an exchange contains some thoughts which cannot fail to interest anyone who is engaged in fruit growing or who contemplates engaging in this work:

Some writer figured a year or two since that peach trees had been planted so numerously in the southwest that it would be a physical impossibility, when these trees reached the bearing age, to transport the fruit to the market. In expressing that opinion the writer forgot the old adage: "There's many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip." The writer has in mind an orchard not a thousand miles from here and of a size that would be called large even in this day of big things, in which 75 per cent. of the peach trees died the first year, and this was not the fault of the trees, but of the men who planted without experience and cared for them as if they were a hay field. Perhaps this is rather an exceptional case, but it is nevertheless surprising the number of trees that are lost the first year entirely on acount of lack of care. Here is the first "slip."

But assuming that the trees grow off all right there are other "slips" awaiting the unwary and the inexperienced. Diseases and insects are ever ready to get all that they need out of an orchard. At first, indeed, there is comparative freedom from these troubles, but they multiply in time and then "eternal vigilance is the price of liberty," and the price of success. The "brown rot," for instance, is one of the diseases that you scarcely notice at first, but which increases with the age of the orchard and with favorable seasons. Then there is the ever present borers and the San Jose scale which has not troubled the southwest much yet, but which has played the everlasting mischief in some sections of the country. And then come, occasionally, unfavorable seasons, like the present one. Then the new orchardist fails to plan properly for picking, packing and shipping and possibly gets "skinned" by some commission merchant. This caps the climax of other troubles and many who start out bravely get disgusted with the whole business and go back to the old crops and the old ways.

This is not written in discouragement of fruit growing, but rather to emphasize the need of experience and accurate knowledge all along the line. We read, occasionally, of the immense amount of money made out of fruit on a small area. The writer has in mind a man who, in one year, sold $40,000 worth of peaches from 40 acres. Such successes are always heralded far and wide, but the numerous failures are not recorded. The fact is that the fruit business has great possibilities in it for tremendous gains and lamentable failures. There are chances in it for 1,000 per cent. profit; likewise chances for losing everything. The only way to succeed is to learn the business from the ground up and keep the brain as busy or busier than the hands. Of the millions of trees that are planted only a small per cent. produce salable fruit; the rest go by the board. The fruit business is a good business, but it requires intelligence to run it.

SUGAR BEETS.

The Best Soil for Their Production Is Heavy Clay Loam.

There is a distinction between the two sorts of beets. For sugar production the best crops are obtained from rather heavy, well-drained and fertile clay loam soils. On lighter sandier soils the beets will mature earlier, but the yield will be less per acre. On such soils the beets will grow large but the percentage of sugar is likely to be low. Sugar beets are not more exhaustive on the soil than other crops if the tops are left on the land and the pulp is brought back from the factory to be fed on the farm. Planting is done early in the spring and the best returns are secured with a well distributed rainfall during May, June, July and August with fairly dry weather in September and October.

The Sugar Beet.

Insect Pests Increasing.

Year by year the damage done to the crops of the farm, orchard and garden by insects and fungous pests seems to be increasing. Some of these pests may be a blessing in disguise, in that the remedies used for their eradication have been beneficial in other respects; but, in order that they may be successfully combatted, it is essential that the farmer know how to fight them to the best advantage, and that he have a clear idea of the nature of the remedies employed and the precautions that must be observed in their use.—Prof. R. Harcourt.

Most men know better than they do.

S.S.S. FORTY YEARS OF CURES

Long experience and thorough testing have proven S. S. S. to be the King of blood purifiers and the greatest of all tonics. For nearly half a century S. S. S. has been used in the treatment of blood and skin diseases of every character, and so satisfactory have been the results that it is now the best known and most widely used blood medicine on the market. S. S. S. attracted attention as soon as it was placed on the market by curing promptly those diseases for which it was recommended, and we have so jealously guarded its first good reputation, by keeping it up to its standard in manufacture, that it now has the unequalled and pleasing record of "Forty Years Of Cures." For Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Sores and Ulcers, Malaria, Skin Diseases, Contagious Blood Poison, and all other diseases due to an impure or poisoned condition of the blood, there is nothing that equals S. S. S. It counteracts and removes the germs and poisons, cleanses the system of all unhealthy matter, cures the trouble permanently, and restores strong, robust health. Where the blood is weak or anaemic and unable to nourish the system as it should, S. S. S. supplies it with the needed properties, and being a bracing, invigorating tonic it builds up the entire system. It goes to the very bottom of all blood disorders, and in this way reaches deep-seated and inherited cases on which the ordinary sarsaparillas and tonics have little or no effect. Not only is S. S. S. certain in its results, but it is an absolutely safe medicine. It enjoys the distinction of being the only blood medicine on the market that is guaranteed purely vegetable. If you are in need of a blood remedy begin the use of S. S. S., the medicine that has proven its worth by its record of forty years of cures. Book on the blood and any medical advice you wish. Fall Opening of Hill's Business College.

While students may enter at any time, our fall opening will be on Monday, September 2, 1907. We wish to say that if you are expecting to enter school it will be to your advantage to enter on or before this date. Our special rates should be taken advantage of by those who are interested in a business education. Forty-five dollars will purchase our regular $60 life scholarship in either the shorthand or commercial department, and $70 will purchase our regular $90 combination life scholarship, good in both departments. These rates positively withrawn on September 1, 1907.

Those enrolling at once will be given the privilege of instruction by mail until they are able to enter school. In this way a student can complete our course in from four weeks to two months less than the regular time, which means additional saving in the amount of their board, room and incidental expenses for the time saved.

H. B. C., at Sedalia, Mo., is the only business college in Missouri that is endorsed by the state superintendent of schools, the president of the State Teachers' association, the presidents of the state normal schools, the teachers' college of the University of Missouri, the university high school examiner, and the superintendents of schools of such cities as Kansas City, St. Joseph, Joplin, Carthage and Sedalia. In fact, Hill's Business college alone has the general, cordial endorsement of the school men of the state.

We have enrolled students this year from twelve different states and territories, and over a thousand of our students are holding good positions in twenty-five states and territories. They are scattered from New York City on the east to Los Angeles on the west, from Chicago on the north to New Orleans on the south, and in every instance they are giving satisfaction.

TESON WAS ACQUITTED

THE "UNWRITTEN LAW" AGAIN UPHELD AT ST. JOSEPH, MISSOURI.

HE KILLED A MAN WHILE INSANE

Jury Acquitted Raymond G. Teson of the Murder of George Mayhan, Who Had Been Intimate With Mrs. Teson.

St. Joseph, Mo., July 13.—Raymond G. Teson was acquitted here Friday of the murder of George Mayhan last October. Emotional insanity and the "unwritten law" were the defense.

The jury found that Teson was insane at the time he killed Mayhan and that he had not fully recovered his sanity.

Judge Casteel will commit the slayer to the state asylum for the insane, to be confined there until he has recovered his reason.

Teson killed Mayhan in a grocery store at the eastern limits of the city. The slayer came from Kansas City in the morning, bought a revolver and searched for his victim several hours.

He found Mayhan setting tile at a residence and chased him for fifteen minutes, firing repeatedly as he ran. Mayhan finally sought refuge in a grocery store, where he crouched behind a pile of flour. Teson shot him in the back and death resulted in five minutes.

It was proved that Teson had pursued Teson's wife here, in Lincoln and in Kansas City. Mayhan followed the Tesons to Kansas City a few days before the killing and Mrs. Teson accompanied him on his return to St. Joseph.

Sciatic Rheumatism Cured.

"I have been subject to sciatic rheumatism for years," says E. H. Waldron, of Wilton, Junction, Iowa. "My joints were stiff and gave me much pain and discomfort. My joints would crack when I straightened up. I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm and have been thoroughly cured. Have not had a pain or ache from the old trouble for many months. It is certainly a most wonderful liniment." For sale by W. E. Bard Drug Co

Predicts a Wet Month.

James B. Mockbee, the South Monteau avenue grocer, who is something of a weather prophet, according to Al Baumgartner's way of thinking, predicts considerable rain for the remainder of the month, as the new moon is a wet one, he says. Chautauqua begins Thursday and continues until July 31, hence it is to be hoped that Mr. Mockbee is "off" in his prediction.

NOT CONVICT PRETTY WOMAN

Is the Excuse of the Police for Not Making an Arrest.

Galveston, Texas, July 13.—Though the Galveston police profess to believe Mrs. Herman Ritter, beautiful and aged 29, knows something of the murder of her husband, Herman Ritter, aged 60, a wealthy St. Louis lawyer, she has not been arrested.

The reason given by the police is that it is hard to get a Texas jury to convict a pretty woman, especially a widow. She has been quizzed by the police, as has also John T. Evans, of Fort Worth.

Ritter died from the effects of a sleeping potion. The police believe he took the first dose, and that it was given to him until death was certain. For twenty hours he was unconscious, and aid was not summoned until the end was near. On the night of his death Mrs. Ritter was the jolliest of a bathing party in the gulf.

BRANDED AS A FAKE

Joseph's Home Charitable Institution in Kansas City.

We today received a communication from the Associated Charities of Kansas City stating that Mrs. Anna Baker and the Joseph's Home, which she represents, are unworthy and not as represented, says the Boonville Democrat.

Mrs. Baker was in Boonville a few weeks ago soliciting funds for the Joseph's home, and received both money and good will from a number of our most prominent people and Christian organizations.

The letter states that she was forced to leave Minneapolis in 1899, Duluth in 1901, was convicted of fraud at Hudson, Wis., in 1902, and hurriedly left Joplin in 1005. She has solicitors working all over the central states.

HATPIN IN HER HEART

By the Bride Who Told Her Father "I'll Beat You to It."

Evansville, Ind., July 15.—Mrs. Gertrude Eccles stabbed herself in the heart with a hatpin and is dying.

She was recently married to A. O. Eccles, a frescoe painter of Nashville, Tenn., and her father, James Martin, it is said, has never forgiven her for it. It is said he was standing on the platform of the Illinois Central railroad at St. Wendel, Ind., and that he said to her:

"I will kill you right here."

The girl, pulling a pin from her hat, said:

"I will beat you to it."

And then she stabbed herself in the heart. It is said the father knocked her down after she had stabbed herself, and then fled.

A SPLIT IN THE RANKS

SOME ARE AFTER THE "PIE" ONLY

Others Would Fight for State Ticket Regulars Resent Coalition With Nelson and the Kansas City Star.

The old cry of "federal officeholder" is being heard in republican rakns this year, as it has not been heard in Missouri for many moons, says the Kansas City Post. The old charges of playing politics, not to carry the state ticket, but merely to secure the delegation to the national convention are again being made.

Time was when the republican organization made no effort to elect a state officer or a district officer for that matter. All the federal officeholders wanted was the state delegation once every four years and the control of the state organization. Then there was no chance for the non-officeholders to dislodge them and the republican cause could go to the bow wows in Missouri. It always did.

Three years ago the republicans, taking advantage of the split which Folk had caused in democratic ranks, by fighting a part of the ticket he ran on, took a brace and went in to win. The federal officeholders were not in the saddle then and the fellows who wanted something in the state took the state organization away from the pie eaters and started toward the state house with it. This was the first time since the old carpet-bagging days that somebody away up toward the head of the state organization had not been making a bigger effort to grab postoffices than he had to carry the state.

Warner's Lost Opportunity.

Senator Warner had a chance to cement the republican party in Missouri so tightly together that it could not have been split with an axe, but he didn't see it. Instead of spreading his appointments among leading members of all factions, Warner has taken care of Warner men first. Next, he has favored men whose party regularity has been under suspicion upon more than one occasion. Whether this course has been right or wrong, it has split the republicans along the old lines of "ins" and "outs," "federal officeholder," and "non federal officeholder."

It is the old scramble for pie in the republican ranks this year and the scramble bids fair to lose votes for Hadley, who is to be the nominee for governor. Warner is at the head of the officeholding faction. Naturally enough he hands out the pie. To break with Warner would be fatal to any officeholder who desires reappointment or to any non-officeholder who wants a berth.

Had Warner divided his patronage between Kerens, Niedringhaus and Warner men equally, there wouldn't have been so much complaint. But he didn't and that was the first cause of the rupture.

The second cause of trouble was the attitude of federal officeholders toward that state committee in the last campaign. Many of them refused to make any contributions whatsoever. Others interfered with the plans of representatives of the state committee in the field. The republican campaign was disorganized in many places and whatever chances the republicans may have had of winning was knocked silly by a lack of harmony between the followers of Warner and those of Niedringhaus and the state committee.

Democrats Got Assembly

The management of the republican campaign last year believed that the republicans would have the lower house of the assembly until late in the campaign. Niedringhaus men charge that the refusal of federal officeholders to work with the state committee is responsible for the democratic majority in the lower house of the assembly. They also charge that the federal officeholders actually worked against the ticket in some counties. The accuracy or inaccuracy of these charges is not the important matter to the republicans just now. The vital fact is that there was a hopeless split between those who wish to carry the state next time and those who, under the lead of Warner, are merely content to eat federal pie. The latest element of discord arises over the effort of Roosevelt and Warner to deliver the Missouri delegation to Taft. And the sorest spot of all is the action of Taft and Warner in ignoring republican leaders and taking counsel of William R. Nelson, editor and owner of the graft organ. Warner has been drifting away from the leaders of his party, say republicans, ever since his election. The alliance with Nelson to the rejection of republican leaders was hardly expected and caused great surprise. The Taft blunder in calling upon Nelson and ignoring republicans while the secretary of war was in Missouri, is one of the most discussed incidents of the day among republican politicians.

It is now evident, in the opinion of republican leaders, that Roosevelt, Taft, Warner, Nelson and such of the federal officeholders as can be kept in line by Warner, are going to neglect state issues and spend their energies in an effort to land the Missouri East Broadway for $3,500.

Nelson will, of course, back Hadley for governor. He fought Hadley when the attorney general was seeking his office, because Hadley criticised the record of Joseph W. Folk. That has been patched up long since, however, and Nelson will use his newspaper to boost Hadley, letting the rest of the state ticket go, while he tries to help Taft and Warner land the Missouri delegation.

HE HAD TAKEN ON A JAG

HIS RESIGNATION IS DEMANDED

Conveyed Within the Penitentiary Walls, He Revived, and Scampered for a Michigan Train.

Columbus, Ohio, July 15.—Thompson Burton, of Youngstown, a member of the board of managers of the Ohio penitentiary, has been politely requested by Governor Harris to tender his resignation the same to take effect upon its receipt. In his letter to Burton the governor states no reason further than to tell the colonel that he can best understand the cause for his action.

What the governor did is the result of what happened at the prison last Thursday, when Burton, in alighting from a carriage upon his arrival from a trip up street, fell to the sidewalk and had to be assisted into the institution by Steward Miller and another official. It was said at the time that Burton was not feeling well. This was confirmed by Warden Gould and others.

According to the story given to the governor, Burton secured one of the prison carriages and proceeded on a tour of the city. Time passed, and he did not return. Warden Gould, being in need of the conveyance, waited until his patience had become exhausted, and then sent a messenger in search of the missing member of the board, with instructions to tell the driver, who was a trusty prisoner, to return immediately with the rig.

It was "meeting day" and the entrance to the prison was filled with visitors present for the purpose mostly of assisting prisoners who were applicants for parole. The carriage arrived, and when Burton emerged he created the scene depicted.

After being partly carried to quarters in the prison he was placed on a couch and revived shortly. Then he was hustled to a train and placed aboard, his destination being Detour, Mich., his summer home.

It seems that when Burton concluded to leave the city he changed his clothes. When the conductor came for his fare he discovered that his money was in the raiment left behind, and the good-natured railroad employe paid the price out of his own pocket.

Burton was appointed to the position by Governor Herrick. He would have served until 1909, but for the present trouble, which is not the first, according to Governor Harris and prison officials. They say that at a meeting one year ago he was similarly indisposed.

The resignation of Burton now places the board back where it was before the term of Cole Gillard, a republican, expired, and Edward Crayton, Newark, a democrat, was selected to the vacancy by the late Governor Pattison.

Burton was a democrat, but his successor will be a republican, making the board change its political complexion. Burton voted with the democrats, Crayton and McEldin Dun, to oust Warden Gould and elect in his place Price Russell, of Wooster. This was before Governor Patterson died. He also voted with the republicans to rescind the resolution adopted cutting off the official head of Warden Gould which left Russell out in the cold.

Governor Harris stated that he did not have the slightest idea whom he would appoint to the vacancy, but the new man would be a republican. Already there is some talk that Cole Gilliland will attempt to be reinstated for "vindication," if nothing else.

Hill's Business College Notes.

About a month ago the head of the department of athletics of the University of Missouri, called us up on the long distance telephone and asked us to recommend some one to fill the position of secretary and chief clerk in his department. On our nomination, Mr. Edgar C. Nelson, of Bunceton, Mo., went to Columbia to apply for the position in person. He has just been notified that the board of regents at its last meeting selected him for this important position at a salary of $75 to begin with.

The way in which this position was offered to us, and the character of the position in itself, speaks more for the graduates of Hill's Business college than the filling of many ordinary positions. During the past year there has not been a single graduate of our stenographic or combination course who has not been given an opportunity to accept a position at $50 or more per month.

Mr. A. E. Taylor, of Lamonte, Mo., left for St. Louis on the night of the Fourth. He writes us that the next day after he arrived he accepted a position in the general offices of the Missouri Pacific railway as bookkeeper in the auditor's department at a salary of $50 per month to begin with. We are informed that there are hundreds of applicants who have never had business training enrolled with the various employment bureaus of St. Louis, but no one but trained men can secure these positions.

Miss Libbie Quinn left last week for Kansas City to accept a position as stenographer, which was secured through the influence of an old student of our school.

Miss Grace Martin spent a pleasant hour at the college the other day. She is at home on a visit from Kansas City, where she went after graduating in April. She has a fine position with Bradstreet, and sees many of our old students each week and tells us that they are getting along well.

SAVED FROM A MOB

Angry Union Men Attempted to Storm Little Rock Hotel.

Little Rock. Ark., July 15.—A riot was narrowly averted by the police Saturday night. Two non-union coppersmiths arrived in Little Rock several days ago to take the place of strikers in the Iron Mountain shops. The men, realizing their danger, purchased railroad tickets Saturday, intending to leave for their home in St. Louis.

While in a barber shop they were informed that about 100 union coppersmiths and tinners were on the outside waiting for them.

A squad of police was dispatched to the scene and escorted the two non-union men to a hotel. The crowd made several attempts to get the men, but were driven off by the police. After reaching the hotel the union men attempted to force entrance through the office, but were denied admittance.

The street was densely crowded and it required considerable effort on the part of the police to disperse the crowd, which was accomplished at 10 o'clock.

BATES COUNTY POOR HOUSE

Board Recommends That New Building Be Erected.

A board of visitors, after inspecting the Bates county poor house, has made a report showing a deplorable condition at the poor farm, but one which the members frankly admit cannot be wholly remedied under the conditions as now exist, says the Clinton Democrat.

The old building is wholly inadequate for the use, absolutely devoid of sanitary arrangement, and the walls of the old wooden structure infested with vermin that only the torch would thoroughly eradicate.

The board's recommendation, that a new, modern, fire proof structure be erected, is a good one and will meet with the hearty support of every humanitarian. Bates county is wealthy and her people progressive, patriotic and willing to assume the burdens that belong to them.

EXPLOSION ON BATTLE SHIP

While at Target Practice Powder Blew Up, Injuring 17.

Washington, July 15.—An explosion occurred this morning on the battle ship Georgia while the vessel was at target practice in Cape Cod bay, Mass., and seventeen persons were injured, among them being Lieut. Goodrich and Midshipmen Cruse and Goldthwaite. Cruse is seriously hurt.

SLUMP IN SALOONS

In Ohio Under the Increased License Was Only 409.

Columbus, Ohio, July 13.—According to the figures just compiled by Auditor of State Gilbert, the net decrease of saloons on May 28, as reported by the numerous county auditors in Ohio, as having neglected to make application for a renewal of the Aiken tax, is 409.

This is based on a comparison of last year, when there were 9,992 places where liquor was retailed, with 9,563 making applications this year. In Hamilton county the net decrease was 238, and in the Chillicothe and Athens district, composed of the counties outside of Hamilton, in that section of the state, the reduction was 168. The gain in Cuyahoga county was 91, while the loss in the Toledo and Cleveland district was 94.

Increasing the liquor tax from $350 to $1,000 did not work as outlined by its champions before the General Assembly, who believed that the falling off would be at leats 40 per cent.

However, it has proved a remarkable revenue producer, as the strong boxes of the state treasurer are bulging with funds, eagerly being watched by trustees of the various state institutions, who will find some excuse for additional appropriations in their annual reports.

HE SAW ANOTHER WORLD

Walter Dirck's Strange Forecast of Death Came True.

Warsaw, Ind., July 13.—After telling his parents that he had an awful dream to the effect that he had died and had been carried away to some new world Walter Dirck, aged 11 years, the son of Leonard Dirck, a railroad employe of Burkett, this county, went to a couch, lay down and died.

While attending the funeral of a friend at Palestine cemetery the boy turned to his parents and remarked that he would be the next to be placed in a casket and lowered into a grave in the same cemetery.

His hearers were amazed. On returing to his home he sought out his friends and asked forgiveness for any wrongs he might have done them.

After accomplishing his mission he returned home, retired for the night, and in a vision had a premonition of his death.

Several years ago the boy was struck by lightning, and since then he has been subject to spasms, which, it is believed, caused his death.

A CLASS OF TWENTY

Took the First Degree in the Knights of Columbus Sunday.

A class of twenty candidates, nearly all of whom reside at Tipton, had the first degree of the Knights of Columbus conferred on them by Sedalia council No. 831, at the hall over the Democrat-Sentinel office Sunday afternoon. The initiatory work began promptly at 2 o'clock and was concluded two hours later.

Following the conferring of the degree, Lecturer Pat Shea was given the floor and presided over a social session, during which interesting talks were made by Rev. Fr. McNamee, Judge D. E. Kenney and W. G. Lynch.

A quartette, under the direction of John Solon, rendered a musical selection, followed by vocal selections by J. M. Dobel and Andy Knipp, being followed in turn by a short but interesting talks from a visiting Knight.

GAVE HIM A LIFE TERM

A Man in Indiana, Where Murderers Are Never Executed.

Muncie, Ind., July 13.—In disposing of Tony Miller, the wife slayer, in the circuit court, Delaware county maintained her record of having never sentencer a murderer to death, though a hundred or more murders have occurred here. Miller entered a plea of guilty, and was given a life sentence in Michigan City prison at hard labor.

The young man claimed that he was goaded to the crime after seeing his wife hugged and kissed by Orin Kennedy, the man Miller returned to kill after making good his escape.

This last move led to his capture by a posse of officers, who chased him to a box car, from which barricade he fought with a gun till shot down by Sheriff Perdlue. Miller married the woman at Lima, Ohio.

A BIRTHDAY PARTY

It Was Given in Honor of Miss Ruth Harriman Friday Evening.

A birthday party was given by little Miss Ruth Harriman Friday evening, it being her seventh birthday. About twenty of her little friends assembled at her home, 222 East Sixteenth street, and the evening was passed very pleasantly. Many games were played, after which refreshments of ice cream, cake, fruits and lemonade were served.

Miss Lucille Donohue was winner of the first prize. Master David Donohue won the first booby prize, and Miss Mada Rodecker was awarded the second booby prize. The presents were numerous and highly appreciated. About 6 o'clock the little guests departed for their respective homes, wishing little Miss Ruth many more pleasant birthdays.

HIDDEN DANGERS.

Nature Gives Timely Warnings That No Sedalia Citizen Can Afford to Ignore.

Danger Signal No. 1 comes from the kidney secretions. They will warn you when the kidneys are sick. Well kidneys excrete a clear, amber fluid. Sick kidneys send out a thin, pale and foamy, or a thick, red, ill-smelling urine, full of sediment and irregular of passage.

Danger Signal No. 2 comes from the back. Back pains, dull and heavy, or sharp and acute, tell you of sick kidneys and warn you of the coming [illegible]y, diabetes and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and cure them permanently. Here's Sedalia proof:

Mrs. Julia E. Crawford, of 302 East Seventh street, Sedalia, Mo., says: "Whenever I caught cold or overtaxed myself I was sure to suffer from backache and pains over the kidneys. At such times the kidney secretions became irregular and showed traces of a brick dust sediment. I learned the value of Doan's Kidney Pills in such cases and procured them at W. E. Bard's drug store. I have used them at various times during the past three years and they have never failed to give me relief. I do not hesitate a moment in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills to all who suffer from backache or kidney trouble, for I am positive that they are a most valuable and effective medicine."

For sale by all dealers. Price. 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

LEAVE PRISON JULY 19

KANSAS CITY MAN, REFORMED WHILE FUGITIVE, SOON TO BE FREE.

IT IS SAID TWO JOBS AWAIT HIM

Wife He Won After Escape Will Greet Him at Big Gate—History of a Truly Remarkable Case.

Leavenworth, Kan., July 15.—William January, also known as Charles W. Anderson, the United States penitentiary inmate, for whose pardon 37,000 Missourians petitioned, will leave the prison Friday, July 19, after having been a prisoner since April 20, 1907, on which day he was brought here from Kansas City, Mo., to serve out the unexpired portion of his sentence of five years.

January, who is prisoner No. 308, was sentenced to Leavenworth for breaking into a general store, in which was a post office. He was convicted at Stillwater, Okla,. Dec. 10, 1895, and his full term would have expired in 1899. October 9, 1898 he and another convict named Axton escaped from the prison, then located at Fort Leavenworth. In April of this year Barnes, another ex-convict, "snitched" to the Kansas City police and caused January to be recaptured.

During the time January was out of prison he was known by the name of Anderson and lived a model life, so far as known. Popular indignation condemned Barnes for the part he took in the affair and he was practically forced to leave Kansas City.

Pardon Pretty Freely Signed.

Many newspapers urged that the president be petitioned to pardon January. Members of the Missouri house of representatives, the Kansas City Board of Trade, Chamber of Commerce, labor organizations, members and others signed the request, and the president referred it to the department of justice, recommending that the sentence be commuted immediately.

Attorney General Bonaparte, not wishing to encourage prisoners to escape, recommended as a compromise that the sentence be commuted to three months from the date of his re-arrest and that January be then pardoned. This was approved.

What January will do when he leaves the prison has not yet been decided by him or his wife. It is said that a Kansas City merchant wishes to start him in the tailoring business; or that he may sell coffees and teas, at which he was successful after he escaped from the prison. He has not intimated his desires, but he will reside in Kansas City, the city which came to his aid and saved him from a prison sentence that would have expired June 21, 1909, is fully decided.

Wife Going to Meet Him.

At 7 a. m. next Friday January will be free to leave the prison and face the world. His wife who has stood by him so nobly, though she did not know his record before their marriage, will come here with her child, and, accompanied by friends, they will return to Kansas City. Report has it that a reception will be given to him there, but the natrue of this has not yet been made known.

If January desires he may leave the prison in citizens' clothing, made in the prison tailor shop. Every discharged prisoner is given a suit of clothes, good underwear, socks, shirt, collar, necktie, hat and shoes; in fact, he is completely outfitted, and given transportation to the place from which he was sentenced. In this case it would be to Stillwater, Okla., but January only asks it to Kansas City. It is said January's friend, a Kansas City tailor, who first circulated a petition for his release, will send a suit of clothing for him to wear from the prison.

Didn't Want a Parole.

When January was returned to the prison the newspapers published many stories relative to his excellent behavior, and Warden R. W. McClaughry, after a talk with the prisoner, made the following recommendation in the prisoner's record sheet:

"In view of the commendable life led by January, No. 308, while he was an escaped prisoner, a full account of which I have just had from him, I feel warranted in directing that he be relieved of his striped suit and clad in the gray prison garb."

All "escapes" are given striped suits on their return, while well behaved prisoners wear the gray and paroles the chalk blue. A well behaved convict has the privilege of asking a parole, which permits him to sleep in a dormitory instead of a cell room, and eat at a special table. January was given a parole application blank by Deputy Warden Lemon. It has certain questions to be answered, and an oath is given to not run away.

January returned the blank, stating that he did not care to sign it.

Chillicothe His Home.

Had he done so he would have been given work on the prison farm outside the walls, but he preferred remaining in the laundry, where he was employed sorting clothing.

January's home is in Chillicothe, Mo., where his brother and aged mother reside. The brother recently called upon him. The prisoner pretended not to know him. The brother asked January why he had not come home or sent word where he was, but the prisoner only hung his head as if in shame.

William January is the prisoner's right name, and the probabilities are that he will again assume it on his release, instead of that of Charles William Anderson. He has no reason now to cloud his identity.

THE PRINCE IS MISSING

REPORT WAS MADE BY FORMER VAUDEVILLE ACTRESS, MISS WEST.

THEY WERE SECRETLY MARRIED

This Is the Claim of the Bride, Who Thinks That Her Husband From Abroad Has Met With Foul Play, Most Likely.

New York, July 15.—Prince Victor of Thurn and Taxis, nephew of the late Empress of Austria, friend of the Vanderbilts, Goelets, Gerrys and other prominent New York families, was reported as missing by a beautiful young woman, who asserts that she was secretly married to the Prince last October.

Mrs. Taxis, as she says the prince told her to call herself until they returned to Austria and he introduced her as the princess, lives in handsome apartments in No. 480 Park avenue.

She declared that the prince suddenly left her about six weeks ago after a slight quarrel and she fears that some misfortune may have befallen him, as she has no tidings from him.

To society the report of the marriage of the prince will come as a decided surprise, for the matchmakers in fashionable circles have several times believed that the prince would find a wife amid their ranks and another addition be made to the list of American millionaire princesses.

But the princess of Park avenue says that she is poor. She was Miss Josephine West and lived in Jacksonville, Fla., until she went upon the vaudeville stage.

She says that at first she did not wish to marry the prince, but he went upon his knees to her time and time again, and finally threatened to shoot himself unless she would marry him.

ROAD AND FARM IMPROVEMENT

HANDY WAGON TOOL BOX.

Keep the Implements Handy Which May Be Needed for Breakdown.

At this season of the year the farmers are getting busy in the fields and where a breakdown occurs, especially if the farms are large, a great deal of time is lost in going for repairs. There are always apt to be unforeseen accidents which are more or less costly, and a simple device of this sort may prove helpful to many of our readers. Those who are working on the roads or are doing any amount of hauling, as well as farmers working in the field, should provide themselves with a set of tools which would come into play in case of an accident. By experience we have found that accidents generally happen in the worst possible place, where it is difficult to help ourselves. Sometimes the losing of a nut or bolt may be the means of throwing out a half day's work, rendering it impossible to continue until the damage has been repaired. While a great many of our farmers may think it is unnecessary and that it is always best to have everything snug and shipshape before going to the field or setting out on a journey, accidents will happen, no matter how much care is taken.

A wagon box such as is described here, says The Farmer, will frequently come into use and be the means of saving a considerable outlay that would otherwise be necessary for repairs. This box can be made about 18 inches long and 16 inches wide and five or six inches deep. It should be provided with several compartments for nuts and bolts of various sizes. It is large enough to contain such things as an extra hame strap, wrench, some staples, bolts, nuts, screws, screwdriver, hammer, cold chisel, wood chisel, punch, pincers, hoofknife, copper rivets, some open links, hatchet, a few wrought nails and such other things as experience may prove to be convenient to have. The shape of the box is shown in the illustration. The middle of the top is nailed fast, while on each side is a hinged lid, fastened with a hasp and staple for a lock, if necessary. This box can be suspended from the guide pole directly beneath the center of the wagon box by two strong leather straps with buckles. Such a box would not be in the way and would be easily accessible if anything was wanted.

SCIENCE AND FARMING.

The Wisdom of Making Nature Fight the Insect Foes.

Scientists are now realizing that the abundance of insect pests which the farmer of to-day has to battle with is due largely, if not entirely, to the upsetting of nature's laws.

Before man placed the woods and prairies under cultivation, excessive increase of any insect species was perhaps unknown, or, at most, very rare.

Nature has always provided forces which operate against each other, as it were, and with insects, as with other creatures, a balance between the numbers of different species has been maintained.

Modern methods of farming have often decreased the natural enemies of injurious insects, says Coleman's Rural World, and in other cases have afforded conditions favoring the rapid multiplication of insects not formerly present in dangerous numbers.

The practical entomologist of today, while not discounting the value of poisons and sprays as implements of war against the six-footed host, recognizes that really satisfactory control is to be brought about by a partial or total restoration of the conditions under which nature formerly prevented the different species from becoming too numerous. The entomologist accordingly studies parasitic enemies and diseases which destroy the injurious insects, and oftentimes he is enabled to encourage the parasites to such an extent that they largely or entirely control the injurious forms.

The Middle Man.

A New York report says that a great butter trust has been formed, backed by a capital of $30,000,000. The projectors declare that they are going to eliminate the middle man in the selling of butter, and that they propose to get control of practically all the butter made in the country. This butter is all to be reworked to a single grade. It will probably prove to be but one mode of the many fruitless attempts to get rid of that very necessary worker, the middleman. Under the present financial arrangements for doing business, the middleman is a necessity.

The Berry Bushes.

Don't let the berry bushes grow all over the garden. Confine them to rows and chop off the head of every plant that comes up out of place.

SPENCER TOOK IT BACK

HURRIEDLY WITHDREW STATEMENT IN KANSAS CITY OF BIG GAME BAG.

WELL-KNOWN ST. JOSEPH LAWYER

He Said He Had Shipped 47 Birds From Southern Missouri, but Retracted When "Game Warden" Appeared.

Friends of Judge O. M. Spencer, general solicitor of the Burlington railroad, know he was absent recently from St. Joseph for a few days, but few of them know what the railroad attorney did during his absence, says the St. Joseph News-Press of Friday. The story is leaking out now, and with a narrative of the events of the judge's vacation is related an incident of his stopover in Kansas City on the return trip.

From all accounts, it is understood that Judge Spencer hied himself to Southern Missouri, where game laws are lax and wardens never annoy. Soon after he established headquarters in the game district, several local friends partook of all sorts of birds, although no one will admit that they were shipped to St. Joseph by the attorney. When the judge's train pulled into the union passenger station at Kansas City, he was greeted by several of his friends among the legal fraternity.

"Yes, been down south doing a little hunting,' he admitted, in response to a question.

"Got forty-seven birds," he continued, when some one asked him the extent of his good fortune. "Yes, sir," he continued, "I bagged forty-seven beauties. Shipped 'em up home to St. Joseph to some friends."

"Did I understand you to say that you shot forty-seven birds a few days ago down here in Missouri," interrupted an imposing appearing individual, who stepped up to the little group. Judge Spencer had not noticed one of his friends a moment before hurriedly waylaying the newcomer in another part of the station and holding a rapid whispered conversation with him.

"Yes, that's just what I did," replied Judge Spencer.

"Well, I'm the game warden, and under your own admission, which you have made in the presence of all of these gentlemen, you are guilty of forty-seven separate and distinct infractions of the law."

"Well, do you know who I am?" savagely returned Judge Spencer.

The "warden" faltered. He didn't know how the joke was going to turn out. and he began to fear that he had taken liberties with some celebrity, and that he was in for a "calling."

"No, I can't say that I do know," he ventured, looking around to see if his aiders and abettors in the joke intended to extricate him from his awkward position.

"I'll tell you who I am," said Spencer. "I'm the damndest liar in Missouri."

Will Have a Picnic July 23.

A committee of seven members of Fidelity council No. 53, K. and L. of S., also a committee of the same number from Queen City council of the K. and L. of S. are arranging to hold a picnic at Thatcher's ford, on Flat creek, on the afternoon and evening of July 23.

The affair will be for members of the lodges and friends. The party will leave the court house square during the afternoon and returning here will reach home about 11 p. m.

A FISH IN HER BLOOMERS

Briny Monster Dived Into the Pretty Surf Bather's Clothes.

Atlantic City, N. J., July 16.—Miss Flo Boone. a pretty girl, who hails from Camden, was dipping joyously in the surf off Chelsea when she was heard to utter a piercing shriek. Those near her saw her clutch madly at her bathing dress and slip under the water only to rise again, still screaming, and begin a dance beside which Salome's gyrations would seem child's play.

"Cramps!" shouted one of the bathers. Then the life guards dragged the struggling Miss Boone to shore.

There it was found that a fish had slipped inside the neck of the girl's bathing suit and lost its way. The more it tried to get out the more she screamed until the frightened fish, escaping from her clutching fingers, wriggled down into her bloomers, where it defied capture.

But Miss Boone promptly clapped her hand on the region of her garter and the faltering life guards braced themselves to do their duty. Half a dozen feminine bathers came to the rescue with a wave to the men population to stand back and discreetly formed a screen while the briny monster was removed.

Fine Rain That Was Needed.

A fine rain, that was general in this section, fell Sunday morning, and was followed by another down-pour Sunday night, and also more rain Monday morning, so that the farmers are now in high glee. Threshing may be delayed a little by the drenching the earth received, but the corn crop will be greatly benefited, and is Missouri "corn is king, you know."

Big Purchase of Land.

The Fulton Gazette says that Koontz & Palmer, Fulton real estate agents, have just closed a deal whereby Sam W. Roberts, of Boonville, comes into possession of 2,355 acres of land in Jackson and McCredie townships at a cost of $79,007.41. Seven farms are included in the purchase. Possession of the property will be given March 1, 1908.

Kicking on a Street.

If the Sedalia restaurants want to have lots of business, says the Smithton Sunbeam, they should make it a point to have everyone take a drive out East Fifth street, and if it does not make them hungry it certainly will not be because they were not shaken enough.

CLAIMS THAT RATES ARE FIXED

Sixty Companies Are Involved and All May Be Declared Out of Business in State if the Suit Goes Through.

Topeka, Kan., July 13.—Judge A. W. Dana, of the county district court today granted a temporary injunction, asked for by Attorney General Jackson, restraining the sixty-two foreign fire insurance companies doing business in Kansas from using a rate sheet compiled by Charles N. Eldridge, which it is alleged is in violation of the Kansas anti-trust law.

The suits are based on information furnished by Superintendent of Insurance Barnes, who alleged that the bureau of which Eldridge is the head arbitrarily fixed the cost and rate of insurance in the state, which is now extortionately high, and that it almost totally abolished all competition.

This bureau is a successor to the one put out of business by former Insurance Commissioner Webb McNall. The attorney general will at a later date ask to have the injunction made permanent.

General Jackson went further than to ask the suspension, as he specifically asked that if the defendant companies fail to comply with the orders of the court that a receiver be appointed to take charge of each company that is involved.

VERDICT IS WITHHELD

Arsenic May Have Been Prescribed in Speer's Medicine.

Lima, Ohio, July 16.—The analysis of the stomach of David E. Speer as made by Expert Curtis Howard, of Columbus, shows arsenic in sufficient quantities to have caused death, and Coroner Steiner has wired the chemist for a sworn statement of the findings. This is the most serious phase as yet presented in the case, for which the decedent's widow has now been two weeks behind jail doors.

Coroner Steiner admits that the chemical analysis makes him prejudiced as to the cause of death, but he will continue the inquest this week, making the severest kinr of a probe before rendering the verdict on which rests the fate of the woman.

Should it be shown that arsenic compounds of any kind had been prescribed the state's case would be greatly weakened and the prisoner probably discharged, but the attending physician has testified he never gave arsenic in any form.

And Hops Shall Flow.

Miamisburg, Ohio, July 13.—At the Germantown local option election yesterday 572 votes were cast. The "wets" won by 37 majority. Two years ago the "drys" won by 31 majority.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

A LAST EFFORT FOR PEACE

Commissioner Neill Will Try to Settle Telegraphers' Troubles.

San Francisco, July 13.—With the arrival last night of the United States labor commissioner, Charles B. Neill, of Washington, and Vice Presidents J. Konenkamp, M. J. Reidy and Joseph M. Sullivan, of the national executive committee of the telegraphers, the result of the final effort to prevent an extension of the telegraphers' strike probably will be known by tomorrow or Monday.

Commissioner Neill lost no time in getting in touch with the local situation and last night held conferences in Oakland with representatives of both sides to the controversy. At the conclusion of a conference lasting one hour with I. N. Miller, assistant general superintendent of the Western Union, the commissioner declined to say what the outcome of the meeting was. It is expected that he will meet General Superintendent Storer, of the Postal company today.

A mass meeting of the telegraphers will be held in Oakland tonight, which Commissioner Neill said he would attend. The officials of both telegraph companies have also been invited.

KILLED BY LIVE WIRE

And Wife Struck by Lightning as She Hears the News.

Columbus, Ind., July 13.—R. F. Gottschalk, aged 45, president of the Columbus Street Railway company for fifteen years, was electrocuted here yesterday.

A span of wire had parted from the trolley and Mr. Gottschalf attempted to splice the broken wire. He slipped from the ladder and, grasping the broken wire, he carried it to the ground with him.

The wire wound itself around his body and 600 volts of electricity coursed through him, burning him horribly in the presence of a number of persons, who dared not lend assistance lest they, too, would get killed.

When a relative was telephoning the sad news to the widow the latter was struck by lightning and severely injured. She is in a critical condition.

A PETTIS COUNTY STORY

IT IS A REMINISCENCE OF THE RECENT WAR OF THE REBELLION.

CAPT. H. K. THOMPSON, BEAMAN, MO

Figured in an Exciting Event in the Trouble Between the States—Thirty-Two Chautauquas in Missouri.

The resurrection or rediscovery of an old copy of the Missouri State Journal of July 2, 1861, published in St. Louis, and the republication of an extract from it in the Sedalia Democrat-Sentinel has brought to light a bit of history out of the past from an original source, writes Walter Williams, of the Columbia Herald, in Sunday's St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The old State Journal had a number of articles relative to the war, and among them this head, "A Game Young Man. What Is His Name?" The article, referring to an incident which took place just after the first battle of Boonville between General Nathaniel Lyons and the Union troops, who had come onto the Missouri state troops, said:

"Among the young men taken prisoners by General Lyons at Boonville were three who wore the camp Jackson uniform, all of whom were charged with having been in that encampment, and therefore guilty of violating their parole of honor. None of them, however, were guilty. While it is said a number of the prisoners taken claimed they had been duped by former Governor Jackson, there was one from Saline, or Howard, a young Kentuckian, wearing the camp Jackson uniform, who boldly told the sergeant who arrested him that he was a secessionist out and out; that he believed the south had been trampled upon and outraged; that Governor Jackson had not fooled him; that he intended to fight for the south, and opening his breast and striking it, remarked: 'Here is as good a heart as ever beat in the breast of mortal man,' and they might shoot him if they wished to, for he had no apologies to make. The sergeant told him they cared nothing for his secession views, but he must not take up arms against the government, for it was a great crime.

"Who was this young man? We would like to know his name. We hear it is Thomson. Is it so?"

When the attention of Charles J. Walden, now of Boonville, and editor of the Advertiser, was called to the paper he identified the party whose name history had not recorded. He was Captain H. K. Thomson, now of Beaman, a well known fruit grower. Captain Thomson was then but a boy and had enlisted to fight for the Confederacy.

"I was an eyewitness," said Mr. Walden, "to the capture of Thomson and the other two men, one of whom was Elijah Simms, of Howard county. The name of the other party I do not now remember, if I ever knew it. Simms, Lindsey, Carson, of Howard county, the later a nephew of the late famous Kit Carson, and I were together coming up the river from the battlefield. At the old fair grounds we fell in with Thomson and other parties.

"Thomson was mountel on a fine gray horse and had no gun. I was carrying two guns, one of which I had picked up where it had been thrown away by some one in the retreat. Thomson suggested that I let him have one of them and that we go up the road where a company of soldiers had stopped, apparently to rest. They called to us several times to come up. Some of the party suggested they were our friends and if we didn't go to them they might shoot us.

"We replied that we were not going to anyone who would shoot us, and we made a bee line down the hill for the river, with a shower of bullets whizzing about us. Thomson and Simms and the other party, thinking they were our own troops, went to them and were taken prisoners. Carson and myself, then nothing but boys, made the race of our lives and never stopped running till we got aboard the ferry boat, which was just pulling out for the Howard side of the river with a few of the retreating Confederates. The federal cavalry was then in town and General Lyon's transports were just below town and tried to stop the ferry boats from crossing the river, but their shells did not reach us.

Thomson, Brant, Pierce and James A. Walden, my brother, the two latter members of the Richmond Grays company, raised by John B. Clark, Jr., at Fayette, were accused of being camp Jackson's paroled prisoners and were sentenced to be shot. Through the influence of Weston H. Birch, Clark H. Green and other influential Union men who knew the Howard county boys were not at camp Jackson, had them paroled with some thirty other members of the same company who were captured near the place where the skirmish took place on that Monday morning, June 17, 1861."

The chautauqua was never so popular in Missouri. Just now in this midsummer month of July there are thirty-two chautauquas or summer assemblies in progress in the state. They cover the entire state, from Carthage on the south to Trenton and Maryville on he north. One organizer has equipped fourteen chautauquas and manages these as a department store. The present year chautauqua discusses present day problems more than previous year assemblies. The emphasis is placed upon practical, social and economic conditions in the addresses from the chautauqua platform.

Bryan, La Follette, Hadley, Folk, Hoch are among the star attractions on the Missouri chautauqua platform this year. All discuss politics, not so much from the standpoint of party as from the viewpoint of non-partisan consideration. Nevertheless, the general drift is toward the framing of party platforms and the decision as to party candidates. The present day chautauqua in Missouri has become an adjunct to a good government campaign.

The usual proportion of women at the assemblies is also noticeable. Either the men are too busy cutting wheat or selling goods, or for some other reason, they are not present at the chautauquas in nearly so large numbers as the women. Some chautauqua days look like a mid-week prayer meeting on a large scale. The number of chautauquas in Missouri is nearly 50 per cent greater than last year and their effectiveness is also greater.

An outcome of the chautauqua movement will be the establishment by the united presbyterian forces of the state at some central point of a summer assembly modeled upon the lines of the Winona Lake, Ind., enterprise. The location has not yet been determined, though this year's conference will be held at Pertle Springs, near Warrensburg, in Johnson county. Versailles and other points are under consideration. In addition to the summer assembly, or Bible conference, it is planned to establish an educational plant which will be open and in operation the entire year.

WHAT'S KILLING TREES?

Grass Also Perishing in Midst of Unusually Wet Season.

The citizens of West Coates street and West End Place are considerably concerned over the mysterious deaths of several stately shade trees which have stood the test of time in wet and dry seasons for many years, says the Moberly Democrat.

Three fine box elders in front of the residences of Arthur Curran and Pat McDonald, on West Coates street, have recently shown signs of decay and at this time are practically dead, their once handsome green foliage having turned yellow, shriveled and dry.

Also a stately elm just across the street in the yard of Mrs. Buchanan is mysteriously dying. In this locality the grass, recently a luxurious green, is drying up and fading away. On the Obe Hume place, what was once the handsomest shade tree in the city, a large spreading oak, has gone the way of those noted above and is now practically dead.

What is it that is causing these trees to die is somewhat of a mystery. The season has been and is still one of copious rainfall. There is nothing, so far as the casual observer can discern, that would bring about such results. There is considerable speculation in the affected vicinity, but as yet no one has been able to solve the mystery.

THE RAILROADS WON THERE

Alabama Law Against Removal of Suits to Federal Courts Invalid.

Montgomery, Ala., July 15.—Judge Jones, of the United States circuit court, has ruled that the new state law, under which removal of a suit by a railroad company is invalid and in violation of the constitutions of both state and nation.

It abrogates, the court holds, the contract made between the corporation and the state and also is in violation of the state constitutional provision that corporations shall have the same rights to sue and be sued as individuals.

The court also gave reasons for granting temporary injunctions to restrain operation of state rate and regulation laws, his object being to allow the railroads opportunity to prove their allegations that the laws are confiscatory.

Missouri has a law similar to the Alabama law on the subjects of railroads removing cases from the state to the federal courts. It has not been tested in this state, but is likely to be before fall.

The rate regulation laws in Alabama include a two-cent fare law, but the fact that in that state the people will pay the old rates without trying the new while the law is in litigation merely means that the attorney general of Missouri put up a more vigorous fight than the corresponding officials of Alabama. It helps to emphasize the usefulness of public officials who will fight.

HOW TO GET ON A TICKET

PROVISIONS OF NEW PRIMARY ELECTION LAW IN MISSOURI.

STATE OFFICE TO THE CONSTABLE

Has This Anything to Do With There Being So Many Candidates for Sheriff in Pettis County Next Year?

The new primary election law has these provisions:

"Provided, that for county officers a declaration by candidate, in which shall be stated the applicant's full name and residence, the office for which he proposes as a candidate, and the party upon whose ticket he is to be a candidate, shall be accepted and filed by the proper official in lieu of all other nomination papers as required in this act. Said declaration to be filed in the same time and manner as is provided in this act.

"Each signer of a nomination paper shall sign by one such paper for the same office, and shall declare that he intends to support the candidate named therein; he shall add his residence, with the street and number, if any, and the date of signing.

"Such nomination papers shall be signed:

"1. If for a state office, by at least 1 per cent of the voters of the party of such candidate, in at least six of the counties in the state and in the aggregate not less than 1 per cent, nor more than 10 per cent of the total vote of his party in the state.

2. If for a representative in congress, by at least 2 per cent of the voters of his party, in at least one-tenth of the election precincts in each of at least one-half of the counties of he congressional district, and in the aggregate not less than 2 per cent nor more than 10 per cent of the total vote of his party in such district.

"3. If for an office representing less than a congressional district in area, by at least 3 per cent of the total party vote in at least one-sixth of the electric precincts of such district, and in the aggregate not less than 3 per cent, nor more than 10 per cent of the total vote of his party in such district.

"Provided, that the office of representative to the general assembly of Missouri shall be regarded as a county office under the provisions of this act."

VISITED THE HOLY LAND

RETURN OF REV. W. T. McCLURE, A METHODIST DIVINE AT NEVADA, MO.

HE MET MISS BIRDSEYE IN PARIS

On His Return His Ship Struck an Iceberg, but No Serious Damage Resulted—Points of Interest Visited.

Rev. W. T. McClure, pastor of Centenary church, arrived home Friday after a tour which included many historic and interesting points in the old world, says Saturday's Nevada Mail. Rev. McClure had a most delightful trip, and fortunately escaped the unpleasant seasickness which attacks so many travelers.

During his long stay he met but four people he knew, these being: Dr. Lee and wife, of Atlanta, Ga.; Dr. Keener, of New Orleans, and Miss Mary Birdseye, of Nevada. Dr. McClure met Miss Birdseye at Paris, and says she is the best guide in the world, and that he never met a friend in his life that was more courteous and considerate. Dr. McClure says Miss Birdseye knows Paris as well as Nevada, and that she speaks French fluently.

While Rev. McClure was journeying over seas and lands he complimented the Mail and its readers by writing some exceedingly interesting letters describing his travels and those things of special interest to us all.

Dr. McClure left Nevada April 22, going to St. Louis, where he remained one day and then departed for New York city. Here he spent two days and sailed for Naples April 27.

His sea voyage was of fifteen days duration and on the way he stopped at Ponta Bellgrade, which is located upon a group of islands two thousand miles east of New York.

Bellgrade is a beautiful city of 30,000 inhabitants and its tropical gardens are of special interest. From Bellgrade the good ship sailed for Gibraltar, the greatest sea fort in the world. Including the soldiers stationed in the fort there are between twelve and fifteen thousand people living in the city of Gibraltar.

From this famous fort he sailed to Algiers, Africa, remaining there ten hours, and then renewed his journey to Naples. Rev. McClure spent three days at Naples and visited also the places adjacent thereto, which are of special interest, including Pompeii and the world-famous Vesuvius. Dr. McClure says this famous volcano was very peaceful and he climbed to the top and looked down into the crater.

From Naples he went to Rome the Mecca of all foreign travelers and spent nine days. He visited the vatican, but failed to see the Pope. He visited the Roman Forum, St. Peters, the Nine Hills, St. Pauls, the Grove of Shelley and many other places of historic interest.

On May 25 he left Rome for Palestine and landed May 29, remaining at Beirut two days and then went to Haifa, which is located at the foot of Mt. Carmel. He went to the top of the mountain and visited Elijah's cave and the cave where the prophets lived and also visited the Catholic monastery. He then took a carriage to Nazareth, a distance of twenty-four miles. The road is a splendid macadamized thoroughfare and the twenty-four miles were traveled within five hours.

The night was spent there and in the morning he traveled to Tiberia, also twenty-four miles, and arrived at the city on the shores of the sea of Galileee after four hours' travel. A day and one night were devoted to Tiberia and then Rev. McClure returned to Nazereth, where he spent Sunday.

Monday morning the party on horseback started for Jerusalem, one hundred miles distant by the route followed. On the way to the Holy City many stops were made in order to visit places of interest made sacred centuries ago.

Rev. McClure remained in Palestine eight days, visiting the city of Jerusalem, Bethlehem and other adjacent places. He then traveled by rail to Jafa, remained there one day, and departed by steamer for Port Said, where he stayed a half day, and left for Cairo, Egypt, visited the famous Pyramids and departed for Alexander, from which place he boarded a ship for Italy, going to the beautiful city of Venice. From Venice he went to Milan and then to the beautiful white-tipped Alps in Switzerland, visiting Lake Geneva. The next point he went to was Paris, where he devoted five days of his time and where he had the good fortune to meet Miss Birdseye.

Dr. McClure, after seeing Paris, crossed the English channel and traveled to London and there spent eight days seeing all places of interest to an American traveler. He visited Stratford on Avon, the home of Shakespeare, and also went to the great Oxford university. On July 3 Rev. McClure, aboard the Kronprince Wilhelm, sailed from South Hampton for home.

The ship is a six-day flyer and should have arrived at New York July 9, but encountered an iceberg and was delayed twenty-four hours. Fortunately no material damage to the ship resulted, but the passengers were thrown into a state of panic.

After landing safely at New York, Rev. McClure journeyed direct to St. Louis and then home. On Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock Rev. McClure was on the ship and Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock he was in St. Louis, which demonstrates the fact that the means of rapid transportation are now enjoyed in this country.

The Mail is glad to know that Rev. McClure had a splendid and safe journey and with a host of friends warmly welcomes him home.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

GOOD TIME OVER A GRAVE

An Austrian Left $25 for That Purpose in New York.

New York, July 13.—Leaving a lead pencil will giving $400 to four friends and with a provision that $25 should be spent by his friends in having a good time over his grave, a man supposed to be Stefan Magaisy, an Austrian, with a lone nickel in his pockets, took his life on the Mall in Central park just before noon yesterday by shooting himself.

"I am 65 years old and out of work. My name is Stefan Magaisy. I will shoot myself in the right temple in Central park. As soon as I am found please notify Mr. Alfred Lang, 182 East Third street, New York."

There was also a memorandum, meant for a will, which it was instructed that four friends be each given $100 out of his estate. Then there was this provision, which caused amazement among the police and doctors: "I also want $25 taken from my money and used to have a good time over my grave."

SEIZED HER THROAT

But the Masked Intruder Was Beaten Until He Begged for Mercy.

Morristown, Ind., July 13.—A masked man entered the office of Mrs. Isaac Bishop, local agent of the Indianapolis and Cincinnati Traction company, and, seizing her by the throat, attempted to overpower her.

Mrs. Bishop resisted with great determination, and, finally escaping his clutches, beat him so thoroughly that he begged for mercy and made his escape at the first opportunity. His purpose was evidently robbery.

A posse of indignant citizens went in pursuit of the man, but he has not yet been captured.

A MOTHER'S SHAME TOLD

A POWDER GIVEN THOSE NOW DEAD

Child Is Only Eight Years Old, but She Told Her Story in a Straightforward Manner and It Carried Conviction.

Chicago, Ill., July 13.—Bertha Vrzal, a mere babe of eight years, was the star witness yesterday against Herman Billik, charged with the murder of five members of her family, and the story she told in Judge Barnes' court caused a sensation among the spectators. When she told of the improper actions of her mother and Billik intuitively she seemed to realize the shame of it all, and she hardly spoke above a whisper.

The prosecution scored point after point during the afternoon, and Billik plainly indicated how well he realized it. At the hour of adjournment his forehead was beady with perspiration, and he was so nervous he could not remain still for a moment.

The appearance of Bertha Vrzal on the stand was the most dramatic feature of the trial since its start. Dressed in simple white lawn, her brown curls faling on her shouders, she told Judge Barnes she knew what it meant to tell a lie, and knew she would be punished after she was dead if she told anything but the truth. Judge Barnes then declared her a competent witness.

Questioned slowly by Assistant State's Attorney Popham, she gradually unfolded the story of the dark tragedy of her family.

"I saw Mr. Billik bring a white powder and some white pills to our house before papa died," she said. "He gave papa some of the powder."

"How did he give it to your papa?" asked Mr. Popham.

"In a teaspoon," and the little girl left the witness stand and walking down to the jury box, showed to each juror just how much it was, indicating about a quarter of a spoonful.

"He brought more medicine when Mary was sick," she continued. "This time it was in a black box, and when Rosie was sick he brought it in a tin box. It was always a white powder, but I never tasted it."

"Did Billik seem a good friend to your mamma?' 'asked the assistant state's attorney.

"Yes, sir, he seemed to love her very much. One time I saw him put his arms around her and hug her. They always sat close together when he was there."

"What happened after your papa died?"

"He told me that he was to be my papa now, and that I should love him just as I had my own papa, but I didn't."

"Did you ever see you mother give Billik any money?"

"Yes, sir, many times."

"How about the day before your mother died?"

"Mr. Billik came there and sat with her close to her bed. I was there, too. He held mamma's hand and whispered something to her. She gave him some paper money, but I don't know how much."

WILL DEDICATE CHURCH

The First M. E. Church, of Sedalia, By Dr. May, Sunday, July 21.

The trustees of the First M. E. church have secured the services of Rev. Dr. May, of Washington, D. C., a Methodist minister and one of the lecturers at the Chautauqua, to preach the dedicatory sermon and formally dedicate the building next Sunday morning.

This church was built some twenty years ago, but was not all paid for until last year.

The dedication of a Methodist church is always a great occasion The public is most cordially invited.

WORKING THE ROADS.

Systematic Effort Rather Than Spasmodic Work and Big Money Outlay.

All through this great United States the question of good roads is, I dare say, given as much thought as any other question which is of vital interest to both the farmer and the merchant. The merchants, and townspeople in general, are just as much interested in having good roads leading into their villages and cities as the farmer is in having a good road adjacent to his own farm. Many of the smaller cities and villages could not exist were it not for the farming community surrounding them, and they are willing to help improve the main traveled roads to draw trade, or keep it from a neighboring market.

In traveling through the different states it is surprising to note the advancement made in building roads during the past decade. Yet there are many places where the roads have been opened for 30 or 40 years and today they are scarcely passable—mile after mile of roots and holes which not only make traveling slow but racks and breaks vehicles.

In the eastern part of Michigan is a township where the roads all through it are a credit to the people. Their plan of improving the roads is to DO road work. At the township election, where the whole people have a voice, they appropriate as much money as they are able to raise to be used in the hauling of gravel on the roads after the regular road tax has been worked out in June, where the roads are dry. At this time they round up the road bed and clean out all ditches so that no water will stand and cause holes to be cut by the passing of heavy loads. This leaves the roadbed in splendid shape for the gravel, which is put on later in the summer. After this is put on the road is thoroughly packed with a steam roller. Again in the fall just before it freezes up the roadbed is rounded up with the road grader. Another important factor in their road building besides having plenty of good gravel in all parts of the township is that they have a few men who understand how and when the work should be done and the management is given over to them year after year rather than choosing a new path-master every year to work out new ideas which are not logical and are not a means to a successful end.

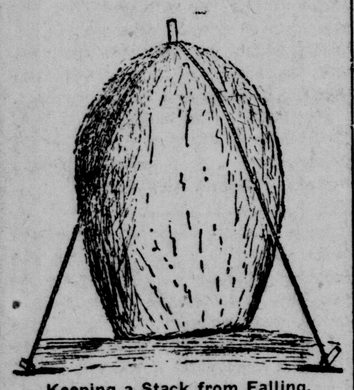

During the winter, continues the correspondent of Farmers' Review, when there is nothing much to except chores, they make a "Bee," and everybody, or nearly everybody, spends two days hauling gravel. This work is donated for the good of the cause. The gravel is put on the side roads during the winter. This keeps all the roads where lighter teaming is done in good repair, at the same time it increases the value of property not located on the main roads.

Farmers in this township always have good roads, which saves time when they find it necessary to make a hurried trip to town in harvest. They have not the wear and breakage of rigs that some have, neither have they a fog of dust settling on their crops every time a team passes.

MAKING HAYSTACKS SAFE.

Stack Hay Around Pole if Animals Are to Feed Out of Stack.

When hay is stacked, it will keep better and waste less if put in as large stacks as possible. It is often convenient to let animals feed out of the stack, and unless something is done to prevent it, there is danger of their undermining the stack and becoming suddenly buried under it, hence the importance of securing the stack, as shown in the illustration. The hay is stacked around a stout pole in the center, explains Farm and Home, the top of which is allowed to project enough so that three ropes or heavy wires can be attached to it and the other ends of them fastened to stakes driven securely into the ground.

Dr. Connell, of Elmwood, who has many friends in this vicinity, has sold out his home and practice to Dr. James, of Marshall.

A number of Sweet Springs people were in Marshall this week, looking after business matters. Among them were Mrs. H. B. Lyons and Misses Grace Lyons and Edna Miller, Dr. J. H. Owens, Dr. O. H. Witcher, Messrs. Ed Reavis, Don Rembert, Pen Benton, Leo Burfeind, F. H. Tisdale and J. H. Hocker.

The ruins of the public school building are being torn down, preparatory to work on a new structure. The board has called a special election for this school district to be held on Tuesday, July 23, for the purpose of voting a tax of $15,000, and this, in addition to the insurance and salvage, will make about $25,000 available for the new building. The school will begin at the regular time and all pupils cared for until the new building is ready for occupancy.

The young ladies who are being entertained by Miss Gem Binkley, Misses Gill, of Perry, Vandeventer, of Mexico, and Miller, of Chattanooga, Tenn., have been the recipients of many social favors during their stay in the city, in the form of dances, parties, hay rides, boat rides and picnics.

Presiding Elder Warren will conduct the services at the Methodist church Sunday morning. Special music will be furnished by Miss Tisdale, Mrs. Wilson and Mr. Barbour.

A musical program will be given at the Baptist church Sunday evening, in addition to a sermon by the pastor, Rev. Rodgers, of Lexington.

The members of the Whist club and a number of invited guests and a delightful morning meeting Friday with Mrs. Ed Reavis, at her beautiful home on West Main street. This charming hostess has been a member of this organization only a short time, but has become one of its most popular members. Four tables enjoyed her hospitality on this occasion, Miss Nelson and Miss Gill scoring highest and Miss Nelon winning the prize on a cut. Delicious refreshments were served, Mrs. W. H. Reavis and Mrs. F. H. Tisdale assisting the hostess. Out of town guests were: Mrs. C. K. Smith, of St. Louis; Mrs. Brainard Spence, of Oakland, Cal.; Mrs. R. B. Hennasy, of Marshall; Miss Miller, of Chattanooga, Tenn.; Miss Vandeventer, of Mexico, and Miss Gill, of Perry.

IS AGAIN ON THE STAND

CONTRADICT EVIDENCE OF DEFENSE

ORCHARD, THE SELF CONFESSED WHOLESALE MURDERER, TESTIFIES AGAIN.

On Cross Examination He Admitted That an Uncle Had Been Insane and That He Had Killed Himself.

Boise, Idaho, July 15.—At the opening of court this morning Judge Wood announced that he had decided to sustain the objection of the defense to the admittance in evidence of the records of the state asylum, showing the commitment to that institution of John D. Elliott, one of the witnesses for the defense, who testified to a conversation he had with Orchard in November, 1906.

William Dewey, the witness who startled the court room Saturday by confessing to participation in the Coeur d'Alene riots and the attack on the Bunker Hill and Sullivan Mill mines, was recalled to further identify W. F. Davis as the man who handed out the guns and ammunition of the day the mob started for the mill.

Orchard, the famous witness, was then recalled by the state in rebuttal.

Orchard was in the chair but twenty minutes. The questions of the state were few, and in less than five minutes Orchard was turned over to the defense for cross examination.

Attorney Richardson in the cross examination brought out a new feature when he asked if Orchard's maternal grandfather was not insane on the subject of the confession of imaginary crimes.

Orchard admitted that his uncle, Peter McKinney, who lived in North Umberland county, Ontario, had hanged himself while insane.

DEED OF A LUNATIC

An Attempt to Assassinate the President of France.

Paris, July 15.—The celebration of the achievement of French liberty was marred Sunday by an attempt on the life of President Fallieres.

It is possible that it is the work of anarchists, but it is believed to have almost certainly been merely the act of a lunatic criminal, who was immediately arrested.

No harm came to anybody except the assailant himself, who was roughly used both by the police and bystanders.

The would-be assassin was dressed like a workman in his Sunday clothes, but with a shirt slightly soiled. His baggage proved to be a broken trunk containing plenty of cartridges for the revolver and clothing and papers revealing the owner as Jean Maille, a sailor 41 years old, who was born at Meyries, in Lozere.

The papers showed that he had served in the navy, quitting it with the rank of first-class gunner, with a good reputation. He was afterward employed as a sailor in the merchant marine, laboring with the Messageries Maritimes, his last voyages in ships of that company being made to China in 1902 and 1903, since which time, Maille later said, he had worked ashore, but he would not tell where.

WITH A PICK HANDLE

The Young Husband Beat His Lifelong Friend to Death.

Ashland, Ky., July 13.—Daniel McKnight, aged 50 years, was beaten to death with a pick handle by William Darby, a young husband inspired by jealousy. They had been friends for years.

The crime was committed in the presence of a crowd of men, but no effort was made to save McKnight from the fury of his assailant.

WANT STRIKE SETTLED

24 STRIKE-BREAKERS ARRIVED

The Strike of Tinners at the Wabash Shops Is Still on, and There Is No Telling When It Will Be Settled.

The Moberly Democrat of Saturday says it is reliably informed by an employe of the Wabash railroad shops who was in the yards that morning at 7 o'clock that there are now twenty-four strike breakers on the company's grounds. He said he did not know whether all of them were at work or not, but he did know that some of them were hammering away in the tin shop. The strike has now been on three weeks and no effort has been made to settle it.

The machinists, boilermakers and blacksmiths have refused to work on the engines that the non-union men have been working on.

Four detectives are stationed in the yards and no one is allowed near the shops where the non-union men are working, so it is impossible to say just exactly what is going on there.

The detectives will not allow anyone except the men who are actually at work in any of the other shops. The strike situation now seems worse than it has been heretofore. The strikers are standing their ground well.

They are asking for an increase in wages, but are trying to get it in a quiet, peaceable way. Not one of them has ever raised a hand against any of the strike-breakers, nor do they expect to. If they win their cause they will do so in a gentlemanly way. They are pursuing the best way to win what they ask for.

The company is also making a strong fight to win. They have made an effort to win the strike by filling the vacancies with non-union men and this means that the affair will be a fight to the end.

The citizens of Moberly are anxious to see the strike settled satisfactorily to both parties, and it may be done, but it now looks as if the squabble was getting worse and may result in a general strike of all the shop men on the system. Let us hope that the strikers and officials will get together on an early date and adjust their differences.

THE SIEBE SALOON LICENSE

Final Action Has Been Deferred Until August 6th

(From Monday's Daily.)

The judges of the Pettis county court met in adjourned session today to consider whether or not to grant a dramshop license to Will Siebe, son of John W. Siebe, to operate a saloon at the corner of Main and Kentucky avenue. Action was deferred on motion of the applicarts until August 6, and since Mr. Siebe's license expires on the 20th inst., he will be compelled to close his place of business until a new license is issued.

Recently Mr. Siebe, through Attorney W. G. Lynch, filed application for a saloon license.

Attorney Lee Montgomery, representing the Law Enforcement league, contended that the application was not signed by a majority of assessed tax paying citizens owning property in the block where Mr. Siebe desires to operate a saloon.

After a lengthy discussion, the matter was deferred until today, but last Saturday Attorney Lynch filed a new application for his client, with the alleged required number of signatures of property owners.

According to the law, the application must be filed at least ten days before the term of court, hence the matter goes over.

MUST END TOMORROW

If Telegraphers Strike Doesn't Stop General Walkout Will Start.

San Francisco, July 15.—Unless a settlement of the commercial telegraphers' strike is effected tomorrow a general strike may be declared, so it is said here. The statement is also made that if the national arbitration board should attempt to force a settlement displeasing to the strikers, President Small will call out the Chicago employes as the first move toward an extension of the strike zone.

Labor Commissioner Neill does not, it is said, expect to be able to accomplish much toward bringing the trouble to an end.

MAKING OF A GOOD COW.

First Fifteen Months of Calf's Life Determines Her Future.

A wise old dairy farmer once said to Gov. Hoard, "The cow is either made or unmade in the first 15 months of her life." Questioned farther he stated that he had come to his conclusion after years of observation and practice. He had noticed this: That where a farmer took the best possible care of his heifer calves, kept them dry and clean, fed them well on good growing food and kept them going in a strong, growthy manner, if they were well bred from good dairy stock, nearly all would make good cows, whereas, if they were ever so well bred, if they were neglected, and badly cared for, it was rarely any of them would make good cows.

"We believe firmly in the truth of what this old farmer said," adds Gov. Hoard. "More good cows are spoiled by neglect, insufficient food, during the first 15 months than from any other cause.

"Good blood, dairy heredity and all that is necessary. It is the foundation. But if we are going to make good cows out of these heifers we must pay close attention to how we start them on the road.

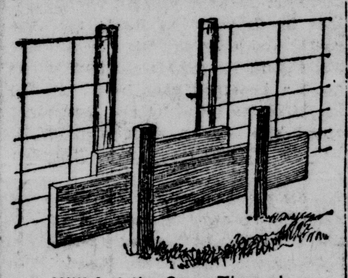

"For years we have been rearing heifer calves. Some of them we have sold and some of them we have kept. We are greatly impressed by our experience with the truth of the old farmer's theory. It is true that we take great pains that the heifer shall be well born. But that is only half the proposition, the first half.

"If she is to have good, large capacity she must be steadily well nourished from the beginning to the time she is first in calf. This done she has a greatly increased chance of profit to her owner. In buying heifers it is worth a good deal to know how they have been reared. Of one thing we are certain, and that is that it pays to feed the heifer skim milk daily till she is 10 to 12 months old, together with a pint to a quart of oats. Such feeding with good care turns out much finer cows than does the treatment heifer calves usually receive."

PASTURE GATE.

One Which Will Give Passage to Cows, but Will Keep Out Hogs.

I here show drawing of the plan I have of keeping hogs from going from hog pastures to cow pasture and at the same time allowing the cattle to go from one pasture to the other at will, writes a correspondent of The Farmer. The opening may be as wide as desired. Two by two-inch plank are nailed to the fence posts about four or six inches from the ground and two extra posts are set out from the fence about a foot. The plank is nailed to the inside of these posts and this plank should be about four feet longer than the one fastened to the fence, so as to go by the opening at each end about two feet. The hogs cannot jump the two planks and small hogs that go between them cannot jump over, as they are lengthwise of the opening. The cattle will readily step over. The same plan may be used for sheep, only three planks may be necessary to retain them, although I only use two for them also.

Will Let the Cows Through.

A HIGH-CLASS DAIRY.

Fine Quality of Milk Supplied to Select Trade.

A Massachusetts physician owns and operates a dairy farm where over 200 cows are kept the year round. The milk is sold to a high class of buyers in Boston. Four kinds of whole milk are sold, also two kinds of skimmed milk and three qualities of cream. A special grade of milk, testing six per cent., is produced for convalescents and sick folks, who need the richest milk possible. Jerseys and Guernseys supply this high grade of milk. The milk furnished especially for babies contains about four per cent. butter fat and is milked from Ayrshire cows. Jerseys, Ayrshires, Guernseys, Devons and Shorthorns are all used in this dairy. Every stable and barn on the place is kept neat and clean, and no foul odors are allowed to permeate them. The morning's milk from this dairy is cooled, bottled and delivered to the many customers in time for their use on the breakfast table. But a couple of cents more per quart is charged for this milk than for that coming from less sanitary surroundings or that of unknown quality.

Be Gentle with the Cow.

Be gentle with the cow, for you will feel better about it and the cow certainly will. There is a money value about gentleness also, but this should not be the first thing to be considered. The quiet cow is the one that will produce the most milk. The cow that is frightened has her digestive processes interfered with, and these digestive processes are the ones that control the manufacture of milk. A bad-tempered hired man should not be turned loose with the dairy cows.

ST. JOSEPH IN DARKNESS

NO BREAKFASTS THIS MORNING

Western Missouri and Eastern Kansas Also Suffer From Heavy Rains and Winds of Last Night—Trains Delayed.

St. Joseph, Mo., July 15.—The supply of natural gas in St. Joseph was cut off last night by a break in the pipe line at Weston, Mo., which brings fuel from Southern Kansas. The city this morning was without breakfast, natural gas being used for fuel in practically all the homes of the city.

Gas is also used for fuel at the electric lighting plant and the streets were in darkness. Gas is used in the typesetting machines in the various newspapers and they were issued with difficulty today.

The rain last night was the heaviest for years. Four bridges are out near the city, and the street car lines are demoralized.

Leavenworth, Kas., July 15.—The waterspout last night caused damage within a radius of fifteen miles of Leavenworth that is estimated at half a million dollars. Nearly six inches of rain fell.

At Iatan, Mo., hundred of head of live stock were drowned and hundreds of acres of wheat washed into the Missouri river.

All railroads report their tracks out and traffic demoralized.

The Missouri river is rising rapidly and people living in the bottoms are taking their stock and belongings to the hills.

The Missouri river at Kansas City and vicinity has passed the flood stage and more or less damage in the wholesale district in the west and east bottoms here may be expected within the next twenty-four hours, according to weather Observer Connor.

The stage at 11 o'clock was was six inches above the flood stage, which is twenty-one feet. This is the highest stage attained since the great flood in the spring of 1904. However, no great damage is expected and nothing approaching that wrought three years ago is feared.

Topeka, Kas., July 15.—Along the Union Pacific railroad, twenty miles west of here, in the vicinity of Russville and Kingsville, at an early hour today a cloudburst washed away the bridges on upper Soldier and Half-Way creeks and weakened the railroad bed. All trains from the west were delayed several hours. Over six inches of rain fell.

A Missouri Pacific train was partially derailed near Effingham, Kas., and both the engineer and baggageman were hurt.

Kansas City, Mo., July 15.—The western half of Missouri was drenched by a terrific storm last night. Reports received today indicate that there was much damage to corn fields, bridges and culverts in the low lands, in many instances the structures being washed out, delaying trains. Four and one-half inches of rain fell at some points.

Cooper County Boy Hurt.

A 12-year-old son of Sherman Oswald, of near Pilot Grove, was badly injured by becoming entangled in some barbed wire a few days ago.

A horse he was leading also became entangled in the wire, which frightened it, and, in trying to escape, it seriously injured the boy.

Drs. Elliott of Bunceton, Barnes, of Pilot Grove, and Smiley, of Boonville, dressed the wounds, but it is feared that one of the injured legs will have to be amputated.
